INDIANA WOMEN PLAY POLITICS

Lay Plans to Elect Mrs. Clarke to Presidency Two Years Hence.

Chicago, June 9.—The equal suffrage element of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which meets in biennial session here tomorrow night, today claimed victory in a preliminary skirmish. The achievement took place in the secret meeting of the council yesterday.

A majority of those present expressed themselves in favor of allowing women suffrage organizations to have representation in the convention on equality with non-political clubs.

The council is said to have indicated yesterday that it would favor the admittance of delegates from state equal suffrage organizations.

Every train today brought delegations and the headquarters was busy with innumerable details connected with their welfare.

Indiana Plays Politics.

Delegates from Indiana have a candidate for the presidency of the federation in 1916 in the person of Grace Julian Clarke, of Indianapolis. It is assumed that custom will be followed in the re-election of Mrs. Perceval Pennybacker, of Texas, but the Indiana women are prepared to play astute preliminary politics for their candidate two years hence.

SAYS MOST AMERICANS CONSUME TOO MUCH MEAT.

New York, June 9.—"Most Americans eat too much meat, a habit which is largely to blame, in the opinion of competent physicians, for the increased death rate in persons over 40 years of age."

This message of warning has been sent out by the city health department in a bulletin discussing food and nutrition.

NEED NOT PAY WAR INDEMNITY

Huerta Will Not Be Asked to Reimburse Uncle Sam for Expenses.

PEACE IS YET NEARER

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 9.—Mexico will not be asked by the United States to pay war indemnity. The Huerta government has learned through the American delegates that the Wilson administration will be content to have set up in Mexico a stable government to succeed Huerta rule.

After a long conference between the mediators and the Mexican delegates, it was learned that the counterproposals of the United States were not entirely satisfactory but the Mexican delegates expressed confidence that in a few more

PICKETS ARE NOW ALL POLITENESS

REDUCED TO SYSTEM

Pittsburg June 9.—Stringent orders from the police of East Pittsburg today reduced picketing at the Westinghouse plants where approximately ten thousand workers are on strike, to a system. Only twenty five strikers were allowed on the bridge leading to the main gate of the electric plant among them five woman.

They were allowed to question persons entering the plant, but they did it politely, knowing that insolence would result in the immediate withdrawal of all pickets. Around the factories, in the streets and on the hills overlooking the works hundreds of strikers congregated closely watching every move of the company's watchmen.

Rumors that strike breakers were to be imported, although denied by the company, are not accepted by the strikers, who refuse to believe the strike has settled down to a test of endurance. Efforts to settle the trouble by the merchants of the Turtle Creek valley were continued, but even some of the leaders were not optimistic as the strikers declared that the first consideration must be the recognition of the Allegheny Industrial union by the company.

AGREEMENT PUT AN END TO CASE

Chicago, June 9.—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink was today granted a divorce from her husband, Wm. Rapp, Jr., whose ardent epistles to Mrs. Catherine Dean, of New York, were the sensation of the suit.

The victory for the famous contralto came when Superior Judge Sullivan instructed the jury which has heard the case to return a verdict in favor of the complainant. The divorce hearing was marked principally by the emotional letters written by Rapp to Mrs. Catherine Dean, of New York and the repeated intimations that the defense would prove allegations which would offset the conduct charged against her husband.

No attempt was made to contradict the authenticity of the letters credited to Rapp and the evidence of the defense failed to show moral obliquity on the part of the opera singer.

Mme. Schumann-Heink showed her joy at the verdict and declared she would speedily journey to the Beyreuth Wagnerian festival, in which she is to take a leading part.

Indicated an Agreement.

Early statements by counsel indicated that the suit, which had attracted wide attention, would be ended before noon today.

"I am smiling for cause, but I can't say at this time what has been agreed upon," said Silas E. Mayer, counsel for

26,291 ARE DEBARRED

Washington, June 9.—Immigrants arrived at American ports at the rate of more than 2,900 every week—during the first ten months of the fiscal year of 1914, and indications are that by June 30, when the fiscal year ends, the greatest number of immigrants ever admitted during any year will have been admitted.

Statistics of the immigration bureau for April and the ten months ending with April show 119,885 were admitted in April and the total for the ten months was 1,038,956. Should May and June arrivals equal the number admitted during those months in previous years the 1913 total would be approximately 1,351,000 immigrants.

The greatest number arriving in one year here was 1,285,349 in 1907. Immigrants from the south of Italy during the ten months numbered 220,123, while those from the north of Italy numbered 38,397. Hebrew immigrants were second in number, there having been 119,634 admitted. Polish were third with 105,574. Of other races there were: Germans, 66,073; English, 42,705; Russian, 40,083; Croatian and Slavonian, 33,396; Ruthenian, 32,076; Scandinavian, 29,546; Japanese, 7,432; Chinese, 2,012.

During the ten months 26,291 aliens were debarred for various reasons.

NEW HEAT RECORD IS SET FOR SEASON.

At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon the government thermometer on the Shoaff building registered a temperature of more than 90 degrees, a trifle hotter than Monday's temperature at the same hour, and it was predicted at that time by Forecaster W. S. Palmer that the highest temperature today would be in the neighborhood of 94 degrees, sometime during the afternoon. No rain is in sight, according to weather authorities, but a hope for relief is extended in the announcement that the weather is to become cooler Tuesday night or Wednesday.

HOPE TO GET VOTE TODAY

NEW MAN UNDER CONSIDERATION

Reserve Board Selection is Likely to Come as a Surprise.

Washington, June 9.—With democratic leaders hopeful of final disposition of the Panama canal tolls exemption repeal bill before adjournment, the senate today continued its consideration of that measure.

All the parliamentary preliminaries had been completed and administration supporters expected to reach a vote on the bill.

They hoped to have the compromise amendment drawn by Senators Simmons and Norris voted upon this afternoon. Senator Smith, of Michigan, was expected to continue his speech in opposition to the bill.

Appointments Not Ready.

It was announced at the white house today that it probably would be several days before the president and the secretary of the treasury are ready to make known the names of the two additional members of the federal reserve board.

It now seems assured that E. C. Simmons, of St. Louis, will be one of the members, but the appointment of Charles S. Hamlin, assistant secretary of the treasury, who had been under consideration, does not now seem to be likely. It generally is believed that a man will be named who has not yet been suggested publicly in connection with the board.

LINER EXPECTS TO LAND CARGO

NO ORDER AGAINST IT

New York, June 9.—The Ward liner, Antilla, laden with a cargo of ammunition for the Mexican constitutionalists, will land and discharge her cargo tomorrow without interference, according to the opinion expressed today by A. G. Smith, vice president and general manager of the Ward line company.

Mr. Smith's statement is in flat contradiction of Washington dispatches and other reports that the Washington administration had prevailed upon the line's officers to stop voluntarily the discharge of the ammunition. Mr. Smith said he had received no instructions from Washington whatsoever and that there had been no attempt to influence him in regard to the landing of the Antilla.

"The ship was properly cleared from this port and there has been no attempt at concealment of the nature of our cargo," he said, "and there is no reason at present why the Antilla should not land at Tampico.

"Of course, we shall hold ourselves in readiness to obey instructions from Washington, but unless there are new developments between today and tomorrow nothing will prevent the discharge of the Antilla's cargo."

MOTHER GOT SON TO MAUL FATHER

NEWS OF THE COURTS

That his wife had set their children against him, persuading them to disregard his orders and finally enticed the oldest boy to strike and beat him on one occasion last year and urged the lad on "to give him some more," is one of the charges set down in the divorce complaint that Adolph Fabian has filed in the superior court against Gerhadine Fabian. The plaintiff says they were married in May, 1894, separated June 5, 1914, and that for years his wife has been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of him, nagging him because he did not make more money and calling him vile names. He recites in his complaint that both his wife and children "picked on him" and told him they wished he would go away. There are six children, ranging in age from twins aged 10 to a young man of 19. The plaintiff sets out that he and his wife jointly own real estate worth $4,000, personal property worth $200 and have debts aggregating $1,950. He says he will abide by any order the court may make as to the disposition of the children.

Sues Ohio Electric for $10,000.

Robert B. Barger has filed suit in the circuit court against the Ohio Electric Railway company for $10,000 for personal injuries sustained by him one day last month when he was struck by a car on the defendant's line and badly hurt. The complaint says the plaintiff was riding on his motorcycle south on a road that crosses the railway track a mile west of New Haven and that as he approached the tracks he slowed down his machine and then stopped and listened. could hear no car and mounted his machine and proceeded to cross the track. As he did so a car from the east and alleged to be running at sixty miles an hour struck him and threw him sixty feet, breaking his right arm, tearing loose and fracturing several ribs and otherwise severely injuring him. The complaint says the plaintiff's view of the track was obstructed by a house, trees and shrubbery near the track.

Habeas Corpus Fight On.

The habeas corpus suit of Oliver Myers against the St. Vincent's Catholic Orphans' home for possession of his daughter, Cora May Myers, a fifteen year old girl, is in progress in the superior court before Judge Yaple. Myers charges that his daughter is being unlawfully detained and the defendant is undertaking to prove that Myers is unfit to have the custody of her, besides the fact that she was left there by him ten years ago to remain until of age. It is alleged that for six years he never visited his child or took the slightest manifest interest in her and never has contributed anything to her support or education. Myers resides near Pierceton, Ind.

Files Suit for Support.

In the superior court Minnie Merica has filed suit against Roy Merica, her husband, for support, charging desertion. The Pennsylvania railroad company for which Merica works is asked to answer as to his indebtedness and the court is petitioned to compel Merica to pay in money to support his wife She says they were married August 8, 1913, and that he deserted her last January. Mrs. Merica alleges that her husband told her to come to this city, procure employment and to enjoy the privilege of running around with other men if they met his approval. All he asked, she says, was to know with whom she associated so that he might give her companions an o. k. mark.

Dr. Wheeler and Daniel Faivey were pinned under the car and killed outright. Cyrus Rice and Herman Kruger died in a Goldfleeld hospital. One other passenger escaped with bruises.

MORE BABIES COME IN.

Work at Milk Depot Shows Encouraging Progress.

Two infants were brought to the free milk station at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday morning. One of the babies was six months of age and the other was but one month, and both of them were in urgent need of medical aid of some sort. The infant six months of age weighed only eleven pounds, and a modified milk diet was prescribed. More than sixty bottles of milk were sent out from the station Tuesday morning to mothers with infants that had alreay been prescribed for.

"This weather is the worst we could possibly endure at this season," said Rev. Henry B. Master, pastor of the church, who was the founder of the free milk station for babies. "There is more infantile suffering now about the city than at any time this year, and mothers with sickly babies should not hesitate about bringing them to us for advice.""

One woman, residing in the extreme south side of the city, read in the newspapers what is being done for sick babies, and she trudged through the intense heat Tuesday morning to take her baby to the physicians at the milk station.

"The public is entitled to such a school, not only because America would be better represented abroad, but because the diplomatic and consular services would thus be thrown open on a competitive basis to all American citizens, as are the army and navy."

Mr. Guild insisted that, to make reforms in the diplomatic service effective, the service must be taken out of politics altogether and placed on a basis like that of the army and navy so that it would constitute a life career for first-class men. Salaries commensurate with the expenses of the positions carrying them and suitable quarters abroad were other demands of the speaker.

DAMAGE CASE IS OCCUPYING TIME

FIND A LARGE DOCKET

Before Judge A. B. Anderson, a session of the United States district court opened in Fort Wayne Tuesday morning, and practically all of the time of the first day's session was occupied by the damage case of Isabelle Pfleidner, administratrix of the estate of the late Chales P. Pfleidner, against the Pennsylvania company, for judgment in the amount of $10,000. Mr. Pfleidner was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad August 18, 1913, while operating a defective switch, according to the complaint filed in the federal court.

It was said late this afternoon that the jury would not get the case until evening. A number of exhibits was introduced by the defense, and among them was a duplicate of the coupling that is said to have been on the car that killed Pfleidner.

The Other Cases.

Among the other cases on the docket are the following:

A. N. Duhling against Frank M., and H. H. Owen; Mary J. Dinger against the Pennsylvania company, seeking $3,200; Mary E. Gerard against the Wabash company for $10,000 in judgment for the death of Anthony Gerard; C. H. Kiracofe, against the Wabash for $10.-C. H. Middleton against the Grand Rapids and Indiana; Marion Donat against the Pennsylvania company for $10,000, and the case of Charles Sarber against the Wabash is to be continued later in the session.

Tag Day Saturday in Aid of Home for Aged Colored People.

Mrs. Eliza J. Freeman, who is in the city in the interest of the Handy home for aged worthy colored people at Jackson, Mich., said today that she hoped to have fifty workers on the street for the tag day in aid of that institution next Saturday.

Commencement exercises of Sacred Heart Academy will be held at the Majestic theater, Thursday, June 11th, at 9:15 a. m.

LOCAL FAVORITE IS COMING BACK

HAS CABARET SHOW

OHIO BOARD HAS NO JURISDICTION

Central and Hudson river and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway companies to combine the Ohio public utilities commission today dismissed the application on the ground that it had no jurisdiction to investigate whether the merger would affect monopolization of lines running through Ohio from Buffalo to Chicago.

The proposed merger involved an issue of securities aggregating $300,000,000. In announcing the decision Chairman Oliver H. Hughes, of the utilities commission, explained that the Ohio law does not confer authority on the commission to determine when competition is eliminated by combination of railroads although it gives this power in other utilities.

Similar petitions have been filed with public service commissions of New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Illinois. Albert Harris, vice president of the New York Central, and F. J. Jerome, general counsel for the Lake Shore, declared after the decision was announced today, it will not affect materially the status of the proposed merger action. They will press their applications in other states.

Objection to the proposed merger was filed with the commission yesterday on the ground that it would violate anti-trust laws.

But Thirty Cases Remain.

Only thirty opinions stand between the supreme court and the record of completing all the business taken under consideration during a year. It is believed the court will be able to prepare these opinions during the coming week and be ready to hand them down next Monday. These thirty cases include the inter-mountain rate case, the grandfather clause cases, the validity of the oil pipe line legislation and two big western oil land cases.

In recent years, at least, the court never has been able to decide all the cases argued before adjourning for the summer. Last year twenty-six cases were left undecided. The absence of Justice Lamar as American delegate to the Mexican mediation conference threatened for a time to defeat the task of deciding all cases argued this year.

May Wear 'Em Back.

Women wearing aigrettes and other plumage from game birds when they leave the United States will hereafter be permitted to wear the plumage back into this country upon their return. A treasury decision to this effect was handed down today in a case reported from Detroit on May 20.

Four Hours on Saturdays.

President Wilson today signed an executive order directing that all federal employes wherever stationed be required to work only four hours on Saturdays between June 15 and September 15 of the present year.

conversations the points of disagreement would be adjusted. It was generally predicted that the peace plan would be practically agreed upon by the Mexican and the American delegates by the end of the week.

Submit Counter Proposals.

The mediators today submitted to the Mexican delegates the counter proposals of the American government for the pacification of Mexico. The American plan is with few modifications the same as that which the mediators and Mexican delegates recently agreed upon and which Gen. Huerta approved.

It provides the method of transferring the executive power in Mixico City from the present regime to a new provisional government which shall in a few months conduct elections for president, vice president and members of congress.

No names have been agreed upon by the Mexican or American delegates for the new provisional president or his cabinet. In fact neither side has yet made its nominations.

Program of Proceedings.

Within a day or two the Mexican plan and the American plan will have been dovetailed into one and a full conference of all parties will be called.

Final approval is not expected immediately from either party, however, as the mediators then will ask the American delegates to begin to ascertain the attitude of the constitutionalists. This may proceed through the Washington government or in any manner the delegates choose. The mediators will take a brief recess in the meantime.

Should there be any new suggestions from the constitutionalists the United States will endeavor to arrive at a compromise with them. When an agreement is reached the results will again be placed before the mediation board and the Huerta delegates. The expectation is that if the constitutionalists are willing to discuss the peace plan with the American government an agreement can be reached in a short time as the program already makes provision for liberal participation by the constitutionalists in the new provisional government.

Correspondence Near End.

The correspondence between the mediators and the constitutionalists is expected to be brought to an end in another day or two. The mediators are insistent on their original terms—declaration of an armistice and broadening the discussion from international to internal questions. The constitutionalists are willing to meet the mediators on a satisfactory basis as to the latter point, but they are absolutely determined against declaring any armistice.

It was announced by the mediating plenipotentaries last night that they would make public today their correspondence with the constitutionalists, but word was received today through the American delegates that General Carranza's answer to their latest note already had been dispatched to Washington and would be forwarded by Rafael Zubaran. It was desired, therefore, to withhold publication for the present. The final communication from the mediators in reply to the note brought here by Juan F. Urquidi referred to a paragraph saying that the differences between the United States and Mexico "ought not to be resolved without constitutionalists being represented."

The mediators asked if this meant that Gen. Carranza was willing to enter the negotiations on the original terms, and if so, said that delegates should be sent here at once.

No answer from the constitutionalists which does not declare for an immediate armistice will permit them to enter the negotiations.

Have Taken Firm Stand.

The mediators have taken a firm stand on this point and whatever communication on the subject Mr. Zubaran may send now, as a result of his telegraphic conferences with Gen. Carranza, will not alter the program outlined by the mediators unless an armistice is declared.

The constitutionalists have argued that to declare an armistice without knowing in advance the terms of the peace plan is like buying an article of apparel without knowing if it will fit. They maintain that their large military organization cannot be disrupted for a short period and held at rest without considerable danger of military chiefs losing control of their restless troops.

Another factor is that all the military chiefs and leaders, over a year ago, signed a pact, known as the plan of Guadaloupe, which provides specifically that the constitutionalists shall take possession of Mexico City by force of arms and establish a provisional presidency. To effect a change in that plan harmoniously, another conference of chiefs might be necessary and this could not be had, the constitutionalists say, unless there was framed in advance a peace plan likely to be satisfactory to all. They think changes in the plan of Guadaloupe could be made and the revolution settled by diplomatic means, but they are unwilling to run the risk of an armistice without having first discussed the peace proposals among themselves.

Compromise in Sight.

With this view, the American government is more or less in sympathy, and a compromise arrangement is believed to be in sight whereby the peace plan will be taken up with the constitutionalists in channels separate from the mediation. As a result no protocol can be signed in the next fortnight, it is believed, and probably there will be a lull in the conferences. Everything that has been advanced by the American delegates in their proposals for peace has been contingent upon ultimate constitutionalist approval, so that there is a confidence in many quarters that agreement with the constitutionalists will not be a difficult task, even if they do not join in the conferences.

The constitutionalists undoubtedly will have a voice in the selection of the man to be provisional president and at least two of their number would occupy the principal portfolios of the new cabinet.

Peace Plan Very Brief.

The land and eeducational questions are simply declarations of principles on which reforms later may be undertaken and do not commit the new government to any definite program. It is said the entire peace plan is explained in less than 300 words. It sets forth suggestion for the conduct of a fair election and recommends that recognition be accorded the new provisional government, provided it is set up along the lines agreed upon. The mediators were confident today of reconciling the counter proposals of the American delegates with those of the Mexicans.

The Antilla incident is not entirely closed, but it has passed the danger stage and cannot disrupt the proceedings.

An intimation that the United States would not demand reparation for the losses sustained at Vera Cruz, or expect to be recouped for the enormous expenditures already made in an attempt to pacify Mexico, was given to the Mexican delegates soon after the conferences opened. This made it easy for the opposing delegates to meet harmoniously. It was responsible largely for the ease with which a general understanding was reached between them and it lent consistency to the American demand that consideration be given to the constitutionalist cause. The submission yesterday of the American plan, accompanied by verbal statements from the delegates from the United States, removed all doubt that this country was not disposed to make any unnecessary drain upon Mexico's already depleted finances.

BRYAN MUCH ENCOURAGED.

Order Is Given to Hold Up Ammunition at Galveston.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary of State Bryan, after a conference with President Wilson on the situation before the regular cabinet meeting, today announced that both he and the president were very hopeful that the constitutionalists would participate in the mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls. The secretary of state left for New Jersey after making this statement, but it was apparent that he was much encouraged over the present prospect for success of the mediation conference.

At the cabinet meeting the question of ammunition reaching the constitutionalists from the United States was the chief subject of discussion and Secretary of Commerce Redfield was directed to hold up at Galveston the cargo of arms consigned to Carranza agents which is enroute to the Texas port on the Morgan liner El Sudo. As Secretary Redfield left the white house he said he would at once notify customs officers at Galveston to hold the ammunition there. The president and cabinet learned from the collector of customs at Baltimore that the Hamburg-American liner Arcadia was loading there $10,000 worth of ammunition consigned to Hamburg. The collector reported that he believed the consignment notice was a subterfuge and that the ammunition actually was destined for Mexico. Secretary Redfield said this government could do nothing if the ship actually cleared for Hamburg.

As to the Antilla there was considerable discussion in the cabinet and it was declared no instructions were sent relating to permitting her to land her cargo of ammunition at Tampico. Secretary Daniels said that no new instructions had been sent to Admiral Badger.

Woman's suffrage was the leading topic in informal discussions today, as thousands of club women continued to pour into this city.

Some excitement was caused in the suffrage wing late last night by a rumor that the official board of the federation had endorsed a suffrage resolution at an executive session. The rumor was promptly denied, but that did not stop its discussion by suffrage leaders, who insisted that the assemblage of women would be unable to resist the pressure brought to bear by a large proportion of their number who are ardent devotes of the suffrage cause.

Prepared to Blossom Out.

More than 4,000 women arrived yesterday, according to federation transportation headquarters and six thousand are expected today. The delegates will be guests tonight at a concert and the formal business of the conference will begin tomorrow.

The question of dress was the question of some informal conferences among the delegates, who were busy unpacking their trunks today. It is understood that dark cloth suits or linen dresses of business-like cut will be worn during the hard working daily sessions, but that a notable blossoming forth will take place at the reception at the Art institute Thursday night.

In spite of resolutions against French styles, it is said that on that occasion some of the most striking gowns ever imported from Paris will be exhibited for the first time.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

KOSCIUSKO FARMER DIES.

Warsaw, Ind., June 9.—Ira C. Leedy, one of the well known residents of Kosciusko county, is dead at his home, three and one-half miles northwest of Pierceton. Death was due to an internal cancer and followed an illness of about two years. Mr. Leedy was 54 years of age. He was born in this county and resided here throughout his life. He was a barber by trade and before his health failed worked in various shops in this city. At one time he lived in this city. He is survived by his wife and two children, Albert D. Leedy and Mrs. Nora Banghart, of near Pierceton.

FIRES AT HIS NEPHEW.

Portland, Ind., June 9.—Jacob Bonifas, aged 65, a resident of Wabash township, near New Corydon, this county, is in jail here to await a preliminary hearing on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He has been drinking heavily of late and it is believed his mind is affected. When his nephew, Augustus Bonifas, stopped at his house for a visit the aged man took a sudden dislike for his relative and, getting a loaded shotgun, opened fire on him. Augustus Bonifas took his wife and children and beat a hasty retreat. Later the old man was heard to be firing as rigs passed his house.

INSANE MAN FLAGS TRAIN.

Bluffton, Ind., June 9.—A demented man who gave his name as John Berry and his home as Rosedale, or Boston, Mass., flagged a Clover Leaf eastbound freight just east of Van Buren, and when the engine crew reached him after bringing the train to a hurried stop he inquired whether he might not ride. He was taken aboard and when the train arrived in Bluffton the man was turned over to Marshal Henry Fritz. Insanity proceedings were begun against him today.

MUST KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

Hartford City, June 9.—Persons who lounge on the court house lawn will be prosecuted unless they heed the "keep off the grass" signs. During the hot season the spacious lawn is an inviting place. The practice of some citizens in stretching out on the grass in the shade of the temple of justice, however, is to be stopped by Custodian J. B. Orndorff upon the order of the board of county commissioners, because the trampling of the lawn impairs its beauty and makes the work of keeping it up difficult.

KENDALLVILLE HOME DESTROYED.

Kendallville, Ind., June 9.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the house of Mrs. William Saxon, which is occupied by her son, Cook Saxon and family, located at the corner of Garden and Lisle streets. The blaze was discovered shortly before 3 o'clock a. m. by an early morning fisherman and although the fire department responded immediately and made a fine run to the fire, the flames had made such headway that the frame structure was burned to the ground.

VETERAN OF WAR PASSES.

Kendallville, Ind., June 9.—J. H. Fisher, veteran building mover, died at his home, following a lingering illness, at the age of 78 years and 4 months. Mr. Fisher had been a resident of this city for a number of years and engaged extensively in moving buildings. He was born in Ohio and was a veteran of the civil war. Surviving besides a widow are two daughters, Mrs. O. O. Russell, of Latta, Ohio, and Mrs. W. G. Tidd, of this city.

FOUL BALL KNOCKS OUT ROOTER.

Huntington, Ind., June 9.—Jacob White, aged 28, an Andrews rooter, was struck by a foul ball while witnessing a game between his home team and a nine from Huntington and rendered unconscious for two hours. He was carried to a surgeon's office, where it required much work to restore him to consciousness. Nine stitches were necessary to close the cut made in his scalp by the terrific impact of the ball.

WIFE IS SLEUTH; CATCHES HIM.

Elkhart, Ind., June 9.—Dr. J. C. Hill's wife watched his office in this city last night and saw Mrs. Lillie Reams go there to spend the evening with the doctor. The police were called and both parties arrested. They are each under $100 bond for violation of moral laws. Mrs. Hill will sue for divorce.

GARRETT COUPLE ELOPE.

Hillsdale, Mich., June 9.—James A. Kircher and Miss Catherine Sweeney, both of Garrett, Ind., came here and were married at the court house by Justice C. M. Weaver.

Whitley County News.

Columbia City, Ind., June 9.—Eighteen children took their first communion at the Catholic church Sunday morning at high mass, Father John F. Kohl having charge of the ceremonies. In the afternoon the young people were invested in the scapular. Those taking the sacrament were Francis Bauer, Harry Gallagher, Catherine Raupfer, Constance Schmitz, Rosella Shilts, Charlotte McKenzie, Hilda McLaughlin, Clara Kraemer, Thomas Eyanson, John Shilts, Marcella Eyanson, George Bauer, Kathleen Cullen and Leona Schmidt.

W. W. Richmond, of the Fort Scott, Kan., Collegiate institute, has arrived in the city to deliver a series of lectures at various congregations of the Church of God.

Haffner's Star Bakery

TO HAVE PERFECT SKIN THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER.

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theater or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

To Banish All Signs of Superfluous Hair

Special Correspondence.

It has been said that superfluous hair cannot be permanently removed except by the painful electric needle, but a newly discovered medical treatment has been devised that seems to have the effect of creeping down the hair to the root just as oil creeps along a lamp wick. This new treatment, called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder, is justly credited with never failing to remove all traces of huimilating hair growths wherever applied. It is extremely effective even in the longest standing cases and cannot in the slightest injure the skin or complexion.

Mrs. Osgood's Wonder can be obtained locally at Meyer Bros. Co. or other drug and department stores on a signed Money-Back guarantee found in every package. Its use costs nothing if it fails.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 8:1-13.

1 And Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judaea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them; and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one;

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God and the name of JesusChrist, they were baptized, both men women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also; and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

The Dickering on Repeal

The attitude of the senate regarding the repeal of the canal tolls exemption for American ships recently urged by President Wilson is one at which the country will be forced to smile. The upper house of congress realizes that the repeal must come, but it cannot resist its predilection for dickering, and the Norris amendment proposed as a compromise solemnly sets forth in effect that while we are going to put all shipping through the canal on an equality as to tolls, we do not waive the right to discriminate in favor of our own shipping if we cared to do so. To the ordinary observer this is the most recent illuminating instance of a distinction without a difference that has developed in a law-making realm that is rather prone to such things.

The presidential view of the situation is that while this is not exactly the "ungrudging measure" of assent which he pleaded with congress to give to the repeal movement, it answers all practical purposes, and he does not think it worth quibbling over. It is repeal, and repeal is what the president is asking. If the senate can extract any saving grace from its proposed amendment, well and good. It does not change the general effect. It is quite plain that the senate leaders did not consult Mr. Wilson before agreeing to this sort of compromise, yet much as he is given to having his way about legislation for which his administration will be held accountable, President Wilson is not disposed to haggle over a quibble of this sort.

Manifestly the purpose of the compromisers is political. A good many of them must go before the country for re-election by popular vote this year, and they undoubtedly figure out that the reservation will take some of the edge from the criticism that is expected from those who are anxious to subsidize American shipping to the extent of free tolls. That it will have absolutely no effect in actual practice is quite beside the issue. It sets their disturbed souls at ease, and it provides the repeal the president asked. If everybody is now satisfied, let the measure come to a vote in the senate.

Hon. Newton W. Gilbert is in Washington by invitation of Secretary of War Garrison, who desires to consult with the Fort Wayne man regarding affairs in the Philippines. Mr. Gilbert's official service of something like eight years in the islands has equipped him as few men are equipped to speak of them and to counsel as to the wisest course in dealing with them. The secretary of war is acting wisely in seeking information instead of mere theory in dealing with the peculiar problem of the Philippines.

One member of the New York county progressive committee is devoting all his energies these days to an effort to throw George W. Perkins out of the party, insisting that he cannot longer consent to stand at Armageddon financed by the steel and the harvester trusts. The way of the political patriot is often rocky—but it should not be forgotten that Mr. Perkins is a handy and willing sort of individual to have about when campaign funds are needed.

Forecasts by the department of agriculture indicate that the United States is this year going to produce the largest crop of wheat in its history—exceeding by 137,000,000 bushels the best previous yield. And it is going to be extremely difficult for a lot of worried folk to understand how anything of that sort should come to pass without the benificent influences of a high protective tariff in this country.

It certainly must be admitted that General Huerta possesses consummate skill in determining just how violently he may rock the boat without causing it to absolutely overturn.

PAYING FOR THE WORK.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

There seems to be fair prospect of the passage of a bill to provide satisfactory and just compensation to the railroads for carrying the mails. Railroad spokesmen have complained bitterly that their interest was compelled to carry a large expansion of mail matter produced by the introduction of parcel post business, without any increase in payment. So far as that particular subject was concerned, the complaint was well founded. The railroads are entitled to fair payment for the work they do. If there is a material increase of work there should be a corresponding increase of pay, with adjustment, if any parts of the service are found in which the pay is excessive.

A joint committee of congress has been studying the subject and its bill which has been agreed upon bids fair to make a just settlement. If this bill becomes a law payment is to be made on the basis of space instead of weight. Formerly the mails were officially weighed but once in four years, and the railroads got no allowance for expansion in the weight. Now rates will be regulated as are express rates with terminal and siding charges and a standard mail car provided. Of course the wisdom of these changes must be most effectively tested by experience. But it seems probable that the change will permit a fair but not excessive allowance for this important service.

It sounds a little paradoxical when it is said that while justice is done to the railroads the government will save $2,000,000 a year. This is explained by the assertion that "some railroads were not receiving enough money for the mail service they were giving, others were receiving by far too much. This matter is adjusted so that the railroads that have been receiving too little will be compensated from those that have been receiving too much." There may be doubt whether the excessive charges are large enough to overbalance the cases in which the growth of the business made the payments inadequate and $2,000,000 besides. But that is a minor matter beside the importance of paying a just price for the service rendered and making the parcel post rates pay for the work done.

PRESS ON VISIT OF SIR CONAN DOYLE.

Wheeling Intelligencer: "From the way he has been 'jollying' New York, Sir Conan Doyle must have a new novel in press."

Ocean Between.

Birmingham Age-Herald. "Having just put the Atlantic ocean between himself and militant English suffragettes, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle predicts that if they don't behave themselves they are apt to be lynched."

In This Country.

Wilmington Every Evening: "It is hoped Sir Conan Doyle's stay in this country will be pleasing in every respect. Certainly his thousands of admirers would make it such if they could have the opportunity."

Sherlock Holmes.

Boston Herald: "Conan Doyle says he York. And the "men higher up" are be-York. And the "men higher up' are beginning to shiver."

Sing Sing Prison.

The Suffragettes.

Houston Post: "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle upon his arrival in New York declared that England has stood about all it can from the militant suffragettes and that he anticipated a wholesale lynching bee.' It really looks like things are tending in that direction."

English Prisons.

Buffalo Courier: "Sherlock Holmes, meaning Conan Doyle, has visited Sing Sing and says the prison should be burned down, as it is a hundred years behind the times. Much less than a hundred years ago English prisons doubtless were worse, however."

The Militants.

St. Louis Republic: "New York's 92 degrees of May heat must have gone to Sir Conan Doyle's head. He landed in Manhattan announcing that England had stood about all it could from the militants and predicted 'a wholesale lynching bee.'"

Grass Stimulant for Lawns in Late Spring.

In the late spring, about a month after active grass growth has commenced on the lawn, it is desirable to apply a grass stimulant to keep the lawn in first-class condition. Nitrate of soda is a good fertilizer and will make the grass grow thickly with a rich dark green color that will show itself promptly after the application. The landscape gardener of the United States department of agriculture advises that those who use nitrate of soda should apply it at the rate of fifty pounds per acre once a month throughout the summer, beginning about the middle of May in the latitude of Washington, D. C.

The nitrate of soda should be applied just before a rain or a sprinkling with the hose. Under ordinary conditions it will keep the lawn a vivid green during the period when the vitality of the plant is low. The application of this fertilizer combined with careful watering (described in a previous article) will prevent the parched appearance of the lawn during the dry hot summer season.

Care in Using Fertilizer During Drought.

When nitrate is applied during any dry period it should be used carefully. It can, however, be applied at any time if the nitrate of soda is powdered up fine before using, but it is safest to dissolve it in water. Because of a generally prevailing fear that this fertilizer may ruin a lawn if used carelessly, the department has been experimenting to see just how much nitrate of soda would have to be used in order to kill grass. These experiments seem to show that nitrate of soda can be used fairly extensively without causing injury, for attempts to kill grass with it were unsuccessful except when such large quantities as 400 pounds to an acre were used.

Although fertilization is a splendid thing for the upkeep of a lawn, it will never entirely make up for a lawn soil that was poorly prepared in the beginning. It is only when a lawn soil is properly prepared in the first place and enriched with stable manure, lime and bone phosphate that a lawn may be maintained in the best condition.

Unrotted Manure May Menace Good Lawns.

Unrotted stable manure should be kept away from a lawn at all times, the opinion of many to the contrary notwithstanding. Stable manure contains weed seeds and particularly after the early growth of grass these weed seeds will be encouraged to sprout, for at this time the grass is weakened by its spring growth and the weeds have additional impetus to spread. A weed has been defined as a "plant out of place." Weeds are certainly out of place on a well-kept lawn. Fertilizing materials have a great advantage over stable manure, as they contain no weed seeds.

There are other fertilizers beside nitrate of soda that are most valuable for the lawn, but their use is more especially adapted to the fall. Later the department will issue advice regarding the application of such materials as ground bone, phosphate rock, potash, dried blood, fish scrap and sterilized sheep manure. The dissolved rock in particular should not be used in the spring.

FLOWER MISSION DAY OBSERVED

IS AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

The annual flower mission day of the Women's Christian Temperance union, of this city, was observed Monday in a very fitting manner. Hundreds of bouquets of beautiful flowers were distributed to the sick and shut-ins of the city. The work was started Monday evening when 100 bouquets were presented to the sick in the various sections of the city. The Crystal union distributed 26 bouquets, the Lillian Stevens, 24; the Francis Williard, 29, and the South Wayne, 20.

The work continued all morning and will continue during the remainder of the week, as word has been received from various outside towns in the county that flowers are on the way. Those who are doing the work of distributing are the following: Mesdames J. Welty, M. Etts, Drake, D. Thompson, Miller, Swazee, Gilliam, Menefee, Houck, Boltin, Heist. A text card accompanies each bouquet.

During the year up to date the union has given away to the sick, invalids, officials of benevolent institutions, newsboys and other places over 3,500 bouquets, which is a sample of the splendid work they are accomplishing. The newsboys of the city will also be given a bouquet some time during the week, according to a statement made by officials.

This flower mission day is an annual, as well as a national affair and is observed by the request of Jennie Casaday, whose birthday occurs on June 9. The flower mission of every union scattered throughout the country seek to give to the day some special significance. A ray of hope to some disheartened person, a helping hand to some worthy one or a little flower in some darkened room.

It is the aim of the Fort Wayne unions to make this branch of the work one of the strongest of the organization.

TELEGRAPH EVANGELIST.

At a called meeting of the Ministerial association held Monday afternoon at the Grace Reformed church, the members of the association voted to send a telegram to Evangelist "Bob" Jones, asking him for an open date some time this fall. The evangelist is now conducting meetings at Montgomery, Alabama, and it is understood by the pastors here that he has an open date some time in October.

If Rev. Jones accepts this invitation to conduct union revival meetings here a tabernacle will be erected unless other arrangements are made this summer. The committee on evangelism also reported that other evangelists were in the field for Fort Wayne but that no satisfactory dates could be arranged with them.

MINISTERS RETURN.

Two Local Pastors Elected to Office at Meeting of Zion's Classis.

The Reformed ministers who attended the annual meeting of the Zion's classis of the Reformed churches held at Garrett have returned, and announced that two pastors of Fort Wayne were honored in the election of officers. Rev. J. H. Bosch, pastor of the St. John Reformed, was elected president for the ensuing year; Rev. F. W. Knatz, of the Salem Reformed church, will serve as corresponding secretary; Rev. Otto Scherry, of Garrett, was elected vice president, and Rev. L. C. Hessert, of Decatur, retains the office of stated clerk.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of this classis at Berne, Ind., on the first Thursday following Pentecost in 1915. It was also announced that the southwest synod, which is a new branch of the northwestern synod of the Reformed churches, and to which the Zion's classis belongs, will meet in Louisville, Ky., this year.

Notes of the Churches.

The Ladies' Home Missionary society of the St. John Lutheran church will meet at the home of Mrs. George Belz, on the Leo road, Wednesday afternoon. All those desiring to go should meet at the entrance of Lindenwood cemetery not later than 2 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid circle of the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church will hold its monthly business meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon. The Mesdames Smith, McWarren, Rosenberger and Jamieson will be hostesses for the afternoon.

The South Wayne W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. O. Sanders, 121 East Woodland avenue.

The Epworth league of the First M. E. church will hold its regular business and social meeting Tuesday evening of this week at the church parlors. The new cabinet has some very interesting plans to present. Reception to new members and everyone is invited.

FESTIVAL WELL ATTENDED.

The first evening of the festival now in progress at the St. Andrew's Catholice church, on New Haven avenue, was well attended, it being estimated that over five hundred people were in attendance. Officials and committeemen report that if the buying keeps on at the rate it has started that all will be sold before Saturday evening, the closing night. The receipts realized from this affair will be added to the church fund.

American Salvation Army Delegates Visit London Embassy.

London, June 9.—The 700 American delegates to the world's congress of the Salvation Army, with Miss Eva Booth at their head, marched this morning from the army headquarters in the city of London to the American embassy in Victoria street, where they were reviewed by Ambassador Walter Hines Page. The delegates made a splendid appearance with their neat uniforms and big red coats and hats. They received a great ovation from the public as they passed through the crowded streets waiving their American flags. As the column came in sight of the embassy its three bands struck up the "Star Spangled Banner." Ambassador Page afterward received Miss Eva Booth and the leading officers of the delegation. The congress opens tomorrow.

SURGERY SOLE HOPE

New York, June 9.—Cancer as a factor with which the American people must deal is taken up comprehensively in a pamphlet issued by the department of health in this city, with the aid of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The society believes that the time has moe for a nation-wide attack on the disease such as was undertaken against tuberculosis.

As a social and public health problem cancer is called second only to tuberculosis, while as a medical and social problem it is characterized as ranking first among the diseases which afflict the human race. Prompt operation is described as the true hope of cure.

"At ages above forty," to quote from the bulletin, "of the women who die about one woman in eight, and of the men who died about one man in fourteen, died of cancer. The disease now takes an annual death toll of about 75,000 in the United States, and largely because of public ignorance and negligence it proves fatal in more than 90 per cent. of the attacks."

Although the association sets forth that it does not know the cause of cancer, it calls attention to conditions which attend the development of the disease.

"Foremost," to quote again from the bulletin, "continued irritation in a given spot is frequently followed by the disease. Chimney sweeps develop cancer of the skin from the irritation of the soot. Workers in tar distilleries, in the manufacture of grease and briquettes, also develop cancer of the skin. Something in tar and pitch under such continued exposure develops warts which break down and develop cancer. Cancers of the tongue from irritation by pipe or cigar are commonly reported.

"One physician recently described a case in which the chafing of a suspender buckle was given as a cause. The women of India who carry betel nuts in their cheeks suffer from cancer of the mouth, while generally speaking they are free from other forms of the disease. Even long continued irritation is not necessary always, for cases are recorded where cancer seems clearly to have developed after a single blow or wound or fracture of some bone.

"We see in all these recorded cases that cancer at first is a local disease. If it can not be cured it can be removed.

"In view of the recent outburst of public discussion of the effects of radium in the treatment of cancer," the pamphlet says, "the society has felt it necessary to emphasize the limitation of this agent, as well as its favorable effect in certain cases. The curative effects of radium are practically limited today to superficial cancers of the skin."

An English circular sets forth that any wart or growth occurring on the lower lip of a man after forty-five years of age is almost certainly cancer. If removed at once the cure is certain; if neglected the result is inevitably fatal. The same warning is given with regard to swellings or sores on the tongue or in the mouth of a man of the same age. Warts, moles or other growths on the skin are exposed to constant irritation and should immediately be removed. A large number of them, if neglected, are said to torminate in cancer. Avoid irritation of the tongue and cheeks by broken, jagged teeth and of the lower lip by clay pipes, the circular says, as many of their irritations, of neglected, terminate in cancer.

MODERN CENDERELLA'S FOOT TOO TINY TO BUY SHOES FOR.

DAPHNE POLLARD AND HER FAMOUS FOOT.

With such tiny feet that the smallest stockings she can buy have to be turned back two inches under the toes, and all her shoes have to be made to order, Daphne Pollard, comedienne who is here with "The Girl Behind the Counter" company, challenges the entire world for Cinderella's title.

Miss Pollard's foot is so beautifully arched and so perfectly made that little girls' shoes, modeled without much shape, won't do.

And the smallest shoe made for women is far too large.

So this modern Cinderella orders all her shoes specially made in New York, where very often they are put on display as feminine curiosities.

Miss Pollard has more trouble with stockings than with shoes. Fine grades of silk stockings are not made for little girls so she buys No. 8s, but even then is compelled to turn the toes under a good two inches in order to make them small enough.

"Footwear is my hobby," said Miss Pollard. "I spend an enormous amount of money on my shoes and stockings.

"I average fifteen pairs of shoes always on hand. And I always have at least fifty pairs of silk stockings.

"Shoe dealrs in New York tell me I am the smallest-footed cusomer they have ever had.

"It isn't always fun to have such tiny feet, though. When I have suddenly to get a certain kind of shoe and cannot wait to send to New York for them, I have a dreadful time. I can have heels put on a child's shoe, but they are never comfortable."

THE NEW WAY—GETTING ROUGH WITH THE MILITANTS.

Since Miss Mary Blomfield invaded Buckingham palace and forced her way to an audience with the king and queen, London policemen have been ordered to assume harsher methods in dealing with the suffragets. Heretofore, it is said, they were arrested quite good naturedly and without violence. Orders are now to handle them the same as male rioters, and one of the first arrests under the new conditions is pictured above. Consternation, surprise and fear are expressed on the face of the militant, who in this instance has not been handled with the customary "kid glover"

EVER HEAR OF A HIMULKEE?

Rare Specimen is Feature of Wallace-Hagenbeck Menagerie.

COMING NEXT WEEK

When the Carl Hagenbeck and great Wallace shows combined come to Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16, there will be on exhibition in the menagerie one of the rarest specimens of wild animals ever brought to America. It is a Himulkee, a rare species of the Royal Bengal tiger from India. So rare are the beasts that only three have been found in the past 250 years.

The Himulkee differs from the low breed Bengal tiger in that the stripes about his body run horizontally instead of perpendicularly. In India the beasts are worshipped as gods, but because of their absence in the past two generations the natives have resorted to other idols. Even the Rajah pays homage to the Himulkee and on festive holidays human beings are fed in sacrifice to the beast.

The story of how a party of Carl Hagenbeck's hunters from their European headquarters, Hamburg, Germany, captured and smuggled to this country the Himulkee now in the possession of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus would fill a book. Suffice to say the presence of the beast in this country represents a human sacrifice of more than a score of lives.

But there are many other rare and interesting specimens of wild animals to be found in the Carl Hagenbeck menagerie. In fact, a student of nature could spend an entire day to advantage in studying the various specimens. Several score of the wild animals perform under the direction of famous wild animal trainers.

More than 300 artists of international fame take part in the circus program which is given in three rings and on two elevated stages. The fun is looked after by fifty clowns including Piro, a jester from the British court.

SOCIETY

The lovely setting of the Country club was one of the charms of a large and beautiful bridge party there this afternoon for which Mrs. Theodore F. Thieme and Mrs. William B. Shambaugh were the hostesses. Mrs. John Marin, of New York city, who is Mrs. Thieme's guest, and Mrs. Ernest F. Lloyd, of Detroit, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Shambaugh, were in the receiving line. The big piazza of the clubhouse as well as the rooms within were decorated with garden flowers arranged in artistic profusion by Miss Flick. Peonies, red, white and pink, filled big jardinieres on the porch, while the lovely iris in several colors was massed in baskets for the mantel and fireplace in the livingroom. A touch here and there of plumosus or ferns added to the pretty effect. One hundred ladies were asked to enjoy a game at cards or merely to visit, but the larger number devoted the time to the delights of auction. Mrs. Walter Olds, Mrs. John A. Thieme, Mrs. Charles A. Wilding and Mrs. O. N. Guldlin were the ladies asked to assist in meeting the rest of the company. Miss Margareth Wilding passed the tally cards. A repast was served after the game which was exceptionally refreshing and punch was served at any time when desired.

Mrs. Patrick McGee, of West Butler street, is in Chicago for a visit with friends and relatives.

Mrs. S. B. Bechtel is going to Grand Rapids this week to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Russell.

Miss Sue Akers, of West Creighton avenue, has gone to Toledo, Ohio, for a week's visit.

Mrs. E. A. Donnan will return on Wednesday morning from visits in New Castle and Pittsburg, Pa.

Mrs. W. F. Reitze came home on Monday evening from a visit with relatives in Elkhart.

Mrs. Gibson Sisco and baby, of Columbus, Ohio, is here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Study.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Meade have as their guest Mrs. Philip Hall, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Jennie Ray Ormsby, who is visiting her son in Huntington, spent Monday here, coming to attend the funeral of the late Perry DeHaven.

Miss Julia Kelsey is going to Crawfordsville on Friday for a visit with friends and will stop in Indianapolis en route home.

The College society of Emanuel Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Brandtmiller, of Douglas avenue.

Misses Josephine and Irma Hendersen came home on Monday evening from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York city, after a few days' trip.

Miss Florence Greensfelder, of Logansport, who had been here for six weeks visiting Miss Mollie Greensfelder, has returned home.

Mrs. James Smith and daughter, Miss Grace Smith, have returned from an absence of several months which they spent with relatives in Chicago and Gary.

Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman went to Chicago today for a visit with relatives and was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Stephen Trentman, who had been here for a number of days.

Marshall McKay has come home from Wabash college to spend the vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McKay, but is considering going abroad in company with Robert Thieme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thieme.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Bond are in New York and will during their absence attend commencement exercises at Ingleside school, New Milford, Conn., where their daughter, Miss Persis, has been a student for three years, but not in the regular course of study.

Misses Josephine and Geraldine Fleming are coming from St. Mary's academy, South Bend, the latter part of this week for a visit here with relatives before they go to New York to join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fleming, and the Misses Fleming are planning to spend the summer in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Elwood Lane, of Calgary, Canada, wha have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doud and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koerber, since their arrival in the city last Friday, are planning to leave on Wednesday for their return trip. Mr. and Mrs. Lane have met many old friends during their visit.

Mrs. James Gronna, of South Dakota, who is on her way home from a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Stuts, in Washington, D. C., is visiting the Misses Meyer, of Harrison street, for a few days. For a number of years Dr. Stuts and family lived in Fort Wayne and Mrs. Gronna was well known here before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Ely and son, Marshall Rawles, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardisty, Mrs. Lydia Miller and Miss Carrie Sommers formed an automobile party to Bluffton to attend the wedding of Miss Sylvia Lochner and Alvin Sprungor, which took place at the home of the bride on Sunday. The Fort Wayne party has returned home. They made the trip in Mr. Ely's new car.

The members of the graduating class of the Fort Wayne Normal school, for which public exercises for commencement will be held in the High school auditorium on Friday afternoon, are enjoying several social affairs during these closing days of school. A picnic supper at Robison park has already taken place and a banquet will be served at the school building on Thursday evening. Prof. D. H. Roberts, of Michigan, is to deliver the address at the commencement exercises and as he is a speaker who enjoys the reputation of never being "dry or uninteresting," his talk is anticipated with the certainty of its being a real treat.

A pretty prenuptial party was given by three sisters, Mrs. R. J. Miller and the Misses Georgia and Ludmilla Lauer, recently in honor of a coming bride, Miss Clara Dietrich. A shower of cluny lace pieces for her dining room was showered on the bride and beautiful decorations of pink and white roses with roses for favors, dainty place cards and a luncheon of the kind that melts in your mouth with goodness were other things that combined in making the affair perfect of its kind. Miss Dietrich's place was indicated by a tiny bride doll. The guests were members of the Nacana club and the bride-elect is a member. Those present were Rose Bender, Anna and Mary Pothoff, Solina Dietrich, Pauline Pohlmeyer, Mrs. Ed Violand and Mrs. Carl Vandagrift, of Centralia, Ill., who is here on a visit, being another sister of the bride-elect.

Only those who have taken the academic course are eligible to the banquet at the Anthony hotel which the alumnae association of St. Augustine's academy will give on Thursday. There are to be fifty guests. Officers of the association are: President, Miss June Mooney; vice president, Mrs. Frank Hoy; secretary, Miss Margie Monahan; treasurer, Miss Marie Nolan; in charge of arrangements, Misses Marie Kelly, Nellie Cody, Beatrice Kinder, Mary Henderson, Loretta Lordier.

Mrs. Charles Rumell, of Logansport, and Mrs. Harriet Cassell, of Toledo, who were visiting Mrs. M. S. Willson, returned home today.

New Society Fad is Started at Capital.

The "Dutch treat" is the latest society fad in elite Washington circles; and Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the former secretary of agriculture, is sponsor for the new idea.

The guests at these "Dutch treats" all pay for their own luncheon, or—still better—bring their own things to eat, in the good, old-fashioned picnic style.

Annual Entertainment by Wayne Street M. E. Choir With Soloists.

The annual concert by the choir of the Wayne street M. E. church and several assisting soloists was given before an audience of good size on Monday evening in the church. The program was in charge of O. F. Dodge, tenor singer and director of the choir, of which Miss Edith Nickell is soprano, Miss Ethel Doud contralto, Earl Thompson baritone. The work of the choir was exceptionally good and even the time worn sextet from "Lucia," took fresh beauty in its rendition. Mrs. Leah Maley, at the organ, did some very good work in excellent taste, both in accompanying and in several solos. Mr. Thompson did beautiful solo work and Miss Nickell, who has made some marked improvement during the month she has worked with Mr. Dodge, sang with lovely tone and expression a group of songs. Miss Ethel Doud's rich and sweet toned voice also displayed improvement in tone making and her group of songs, as well as the more pretentious number from "Samson and Delilah," gave much satisfaction and pleasure. Charles Thornberg, the young violin student from Auburn, played the de Beriot 8th concerto in the best manner he has ever done in public. When Mr. Thornberg played the same number at a recent recital in Elks' hall he had the misfortune to have a string of his instrument break. Miss Helene Spindler played the Saint Saens etude again, in the rendition of which she has received many compliments for her splendid technique and rhythm. Altogether the program was of a high grade, both in selection and arrangement, as well as in its rendition.

Parents of Missing Winters Girl in Fort Wayne.

DR. AND MRS. W. A. WINTERS.

The story of the disappearance and the search for little Catherine Winters, the missing Newcastle girl, is being told in Fort Wayne by Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters, parents of the child, at the Temple theater Tuesday and Wednesday, both afternoon and evening, illustrated with pictures of the scenes connected with the child's disappearance. This is one of the means adopted for raising funds to aid in the search for the child. Dr. Winters, in his talk, also goes somewhat into his recent arrest in connection with the case.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Les Miserables" in Notable Pictures at the Majestic.

The production of "Les Miserables" in motion pictures at the Majestic this week is indeed a film spectacle. The audience last night, despite the warm weather, was of goodly proportions. The performance occupies two and a half hours without intermission. Into this period, which seems brief because of the engrossing nature of the entertainment, is condensed the story which is considered by many the masterpiece of all fiction.

The early scenes of the story are of great variety, beauty and interest, including Jean's thrilling escape from the prison where he has been placed for stealing a loaf of bread; the home of the good priest whose benevolence converts the convict into a good citizen; the court scene, where Jean accuses himself to save another. The climax of the drama is reached in the scene of the barricade in the streets of Paris during the insurrection of 1832. Valjean's escape through the sewers of Paris, one of the most famous incidents of the novel, is only one of many exciting moments in this scene.

The vital material of the novel is presented comprehensively and faithfully and the film is in every way superior. No one who wishes to have the immortal story indelibly impressed upon his mind should fail to see it. The country scenes in France alone are worth the price of admission. Daily matinees given during the engagement.

AT THE EMPRESS

"The Daughter of the Tribe," a high class first run feature, will be shown again tonight at the Empress theater. Each audience yesterday and this afternoon received the film with pleasure.

It is a story of the love of an Indian girl for a "cow puncher." The girl has had a wedding arranged with another man by her parents, but refuses to marry the proposed man, and runs away for the man whom she loves. The picture is full of thrills from the start.

Starting tomorrow afternoon the Empress will show "The Path of Sorrow." This film is full of touching pathos, and ends with a joy for the audience that is refreshing, to say the least. This film will also be shown Thursday.

During the performances the Empress trio is continuing to entertain the audience. And then, there is always consolation in knowing that one is seated in "the coolest spot in town."

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

Leo Sunshine and Isadore Roy Were Struck by an Automobile on Spy Run.

Leo Sunshine and Isadore Roy, aged nine and twelve respectively, and living at 522 and 524 Lawton place, had a narrow escape Monday evening when both were struck by an automobile driven by George Holbrook near the Keefer grocery on Spy Run avenue. The boys were on their way to the grocery on a bicycle.

As they neared the grocery they turned over from the right side of the street and were struck at this time by the machine. When the automobile stopped the Roy lad was completely under the machine but he was not injured. The boys were taken to their homes where medical aid was called and it was found that neither was badly hurt.

NOT FOR THE STATE BOARD.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The question of introducing the literature of the bible for study in the public schools of Indiana is one for the various school corporations rather than the state board of education to decide, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Honan yesterday. The state board is not permitted by the law to take the initiative of such a question, according to Mr. Honan.

Plans Unique Trip Through Europe in Novel Conveyance.

A tour through Europe on a motorcycle is the plan of Mrs. Rachel F. Avery, of Philadelphia, who is now a student of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin.

She proposes to have a chair attachment on her machine, to accommodate her daughter Julia, who will accompany her. They propose to sail at the close of the academic year, arrive at Antwerp, and then proceed to Ostend, Belgium.

During a three-week stay in England they will attend "The Pardons," at which time choice cows are blessed and a certain number are given to the church. They will include Holland in their itinerary and will inspect Holstein cows while there.

ROSY AND PLUMP.

Good Health From Right Food.

"It's not a new food to me," remarked a Va. man, in speaking of Grape-Nuts.

"About twelve months ago my wife was in very bad health, could not keep anything on her stomach. The doctor recommended milk, half water, but it was not sufficiently nourishing.

"A friend of mine told me one day to try Grape-Nuts and cream. The result was really marvelous. My wife soon regained her usual strength and today is as rosy and plump as when a girl of sixteen.

"These are plain facts and nothing I could say in praise of Grape-Nuts would exaggerate in the least the value of this great food."

CONVENTION HALL PLANS MAY COME

Citizens' Committee Will Meet With Complete Representation.

THE FEDERATION ACTS

According to members of the citizens' convention hall committee, who meet Wednesday evening at the Commercial club, the committee is to take some action that will formally launch a movement for a new assembly hall that will ultimately get for Fort Wayne a building of sufficient size and of sufficient equipment to take care of any convention that Fort Wayne is likely to have the pleasure of entertaining.

Secretary Biederwolf, of the club, has sent out notices to all organizations in the city to be represented at the meeting, and immediately at the close of the session the delegates will be given petitions addressed to the city council asking that something be done toward providing for a convention hall here.

Federation Meets.

A resolution asking every labor organization in Fort Wayne to send at least one delegate to the meeting was adopted Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor. Another resolution asks the federation president to call a meeting soon of the Labor day committee.

Custom-Ridden Man More to Be Pitied Than Women Are

Poor, custom-ridden man must be freed as well as woman, according to Miss Hazel Mackaye, sister of the author, Percy Mackaye.

"A great deal is being said in behalf of the liberation of woman," she says; "but I think there is less cause for worry over woman's freedom than man's.

"Men have the ballot and a few other trifling liberties women have not as yet gained. O[illegible], is there a slave more abject [illegible] a man tied to fetters of his own [illegible]? Men are slaves to custom, hide-bound in convention, and persecuted by their own self-consciousness when they try to break bonds."

WILL LET COUNTY BUILD ITS PART

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

The city government will build its own share of the Spy Run avenue retaining wall and leave to the board of county commissioners the procedure for building the county's agreed share of that improvement. This course has been decided upon by City Attorney Colerick and County Attorney Hoffman. Therefore, the county commissioners will doubtless at once approve plans, advertise for bids and award a contract for the construction of 180 feet of the wall, that portion of it to be a part of the State street bridge over the St. Joe river. This much of the wall is determined as the county's share by reason of the $5,000 county appropriation to pay for the $14,400 the wall cost under the city's accepted bid. The board of works will send to the council meeting tonight an ordinance appropriating $10,000 to pay the city share of the cost.

WEED WAR MIGHTY BOTHER.

Because owners of real estate, more especially those who hold title to vacant lots, persistently refuse year after year to cut the weeds that ornament their holdings the board of health has to do a vast amount of work and put in a deal of time that could be better employed in other labors. The health department is at present engaged in the task of locating about 2,000 separate parcels of property, identifying the owners and obtaining their addresses in order to serve them with legal notice that their weeds must be cut, as provided by ordinance. The magnitude of the job can only be understood by some familiarity with the details. Health department inspectors must first search the city for violations. Each inspector carries a city map from which he obtains the location of the lot. Then he goes to the court house and identifies the owner, after which he takes a city directory and obtains the owner's address. If the owner happens not to be a resident of the city this task is involved in an increase of difficulty. In many cases the local agent of non-resident owners of property must be learned. When all this is done a form notice to the owner of property where weeds need cutting must be made out and mailed. If the owner does not obey the order or make other response within due time his case must be turned over to the board of works or the health department must institute a prosecution. Last year the board of works had no appropriation for cutting weeds on private property and paid no attention to the notices sent in by the board of health. There is no appropriation this year and the same course is likely to be followed. The ordinances and state laws provide that where a property owner is delinquent in the matter of cutting his weeds the board of works may cause it to be done and assess the cost as a lien against the property to be paid when he settles his taxes. Last year the board of health served notices on over nine hundred property owners in Bloomingdale, Spy Run, Lakeside and Nebraska to have their weeds cut. Similar notices were served on over four hundred property owners in that part of the city south of the river and west of Barr street and about as many in the district south of the rivers and east of Barr. The force in the health department is now busy discovering violations of the weed law, finding the owners and preparing notices.

CITY SETTLES DAMAGE SUIT.

Case of Boy Injured by Live Wire is Compromised.

Following a trip to Auburn by Mayor W. J. Hosey, Board of Works Chairman Frank E. Singrey, City Attorney Colerick and Electric Light Superintendent Frank E. Dix, the two suits brought against the city for $15,000 damages for injuries inflicted upon Kenneth, the little son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, 1215 Columbia avenue, were settled out of court by a compromise. It was agreed that the plaintiff should be paid $5,500. Of this $2,000 will be borne by the city and $3,500 by the Baltimore Indemnity company. The Williams boy was terribly injured October 4, 1911, when he came in contact with a live wire on Tecumseh street, losing two fingers and having a hole burned into the back of his head. The wire was part of the city lighting equipment and the negligence of the city in permitting the condition was alleged. There had been a former agreement never carried out that a settlement would be made for $6,500. The new administration thought the amount excessive and the city officials went to Auburn Monday to go to trial in the DeKalb circuit court, to which tribunal the suit had been venued. After reaching there the compromise was effected. The indemnity company that figures in the settlement is one in which the city carries its protection against risk in the municipal lighting plant.

LITTLE VANDALS IN PARK.

Wading Pool Made for Them Suffers at Their Hands.

Some of the urchins for whose benefit and pleasure a nice new concrete wading pool has just been completed in Swinney park, appreciated so much what the park board had done for them that when water was turned in to give a test they threw in pebbles, large stones, big gobs of mud, sticks and boards and even tried to gouge out the concrete bottom. The pool had to be drained and cleaned. The contracting firm of Ryan & Gallagher, which built the pool, has turned it over to the park board and it will doubtless be accepted at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of that body. The pool was designed with special care for permanence by Park Engineer Price and others like it may be constructed in some of the other parks.

CARRANZA GETS OVATION.

Altillo, Mex., June 9.—General Carranza was given a tremendous ovation upon his arrival here tonight. The constitutionalist commander was dined by Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the eastern military zone, who arrived before Carranza from Monterey, where he has been stationed.

PAT DIDN'T KNOW.

On shipboard the cry went up, "A man overboard!" and the captain gave orders to a new sailor, who was an Irishman, to throw out two buoys.

The sailor, seeing two boys walking on the deck, threw them overboard.

The captain yelled out that it was cork buoys he wanted thrown overboard.

"Bedad!" said Pat, "how was Oi to know whether they came from Cork or Tipperary?"

HUERTA GUNBOATS QUICKLY VANISH

U. S. WARSHIPS TRAIL

Tampico, June 8.—(By Way of Brownsville, Texas, June 9.)—President Huerta's so-called blockading squadron, which arrived off Tampico this morning vanished from view this evening without having an opportunity to establish officially the proposed blockade against this port. The two Mexican gunboats, the Bravo and the Zaragosa, hoisted and steamed southward at 5 o'clock accompanied as before by the American cruiser Tacoma and the gunboat Sacramento. Their destination was not stated but it was supposed to be Coatzacoalcos.

Immediately after the arrival of the Mexican gunboats, Rear Admiral Mayo, in command of the American naval forces here summoned the captain of the Zaragosa aboard the battleship Minnesota and informed him that instructions of the utmost importance had been received from Washington with orders to communicate the same to the Mexican commander.

Details of these instructions were not revealed but it is understood they informed the Mexican captain that the Washington government would not permit any interference with the traffic of the port nor permit the Mexican gunboat to enter the Panuco river.

The only communication from shore with the gunboats occurred during the afternoon when a tug went out to the Zarabosa with constitutionalists officers who offered the proposition that both vessels transfer their allegiance to the constitutionalists. The Mexican gunboats lay at anchor four miles off the shore with the Tacoma and the Sacramento under way and hovering near, and the Minnesota and the San Francisco lying at anchor about a mile away.

Farm Women Working for Better Homes

Mrs. Belle Harbert

Manzanola, Colo., June 9.—The largest and perhaps the most important class of women in the world have organized, and the "union"—which has membership in twenty-eight different nations and in every state in the United States—is known as the International Congress of Women. With Mrs. Belle von Dorn Harbert, of Manzanola, at its head, the congress has set out to improve home conditions on the farm, to lighten the farm woman's work, to brighten her life, and to give her the social advantages and the material benefits to which she is entitled. The congress will hold a world's meeting in San Francisco in September, 1915, which will be attended by farmers' wives and women farmers from all parts of the world.

DEADLY HEAT IS OVER WIDE AREA

OTHER SECTIONS HIT

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—Up to this afternoon the intense heat of the last three days had resulted in four deaths, driven a young woman insane and prostrated at least 19 other persons according to police reports.

Two More at Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—Two more deaths attributed to the heat were recorded today by the police while the mercury mounted to 94 degrees early in the afternoon, a record for the year.

In Kansas and Misouri.

High temperatures prevailed through eastern and southern Kansas and in this part of Missouri today. Pittsburg, Kansas, reported the mercury at 98 degrees at noon, a record for five years.

Sedalia, Mo., reported 94 degrees at 1 o'clock, the hottest day of the year. In Kansas City the mercury was at 91 at 1:30 o'clock.

Higher at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, June 9.—With the government thermometer three degrees higher at 2 o'clock this afternoon than at the same time yesterday today bids fair to eclipse all local heat records for the season. The maximum yesterday was a shade above 92 degrees while the temperature stood at 92 at 2 o'clock today. Private thermometers on the street level are pausing around the 100 mark. No heat prostrations had been reported early this afternoon.

Dies in Ten Minutes.

Hammond, Ind., June 9.—Peter Reinert, a carpenter, was prostrated by heat soon after starting to work today. He died in ten minutes. Stefen Nescovitz, of Gary, is dead from the heat.

Terre Haute Smothers.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 9.—All heat records of the season were broken here this afternoon when the government thermometer registered 96 degrees at 3 o'clock. No prostrations were reported. Street thermometers registered 100.

PROPOSES WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Wu Ting Fang

In the eyes of America, Wu Ting Fang, formerly minister to the United States, is the foremost Chinaman. A product of a far more ancient civilization than ours, Wu readily grasped our idea of publicity, and, when here, he was a marvelous press agent for Wu Ting Fang.

Now Wu has written a book. He wrote it in China and calls it "America." The material for the book was derived from the 4,000,000 questions that he asked of everybody he met in the United States.

The crudity of our civilization is attacked in chapters veiled heavily with apologies. He laughs at us, and grows bitter on Chinese exclusion; but, withal, it is quite interesting to know what an oriental like Wu thinks of us.

GOLD EXPORT CONTINUES.

Various Reasons Given for Drain on Our Gold Reserves.

New York, June 9.—Five million five hundred thousand dollars in gold was engaged here today for shipment to Paris. The continued flow from this port to Europe has excited considerable comment in banking circles. In the present movement, which began about a month ago, $30,000,000 has been exported Earlier in the year $16,000,000 went out.

Of the total $22,000,000 was in bars, and the balance in eagles and double eagles, taken from the subtreasury. Coin was not in demand until the supply of bars of requisite fineness was exhausted. Various reason are given for the drain on our gold reserves. The most plausible is that Europe is taking out gold in exchange for the resale to this country of $150,000,000 in securities. That Europe, particularly London, has been a steady seller of Americans in moderate volume for months past, is the testimony of competent observers.

The city government will build its own share of the Spy Run avenue retaining wall and leave to the board of county commissioners the procedure for building the county's agreed share of that improvement. This course has been decided upon by City Attorney Colerick and County Attorney Hoffman. Therefore, the county commissioners will doubtless at once approve plans, advertise for bids and award a contract for the construction of 180 feet of the wall, that portion of it to be a part of the State street bridge over the St. Joe river. This much of the wall is determined as the county's share by reason of the $5,000 county appropriation to pay for the $14,400 the wall cost under the city's accepted bid. The board of works will send to the council meeting tonight an ordinance appropriating $10,000 to pay the city share of the cost.

WEED WAR MIGHTY BOTHER.

Because owners of real estate, more especially those who hold title to vacant lots, persistently refuse year after year to cut the weeds that ornament their holdings the board of health has to do a vast amount of work and put in a deal of time that could be better employed in other labors. The health department is at present engaged in the task of locating about 2,000 separate parcels of property, identifying the owners and obtaining their addresses in order to serve them with legal notice that their weeds must be cut, as provided by ordinancee. The magnitude of the job can only be understood by some familiarity with the details. Health department inspectors must first search the city for violations. Each inspector carries a city map from which he obtains the location of the lot. Then he goes to the court house and identifies the owner, after which he takes a city directory and obtains the owner's address. If the owner happens not to be a resident of the city this task is involved in an increase of difficulty. In many cases the local agent of non-resident owners of property must be learned. When all this is done a form notice to the owner of property where weeds need cutting must be made out and mailed. If the owner does not obey the order or make other response within due time his case must be turned over to the board of works or the health department must institute a prosecution. Last year the board of works had no appropriation for cutting weeds on private property and paid no attention to the notices sent in by the board of health. There is no appropriation this year and the same course is likely to be followed. The ordinances and state laws provide that where a property owner is delinquent in the matter of cutting his weeds the board of works may cause it to be done and assess the cost as a lien against the property to be paid when he settles his taxes. Last year the board of health served notices on over nine hundred property owners in Bloomingdale, Spy Run, Lakeside and Nebraska to have their weeds cut. Similar notices were served on over four hundred property owners in that part of the city south of the river and west of Barr street and about as many in the district south of the rivers and east of Barr. The force in the health department is now busy discovering violations of the weed law, finding the owners and preparing notices.

CITY SETTLES DAMAGE SUIT.

Following a trip to Auburn by Mayor W. J. Hosey, Board of Works Chairman Frank E. Singrey, City Attorney Colerick and Electric Light Superintendent Frank E. Dix, the two suits brought against the city for $15,000 damages for injuries inflicted upon Kenneth, the little son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, 1215 Columbia avenue, were settled out of court by a compromise. It was agreed that the plaintiff should be paid $5,500. Of this $2,000 will be borne by the city and $3,500 by the Baltimore Indemnity company. The Williams boy was terribly injured October 4, 1911, when he came in contact with a live wire on Tecumseh street, losing two fingers and having a hole burned into the back of his head. The wire was part of the city lighting equipment and the negligence of the city in permitting the condition was alleged. There had been a former agreement never carried out that a settlement would be made for $6,500. The new administration thought the amount excessive and the city officials went to Auburn Monday to go to trial in the DeKalb circuit court, to which tribunal the suit had been venued. After reaching there the compromise was effected. The indemnity company that figures in the settlement is one in which the city carries its protection against risk in the municipal lighting plant.

SPANISH DUKE A GREAT POLO PLAYER.

Duke Penaranda

The Spaniards are great polo players and will be after the international title next year. The leading polo spirit in Spain is the duke of Penaranda, who came to the United States with the British. The duke is a fine polo player himself and has been of great assistance to the English quartet.

GIANTS DOWN TO STRIDE IN RACE

On the Highway to Pennantville and Showing the Right Speed.

WORKING AT HOME

New York, June 9.—Now the Giants have invaded the baseball world, including Brooklyn, have returned and gotten a good start at home, they are prepared to settle down to the real business of the season, namely selling enough base hits and good pitching to certain buyers from St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburg and Cincinnati to make sure of getting an invitation to the world series next October.

It's a lot easier to sell things across one's own counter than to carry a satchel full of samples to far distant lands and try to peddle orders. According to Johnny McGraw the Giants have a full supply of everything that is needed, even though two of their star salesmen, Merkle and Fletcher, are not feeling quite fit to perform for the edification of customers.

"The supply of base hits looks pretty good, and we have yards and yards of the latest stuff in pitching. We can clothe anything that looks like a flag pole with bunting."

That's what "Mac" probably would have said, or he would have said something to that general effect if he could have been located, but the doughty little manager of the prospective four time champions of the National league has the most unfortunate faculty of slipping into somewhere without being anywhere of any one who has ever made a practice of the disappearing act.

One month ago the Giants faced a proposition fraught with a coating of burrs and filled with the nitro-glycerine of uncertainty. At that time there was only one man in the neighborhood who was willing to wager that by now the Giants would have galloped through the quagmire and be gallivanting around in the league lead, and he hadn't seen the N. L. standing since it was announced by the Winter league.

A month ago the Giants were tied with Brooklyn for third place, .322 percentage to the rearward of Pittsburg. In the meanwhile the Giants have slipped through the field and are now busily engaged trying to keep the Cincinnati Reds from stepping on their heels. There is nothing throws a team out of its stride as quickly as to have another step on its heels.

It is not so much what the Giants accomplished while they were gone from the Polo grounds, but what the Pirates failed to accomplish that has counted in favor of the New Yorks.

Although the Giants won seventeen of the twenty-five games played, the Pirates shot the chutes for fifteen of their twenty-three starts, which has made a total difference of 408 points in their respective standings and has propelled the Giants into first place while the Corsairs have been eased into third position, trailing the Reds.

That the Giants have assumed the lead and that the Pirates have been toppled into third place would not be as gratifying as it is if it were not for the manner in which the trick was turned.

The Giants engineered their end of the coup almost unassisted. They began the deal by slipping the Pirates the short end of the scores in three games. They broke even in Cincinnati and St. Louis, took two out of a possible three in Chicago, annexed three straight in Brooklyn and split even in a four ply clash with the Phillies.

It was Cincinnati and Chicago who contributed appreciably to the downfall of the high stepping Pirates, for which New York is duly thankful but is not in a position to reciprocate intentionally.

Looking back across the stretch of "what has been" to the winter's whiteness of "what may be," it begins to appear as if the grandolope is slowly but surely climbing onto its battle scarred legs and will soon be able to mingle with the living once more.

In the prospective preliminary season it was widely predicted the Giants would jump into the lead with the lifting of the barrier and would rattle along, showering nothing but dust on the other clubs in the junket.

They failed to make the big leap at the outset, but they have been stamping on a lot of feet ever since, trying to scramble up to their chartered seat. And it begins to look as if the "dope" is not in for such a trimming after all. The class of the Giants is asserting itself and it would not be surprising, now the Pirates have struck the greased ways, if the Giants were reasonably sure of a portion of the world series money some days before the grand finale.

JERRY O'CONNOR CHOSEN.

Elected President of the Jefferson Drum Corps.

At the annual business meeting of the drum corps of the Democratic Jefferson club, held Monday night at its quarters on Calhoun street, Jerry O'Connor was elected president of the organization, to fill the office made vacant by the death of Harry P. Lowry. The members also decided to hold their annual picnic early in July and a committee to make arrangements for the event is to be appointed.

In accepting the presidency of the drum corps Mr. O'Connor told the members that he expects every man to be on duty constantly during the coming campaign. He said he would start early in attempting to secure additional members from each township in the county, and he also assured them that their individual co-operation is necessary for the success of the organization.

LEFT-HANDER IS NEEDED BY CLUB

LOST OPENING GAME

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 9.—Manager Harry Martin believes that if he had a left-hander to chuck in now and then in his games he could make a better showing as opposing players get so accustomed to the right-hand variety of curves and shoots that they find less difficulty in hitting than when they are required to look occasionally upon a collection of port-side slants.

No word has been received to indicate that Tommy Atkins intends to report here and it is possible that he will not be able to get back into the game before the Fort Waynes reach home to open up its next series of games.

There is no doubt in the mind of the manager that he has a better club right now than he has had at any time during the present season—that is, he will have as soon as he gets his entire front lined up once more. He is confident that Frankie Nespo will get into the game just as soon as the club returns home as news from the second sacker is most encouraging.

If there is anything in baseball luck he probably has had all his troubles by this time and is now in line to trim his sails and get going in the race. Several insistent messages have been received from Frank Shaughnessy asking the return of Frank Smykal and that means he cannot be much longer retained as substitute at second.

Members of the club arrived here yesterday pretty well tired out after a long, hot ride from Terre Haute, and went into the game under a handicap. They have not been able to get much rest here as hotel rooms are hot and less comfortable than those occupied by the players when they are at home.

Earl Ainsworth staged a line of hurling in the opening clash here that would have won under ordinary circumstances but Paynter, who claims he has Indian blood that accounts for his dark complexion, and who was passed up by Terre Haute after a trial, and who was an easy victim when he opposed the Billikens on their home grounds, kept the Martin troupe under submission all through the event.

Although Harry Martin's success as the lead off man in the batting list impressed him seriously with the idea of sticking up there, he found that the work of leading his men in the attack and working hard in the defense, to say nothing of the managerial duties, was too hard on him and he thinks he has a good man in Smyth as he has shown speed, hitting power and patience at the plate.

He secured the only Billiken run of the initial clash and tied up the count in the fifth but it didn't stay knotted for very long. Ainsworth reached first on Steil's bungle in handling an easy grounder and was forced at second by Smyth. The new outfielder supplemented his failure to hit by a clean steal of second, took third on Justice's wobble and home on an out.

Runners were on the bases at several stages of the game and were there with one man gone and ample opportunity to make hits count but the hits were not produced.

Manager George Hughes broke into the running in the second inning when he topped the barricade with a smash for four sacks. After Steil had annexed a three-base drive in the last half of the fifth Lake and Justice went down in order but Paynter hit and sent over a run.

Lake was walked in the seventh, took third when Ainsworth threw into center field on Paynter's sacrifice and scored on Tydeman's hit which came with one man down. Steil scored the final run on an infield hit, a steal of second and Justice's two-ply crack.

COULON AT EVEN MONEY IN SIGHT

BOTH MAKE WEIGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 9.—Johnny Coulon and his friends have never been quite satisfied with the betting on his scheduled battle with "Kid" Williams here tonight, and has always felt that he should rule a favorite in the books and it is believed that he will go into the ring an even money proposition as his appearance has given his backers increased faith in his ability to beat his younger opponent.

If the statements made by the two fighters today are to be relied upon never in the history of the prize ring will two more perfectly trained boys climb through the ropes of a ring.

Coulon, bronzed from outdoor work, claimed that he was under the weight of 116 pounds, which is the notch the boys must make at ringside. Williams, who undoubtedly has had a tougher time in reducing than Coulon, has announced that he would have no trouble in making 116 pounds.

There was a wee bit of excitement in the Coulon camp when Promoter McCarey insisted that the champion post his weight forfeit here instead of in Chicago. Sam Harris, manager of Williams, was responsible for this, as he announced early in the day that he did not believe Coulon could make 116 pounds. To quiet Harris, Jack Weske, the champion's manager, complied with the request.

There was no boxing in the camp of either boy, and in fact no hard work was attempted. Just enough exercise was taken to keep the muscles limbered up.

Coulon never looked better before a battle, and his condition has surprised his stanchest admirers on the coast. The betting today still favored Williams at 10 to 9. The Williams adherents seem to have plenty of money to wager on the Baltimore boy and his backers predicted that he would enter the ring a favorite over the champion.

The battle, which is to be staged in the arena presided over by "Uncle Tom" McCarey, promises to be one of the greatest that ever has been pulled off here. The betting men, in making Williams favorite, figure that he has a great chance to win before the limit of twenty rounds through the medium of a knockout. They also figure that, even if the fight goes the limit, the Baltimore boy has as good a chance to win the referee's verdict as Coulon.

Confidence is thick in the camp of both boys and neither expects the bout to go the limit. Coulon said that he believed he would score a knockout, and the same view was held by the challenger.

One of the greatest crowds that ever jammed into the Vernon arena is anticipated. The seat sale indicates a full house of about 11,000. The boys are scheduled to enter the ring at 9:30 o'clock, coast time.

Gen. Funston's Great Story, "Memories of Two Wars"

How Cuban Rebels Won the Siege of Victoria de la Tundas

(In yesterday's chapter General Funston told of amazing effects on the Spanish enemy of a dynamite gun which was now used for the first time in war. He also told of the killing of the American Col. Chapleau. The following chapter tells of the remainder of the 51-hour battle at Victoria de la Tundas and the Cuban victory.—Editor.)

By GEN. FREDERICK FUNSTON.
Brigadier General, United States Army.

CHAPTER XI.

Late that same afternoon Col. Menocal informed me that he would soon lead an infantry charge, whereupon, we opened a terrific and sustained bombardment. Suddenly I saw two lines of men emerge from the brush, and yelling like mad charge for the Spanish trenches. The next moment was certainly the most intense in the lives of us serving the guns. A slight mistake might land a shell among our own people. I simply shook with excitement.

Gen. Funston
MACKO-ZWING

Our shells, plunged at the rate of three a minute from each gun into the trenches, were demoralizing the defenders to such an extent that they could do but little firing, but from a trench on its right the attacking regiment was brought under a hot flank fire at seven hundred yards range, and suffered severely. A number of the officers having been shot down, and it seeming impossible to get through the entanglements, some confusion arose. The men began to bunch up and lie down.

It looked as if the gallant attack must fail, and that it was only a question of drawing out those who could be saved from the wreck, when Menocal and two other officers of the staff mounted their horses and at a dead run rode into the charge, actually coming within thirty or forty yards of the trenches before their horses all went down killed and Menocal had his leg shattered.

But the other two officers, with Colonel Garcia and those of the regiment, rose to their feet, and, with cries of "Al machete," rushed into the barb wire. The men followed their lead, and with their machetes began to hack frantically at the wires, and in a few moments had cut their way through. We continued our artillery fire until this time, but now we were glad to cease. The Spaniards took advantage of the opportunity to escape while the Cubans were getting through the entanglements and under cover of the ruins of the building reached the town, and were distributed among the other defences.

More or less desultory firing now followed, the Cubans having loop-holed a number of the houses to facilitate their operations against those of the Spanish works that had not yet been taken. The whole force of insurgents, with the exception of those men stationed to escape on the north, were now in the town in the shelter of the houses. The work left was the capture, from the interior of the town instead from its outside, of the stone barracks and Telegraph Fort.

The strongest work was the Cuartel de la Infanteria. Its masonry walls were three feet thick, loop-holed, and defended by two hundred men. The main business street of the town could not be crossed by us, being swept by the fire of this work at one end and by that of the Telegraph Fort at the other.

We found a warehouse in which we dragged the dynamite gun and a twelve-pounder, and making loo-holes, opened fire. The Hotchkiss shell glanced off the stone wall. That from the dynamite gun made a terrific explosion, but the result was the same as would be caused by throwing an egg against a house. There was a fine spatter and nothing else. Not a stone was displaced by either shot. But the moral effect of the explosions of the nitro-gelatine bombs was in time to do the work.

Very early in the morning a soldier had escaped from the cuartel and brought to Colonel Menocal the information that he was an emissary from his comrades, who had come to the conclusion that they had reached the limit of human endurance. They were in sore straits from hunger, thirst, and fatigue, and their nerve had been completely shattered by the explosions of the nitro-gelatine bombs. The commander and the other officers would fight to the end, but if he would take possession at daybreak they would throw down their arms. They knew the situation to be absolutely hopeless, and did not propose to be sacrificed to save the honor of their officers.

The sun had not yet risen when a few officers, including Janney and myself left warehouse and walked into the open. We felt a bit ticklish as we approached the grim line of loop-holes, but no flash came from them, and at a run we went over the mound of earth protecting the great gateway. The door swung open and the haggard and wasted men, barely able to stand, threw down their arms, while their officers looked on in helpless astonishment. But they accepted the inevitable.

I was so hungry that I had pretty nearly lost all regard for the properties, and made a quick run for the kitchen, a Spanish soldier showing me where the officers' provisions were kept. The first thing I found was some sausages in cans, and cutting one of them open by one blow of my machete, began to get at the contents in the most primitive way imaginable. I saw two Spanish officers looking at me with disgust plainly evident on their features.

During the night the insurgents had swarmed into the houses, had opened fire on the two blockhouses occupied by the local detachment of guerillas. The defenders knew that it was only a question of time until the deadly dynamite gun from the shelter would blow their flimsy blockhouse to bits. They were in a terrible position, as they could not except the quarter given the Spanish regulars. Their captain came out and asked what terms would be given them. The laconic reply was, "The same that you have given the helpless wounded in our hospitals."

It was merely a choice of the form of death, so they marched out, threw down their arms, and to their credit met their fate with courage. They were cut down with the machete. It was a shocking spectacle, but it was retributive justice if there is such a thing, for these men, half Spanish, half Cuban, had never known what mercy was.

Other blockhouses, garrisoned by regulars, now gave up one by one. (Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons.)

OSSIAN NEWS.

Ossian, Ind., June 9.—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Trevey had as Sunday dinner guests their niece, Miss Ethel Trevey, and Howard Howey, of Fort Wayne; also Miss Ruby Quackenbush and Teddy Weathers, of Ossian, the latter being here for a week-end vacation from his studies at Winona college at Winona Lake.

James Swaim, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Swaim and daughter, Frances, visited in Fort Wayne Saturday afternoon.

Garth Woodward, of Kendallville, was a Saturday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodward.

Gary Hawley, who has been so very critically ill for several days, is reported no better. On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock an operation was performed by Dr. Fred A. Metts, of Bluffton, assisted by Dr. Severen, of Bluffton, and Dr. D. C. Wybourn, of Ossian, the attending physician. An abscess was found in the head, which was thought to be caused by tubercular trouble. The patient rallied from the anesthetic, but is delirious most all the time. A trained nurse from Fort Wayne is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Aldred and daughter, Roberta, left Sunday afternoon for their new home in Lapel, after a week's visit with Mrs. Aldred's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Summers.

Mrs. G. G. Glass entertained at her summer country home on Saturday afternoon the Daniel boys and Miss May Morton's Sunday school class of girls. The young folks enjoyed an outing on the farm and a picnic supper served by Mrs. Glass. Those present were Misses Inez Gorrell, May Morton, Levita Hanna, Nita Wagner, Gretchen Hoopengardner, Hazel Byrd, Marie Kreigh, Wilda Hoopengardner, Ruth Turner, Alta Allen, Vera and Ruby Glass and the Daniel boys, who are Curtis Bunn, Remington Johnston, William Beaty, Forest Crummitt, Edward Dyar, Avery Glass, Adrian Hoopengardner, Dwight Crowl, Russell Hanna and Alfred Mills.

Mrs. Will Shady, of Fort Wayne, spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Osborn.

Miss Ethel Phillips, who has been living with her aunt, Mrs. Nelson Osborn, and clerking in the dry goods department of Charles I. Weirich's store, left Sunday for her home in Lisbon, O., called there by the serious illness of her mother.

Mrs. Mary A. Wolfcale, of Prospect, is visiting with her sisters, Mrs. J. W. Osborn, Mrs. C. W. Scattergood and Mrs. J. Byron Ady.

Paul Sauer, of Bluffton, sang a solo at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Allen and daughters, Alta and Norene, motored Sunday to Churubusco in the Allen auto for a day's outing and fishing.

James Nevius, of Huntington, visited Sunday with Mrs. Nevius at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Norwalt, and made the acquaintance of his new son, who arrived last week.

Elisha Elzey and granddaughter, Miss Hazel Fusselman, were in Fort Wayne Sunday to visit with Mrs. Elzey, who is taking treatment at the Lutheran hospital.

Miss Pearl King's Sunday school class of boys is to give an ice cream social on the Presbyterian church lawn Thursday evening.

Mrs. Kate Mills will entertain the local W. C. T. U. at her home on Friday afternoon. This is to be Flower Mission day and all members are urged to come with bouquets.

Don't Have Pimply, Blotchy Skin

Nor Is Anything Better for Constipation Than USOLINE.

Of course, there are other causes for a bad complexion. Biliousness makes the skin sallow, and turns the whites of the eyes yellow.

An upset stomach and dyspepsia give you a drawn, dragged-out look, and a dull, muddy skin.

Headaches cause wrinkles and black circles, and take the brightness, flash and beauty out of the most striking pair of eyes.

But after all, the real cause of nearly all these "symptoms" and diseases is constipation.

Constipation can also be blamed for certain skin eruptions and blemishes.

You have dosed enough with pain-racking cathartics and purgatives to know that they give only temporary relief, dearly bought, because the condition persistently grows worse.

Now, leave drugs alone; give your system a chance; try USOLINE, which is a pure oil lubricant.

What USOLINE does is to soften the accumulations of poisonous wastes that have become congested in the bowels, to soothe and lubricate the passages, and make the movements natural, easy, healthy, painless and regular.

Then the constipation actually does disappear, and the complexion clears up.

You'll find USOLINE what you have so often wished for, a remedy that really does what you take it for, and leaves no bad after effects. Imported and re-refined only by OIL PRODUCTS COMPANY, New York. Sold by druggists generally, 25c. and 50c. a large bottle, and $1 a three pint tin. Also in capsules, 2 doz. in a box, 50c. Ask or write for printed matter.

IF HER HAIR IS BEAUTIFUL IT IS PRETTY CERTAIN SHE USES HERPICIDE

If ladies could know and appreciate what a delightful hair dressing Newbro's Herpicide is, they would all have it on their dressing tables. It is the most exquisite toilet article ever used and at the same time one of the most essential.

In order to have beautiful hair every lady should regularly apply Herpicide to her hair and scalp. By it the scalp is kept clear of dandruff and the hair stops falling.

Herpicide is free from grease, does not stain or dye and possesses an exceedingly delicate and pleasing odor.

Newbro's Herpicide is just the sort of a preparation that always appeals to a lady of refinement and cultured tastes. There is nothing that can take its place. There is nothing just like it, nearly like it or "just as good."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

PROSTRATED BY THE HEAT

Charles Sephel Overcome as He Worked in the Yards at the "Lights."

Temperature in Some of the Rooms Reaches Unprecedented Point.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning, while at work in the yards at the Fort Wayne Electric works, Charles Sephel was overcome by the heat and had to be assisted to the dispensary. He soon revived sufficiently to go to his home, but he had a narrow escape from a severe sunstroke. Mr. Sephel is a carpenter and is employed in Foreman Harry Evans' gang. So far as known this was the only case of prostration in the industrial plants today, though the heat in some of them was almost unbearable. It was particularly severe on the men employed in the foundries, rolling mills and blacksmith shops, where the heat is intensified by artificial means.

GONE TO THE CONVENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wright left for Atlantic City on the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Wright will attend the Master Car Builders' and Master Mechanics' conventions. Other Fort Wayne men who will attend the meetings and who left Sunday for Atlantic City are T. W. Demarest, W. L. Wilt, O. J. Parks and K. J. Fisher.

DICK THOMSON HERE.

E. F. Thomson, familiarly addressed as "Little Dick," spent the night in the city with his father, of the Wabash shops, and other relatives. "Dick" is the private secretary of President F. A. Delano, of the Monon, and he accompanied that gentleman this far on his way to New York on the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited. He returned to Chicago today.

HAS APPENDICITIS.

Machinist A. L. Ringle, of the Pennsylvania, who was taken ill while at work at his lathe in the Pennsylvania shops several nights ago, is now suffering from appendicitis. His case is not regarded serious, however, and he will probably escape a surgical operation. Mr. Ringle was for several years at the head of the Pennsylvania ball team and is well known in sport circles, as well as in shops.

ANOTHER NORWEGIAN SPECIAL.

A big party of Norwegians from the northwest will pass through Fort Wayne on a special train over the Nickel Plate at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening. They will be carried from Chicago to New York by the Nickel Plate and the Lehigh Valley and at the latter place will embark on a steamer for their native country. The train will comprise four sleeping cars, three coaches, a dining car and a baggage car and will be in charge of Conductor Martin L. Houder.

T. C. MUNGOVAN BETTER.

Thomas C. Mungovan, the veteran Wabash blacksmith, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week, is so much better that he is able to spend a portion of his time sitting on the porch. He will soon be able to get about as usual, if the present improvement continues.

RETURN FROM PITTSBURG.

SECRETARY MINEAR WAS HERE.

A Bruce Minear, international Railroad Y. M. C. A. secretary, spent several hours in the city this forenoon, leaving at noon for Toledo.

WILL GO TO HOT SPRINGS.

Nickel Plate Conductor A. P. Garland will sojourn at Hot Springs for three or four weeks. He has taken a leave of absence and will go south in a few days.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

C. E. Madden, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops, has returned from Clear Lake, where he spent a week.

I. F. Streibig, foreman of the Pennsylvania coal docks, is taking a layoff to attend to some private business.

Weighmaster W. H. Smart, sick two or three weeks, resumed the duties of his office on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

E. W. Sigl, foreman of the Pennsylvania master mechanic's drafting room, is off duty today on account of sickness.

Machinist P. J. Morris, of the Pennsylvania round house, is off duty on account of the very serious condition of his sister.

Harlow Swinehart, brakeman on the Nickel Plate Knox local, has resumed that duty after spending a week with friends in Toledo.

Henry Beckman, machinist, was taken suddenly ill while at work in the Pennsylvania shops at 9 o'clock this morning and had to return to his home.

A. I. Burns, on the Chicago division, and K. Smith, on the Fort Wayne division of the Nickel Plate, have taken a lay off until business revives.

Paymaster George Francisco, of the Wabash, distributed the pay checks among the Fort Wayne shopmen today. The clerks received their checks last Saturday.

Ralph Willson and family, who were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, a week, have returned to their home in Cleveland after a week's visit here.

Trainmaster H. W. Loomis, who is acting division superintendent during the absence of M. L. Reynolds, was in the city yesterday on business for the Lake Shore.

Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds and Assistant Road Foreman of Engines R. J. Lyons spent yesterday afternoon at Upper Sandusky on business connected with a derailment at the Hocking Valley crossing some days ago.

Charles Rouzer, Nickel Plate conductor, has just completed the erection of three cottages on the south shore of Sylvan lake, at Rome City. He will erect two more in a few weeks. Mr. Rouzer gave the work at the lakes his personal attention for two weeks, but has reported for duty on the road.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

"TIZ" FIXED MY SORE, TIRED FEET

"O, Girls," Don't have puffed up, burning, sweaty feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ."

"TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ" is grand; "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. Think of it, no more foot misery; no more burning corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store, and get instant relief. Get a whole year's foot relief for only 25 cents. Think of it!—Adv.

ADMITS SLAYING HUSBAND.

West Virginia Woman Then Hides His Body in Cellar.

Charleston, W. Va., June 9.—"I have killed my husband and I am willing to pay the penalty," quietly remarked Mrs. Dollie McSurly as she walked into the office of Sheriff Bonnerhill here yesterday. Prosecuting Attorney Townsend was quickly summoned from his office and Mrs. McSurly made a detailed statement to him. She said that her husband, Bert McSurly, came to their home at Shrews, near here, last Saturday after he had been drinking; that he mistreated one of their children and tried to kill her with a butcher knife. She seized a hatchet, hit him on the head and when he was down stabbed him with the knife. She hid the body in the cellar where she kept it until yesterday. She then dragged it two hundred feet to the tracks of the Kanawha and Michigan railroad where it was struck by a train. She then came to Charleston and gave herself up. Mrs. McSurly's youngest child is not a year old.

MOOSERS TO HAVE A STREET PARADE

BEVERIDGE TO SPEAK

According to County Chairman H. F. J. Reiter, the progressives of the Twelfth congressional district will have a regular celebration Wednesday when they meet at Kendallville for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congress to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Isaac Strauss, of Ligonier.

The major portion of the Allen county delegation will leave for the convention city at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, making the trip overland in automobiles. Others will go at 8:29 over the Fort Wayne & Northwestern, arriving at Kendallville in time to join the street parade and reception that is to be accorded to Albert J. Beveridge when he arrives at 11 o'clock.

If plans do not go wrong at the last moment, three brass bands and several hundred followers of Theodore Roosevelt's principles will march in the parade. The convention is to be held at Princess theater and will be called to order at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. It is said that Homer C. Underwood, of this city, is to be a candidate for the permanent chairmanship. At this time there are three candidates mentioned for the congressional nomination—W. H. Widney, of St. Joe; Lloyd T. Bailey, of Columbia City, and Harry Brown, of Waterloo, the district chairman.

Among other speakers besides Beveridge will be ex-Governor R. S. Vessey, of South Dakota, and W. D. Headrick, of Indianapolis. The delegations from Auburn and Waterloo will be accompanied by bands.

Progressive county candidates and members of the county progressive committee held a meeting Monday evening at the offices of County Chairman Reiter. They discussed the prospects for the coming campaign and completed final arrangements for the convention at Kendallville.

FORMER CHICAGOAN DIES.

Charles Singer Succumbs to Attack of Paralysis in Paris.

Paris, June 9.—Charles Singer, formerly of Chicago, but for some years a resident of France, died here last night after a second stroke of paralysis. Mr. Singer formerly was an active member of the Chicago board of trade. His daughter, Hazel, married Prince John Ghika, of Roumania, in 1901.

Machinist Allen Hamilton, who had a hand severely injured two weeks ago, is improving and expects to resume work next Wednesday.

THE MARKETS

STRAWBERRY PRICES DROP.

Home Grown Fruit Overstocks Market; Advance In Price Expected This Week.

The price on strawberries at the local markets took a decided drop today as a result of the overstocking of the market by local growers. The best berries could be purchased this morning for 10 or 12c and the wholesale and commission men stated that they were selling them as low as 7c a quart. It is expected that the price will steadily advance during the remainder of the week.

Farmers on the market stated this morning that the outlook for wheat is the best it has been for the past few years. The hay crop is also looking better, although it will not be as long as in former years on account of the exceptionally warm weather and no rain. However, it is better in this county than in others especially in the southern part of the state, where the grass has all been killed by the long dry spell.

Wheat today ranged all the way from 88c to 93c a bushel, while oats brought 43c at the local wholesale street market. The receipts at the city scales were light again today, due to the hot weather.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, June 9.—Selling due to the bearish influence of the government report carried the wheat market today to a lower level. The question as to whether the report had been fully discounted in advance was soon answered in the negative. Prices after opening ⅛@¼c to ½c down, rallied a little but then sank lower than before.

Although corn at first received little support, the market later scored a substantial advance. The opening, which ranged from ¼@⅜c off to a shade up, was followed by a gain all around.

Oats swayed with corn. An early decline was entirely overcome.

Chicago Cash Grain.

Rye No. 2, 65@65½c; barley, 50@65c; clover, $10.00@12.50; timothy, $4.00@4.75; pork, $20.65; lard, $9.97; ribs, $11.00.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, June 9.—After a dull and irregular opening today, the stock market stiffened. All the active stocks made gains, running up to a point for Union Pacific. There were no elements in the speculative situation on which to base a buying movement, but sentiment was cheered by the highly favorable developments of yesterday, including the crop report, the Shreveport rate decision and the improved Mexican outlook. Virginia debt certificates broke 12½ on the ruling of the supreme court, which permits the reopening of the case, involving another long delay. The rapid outflow of gold continued. The engagement of $5,000,000 more for Europe was announced without affecting the market.

The early rise was carried further during the morning, although the average gain was not great. The street was filled with reports that the decision in the freight rates case would be announced this week, and much of the buying partly of railroad equipment shares was based on this expectation. Purchasing orders came in from out of town points, with a good demand for the grangers and other shares which are expected to profit most directly from bumper crops. Bonds were steady.

The market closed steady. Quiet strength attended today's limited dealings in stocks. Special issues responded to concerted buying. Traders' realizing caused some recessions in the late dealings, but the general undertone was good.

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

(Furnished by J. S. Phillips, North American Building, Fort Wayne, Ind.)

Chicago, June 9.—Chance of an overwhelming wheat crop indicates only small rallies for a few days and lower levels are expected. Europe will raise seventy to ninety millions below 1913 but we have the wheat and will have to sell. Spring wheat weather to June 9 is satisfactory. Half central west is still dry and is enduring a very hot spell. The government has probably overguessed the oats. Locals unwilling to press oats sales as prices are considered moderate. Country has sold no corn for several days and eastern stocks in all trade arteries are very light. The Argentine has palpably failed to relieve the June corn situation. Large interests here are very friendly to corn. Our reports show corn selling at 85c in Kansas, 70c in Iowa and Nebraska, 75c in southern Illinois, 85c in Missouri.

Prices of stocks at 2:45 p. m. as follows: Atchison, 99½; Copper, 72⅛; Smelter, 64; C. & O., 52; Canadian Pacific, 195¼; Erie, 29½; Great Northern, 124¾; Northern Pacific, 111⅞; Norfolk, 105⅝; New York Central, 93; Pennsylvania, 111⅝; Reading, 165⅝; St. Paul, 101⅜; Southern Pacific, 94; New Haven, 66¾; Union Pacific, 166⅛; United States Steel, 62½.

METHODISTS TO BUILD.

Church Will Erect Million-Dollar Skyscraper in Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—The Methodist Episcopal church will build a million-dollar skyscraper at Washington and Clark streets in the heart of the downtown business district here, it was made known here today. The building will be on the site of the historic First M. E. church and will contain a new First church, a book store and offices of the Methodist Book concern. Two hundred thousand dollars additional will be expended in the erection of a printing plant in one of the manufacturing districts of the city.

INDIA'S WHEAT PRODUCTION.

Washington, June 9.—A report to the department of agriculture received today from the international institute of agriculture at Rome gives final returns for the year's production of wheat in India at 313,154,000 bushels, 14 per cent less than last years' production.

THE WEATHER

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Fair and slightly cooler tonight and Wednesday.

For Indiana: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; lightly cooler north portion.

For Ohio: Generally fair tonight; slightly cooler north portion; Wednesday fair, cooler central and south portions.

For Lower Michigan: Thundershowers this afternoon or tonight; cooler east and south portions; Wednesday generally fair.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

High temperatures continued yesterday throughout the central, southern and eastern states, although some relief was felt along the middle and north Atlantic coast states where some showers occurred. Temperatures ranged from 90 to 96 degrees from southern Michigan, Iowa and Missouri eastward and southward to the Atlantic and gulf coast states. At St. Louis a maximum of 96 was recorded, while at Fort Wayne the maximum was 92 degrees, or one degree higher than the Sunday record.

Over Minnesota, the Dakotas and western Iowa showers have been quite general. At Moorhead, Minn., the rainfall has amounted to four inches during the last thirty-six hours.

Unusually cool weather continues general throughout the Rocky mountain and plateau regions.

While the low pressure area which is passing eastward across the lake region will probably give some showers over Michigan, they will probably not extend southward to this section, and fair weather is indicated for this section for tonight and Wednesday. The temperature will be slightly lower tonight and Wednesday.

Dreier Soda Drinks

The Standard of Purity for Forty Years.

Forty years is a long time as modern reckoning goes, and it is a long the procession a long time in which to maintain an unchanging standard of purity.

The Dreier Store Was the First in Ft. Wayne to Use Pure, Unadulterated Fruit Juices at Its Soda Fountain.

When other dispensers of cold drinks were flavoring the soda with so-called extracts, the DREIER Store imported the pure Fruit Juices. Some stores did not know such juices could be obtained, others did not care.

THE DREIER STORE FOUND THEM AND USED THEM.

The same desire to serve the purest and best is characteristic of the DREIER Stores today as it was forty years ago. The same high standard prevails. The unexcelled quality of the cold drinks is evidenced by the constantly growing patronage of the fountains.

QUARTER'S WORTH OF OATS IN ISSUE

NEWS OF THE POLICE

It took an hour of the city's time Tuesday morning to thrash out the verities of a case involving a couple of pecks of oats Henry Korte was charged with stealing from Herman Stegmann and Herman C. Schroeder. The state was jolted a bit when Schroeder, testifying for the prosecution, admitted under cross-examination that after the alleged theft he and Stegmann made a proposal to Korte that if Korte would give them $25 each there would be no prosecution. Korte declined to stand for it and his arrest followed. The trouble grew out of the sale of a dairy business by Korte to the other two men, who felt they had been badly nicked in the price they paid. Stegman and Schroeder continued, following the sale, to use rent free a stable that Korte leased and there was some sort of mutual understanding about buying horse feed together and all using from it according to need. Korte said he used oats several times that he took from the stock of the other men, they having used his corn. There was no evidence of larceny, and Judge Kerr found Korte not guilty and warned the trio to have no further trouble.

Camped on Neighbor's Porch.

Frank Dodane, a young man with a wife, made a social call on a neighbor at 1448 Wabash avenue, Monday afternoon, and asked the young matron of the place if he might sit there and visit with her. The young matron with emphasis said no; that her husband was away and that Neighbor Dodane had no business fooling round. Dodane cut up nasty, talked ugly and said he had a pair of pistols in the pockets on his hips and he would make bloodshed all over the neighborhood. The young matron got a brickbat and chased the redoubtable down and his pair of pistols out of the yard, called the police and had him arrested. Dodane pleaded guilty in the city court, said he was drunk and pleaded that as to having a pair of pistols he did not have even one. He got $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Other City Court Cases.

Allen Gains, a negro, was given a week in which to make some provision for his children that the court gave him custody of when he got a divorce. His former wife, since remarried, filed the affidavit.

Dan Clemens of the Alt Heidelberg, and Harry A. Wiebke, of the Hof Brau, paid $10 and costs each on charges of making illegal sales. The violations were committed the night of May 30, Decoration day.

Charles Gephart, who conducts a saloon near the Allen county orphans' home, was charged with selling liquor to minors and his case was continued to June 16.

Emmet Barber, a Turk who runs a barber shop on Holman street, was arrested on a charge of Sabbath desecration in having operated his place of business last Sunday. The case was continued a week, Barber furnishing a bond of $25.

John O'Donald and Tom Hogan, a pair of plain drunks, were turned loose.

On motion of the prosecuting attorney the case against Walter Romonofski, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed. The man has been declared insane.

POLICE NOTES.

Detective Sergeants M. A. Rundell and Joseph Brennan on Monday arrested William Hatwood and William Burton at the request of Sheriff D. C. Card, of Coldwater, Mich., and accompanied that officer to the Southern Michigan city with the men Monday evening. The arrested pair are negroes and are wanted in Coldwater for grand larceny.

A negro tramp named William Harper was taken to the police headquarters and attended by Police Surgeon J. Frank Dinnen after the man had traveled from Kendallville by freight with a badly mangled foot that had been run over by a car wheel in Kendallville.

GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE.

Detroit, June 9.—Edwin Von Walden, 20 years old, son of parents who are said to be well known socially in their home city, Cincinnati, was sentenced to five to ten years' imprisonment in the reformatory for holding up a night clerk in a local downtown hotel last March. The robber secured $300. Attorneys for Von Walden based their defense upon the insanity theory.

TIME NEVER DIMS WONDROUS CHARM

COL. HARVEY TALKS

Holding forth a promise of elephants upon which to ride, popcorn to chew and the other attractions which time never dims, the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined, the largest circus organization in the world, will arrive in Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16. Three rings, two stages and a mile hippodrome track are included in the great outfit, and there will be something doing every minute, according to a representative of the show here yesterday.

"There is probably no social subject upon which there is such a general misconception as the domestic life of the people of the circus," said Col. R. M. Harvey, advance manager of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows. "The opinion of the general public is that the followers of the 'white tops' are merely nomads, little, if any, more ambitious to have a habitation and name than are gypsies.

"Circus women, with the exception of those who are engaged during the winter performing in theaters, are never to be found in the big cities. They make their homes almost invariably in the smaller towns or upon the farm. Those who find it necessary to keep in practice during the winter, fit up a room in their home or a space in their barn for that purpose. The remainder of the time they devote to the ordinary pursuits of the housewife.

"They have their small circle of friends who know them and appreciate their value as hard-working, good-tempered women of exceptionally generous and charitable dispositions. They are, as a class, most moral women. Their calling necessitates the hardest of work and perfect physical condition, and it is safe to assert that the majority of them are consistent Christian women. They realize the hazardous character of their employment and they appreciate the fact that their sisters sometimes meet with an accident that takes them before their Maker in the twinkling of an eye, and as a class they keep themselves prepared as best they may to meet the same fate.

"More than 90 per cent. of the circus women today are born in the business. Of the remaining 10 per cent., 9 marry into it and the one who is not born in it or married into it serves to make the exception to prove the rule. A great circus organization lake the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows seldom if ever will consent to employ a woman who is not married, unless she is accompanied by some male relative.

"Most circus families are small. Training with the children begins at birth. Some become contortionists and later acrobats, gymnasts, equilibrists, etc. Ninety-eight per cent. of the clowns are skilled acrobats and tumblers. Many in earlier years were contortionists.

"Most circus performers are very absteminous. Few use tobacco, and it may be said that less than one-tenth of one per cent. drink alcoholic beverages. The feats of strength and skill they perform come from a sound and healthy body and they know full well the laws of nature.

"Strange as it may seem, clowns are among the highest paid circus performers. The smallest salary paid to a clown with our show is $20 per week, which, of course, includes board and transportation. There are more than half a dozen that get $100 per week and one who draws $400. Clown novelties are difficult to get. The funmakers tell us that a funny face will not always get a laugh; they must do the unusual thing.

"In the past dozen years a great many college graduates have drifted into the official rank of the circus. Some of these are bookkeepers, stenographers and lawyers. As a rule, they develop into sound business men. But no one can ever make a success of the circus calling unless he loves the life and hardships that accompany the "white tops.'"

COL. BAIN PRAISES MRS. WALTZ.

Col. George W. Bain, lecturer, known from coast to coast, attended a program given by Mrs. Waltz. He afterwards said: "It was my pleasure to attend an entertainment given by Mrs. Waltz. She is talented, refined and womanly. She greatly pleased the large audience and richly merited the generous applause she received." Mrs. Waltz will be heard at Bethany Presbyterian church Friday night in a popular program.

NOTICE TO ROAD CONTRACTORS.

State of Indiana, Allen county, ss.:
Notice is hereby given that the board of commissioners of said county will receive sealed proposals for the improvement of a certain highway in said county by grading, draining and paving with stone as set out in the specifications, plans and profile now on file in the office of the auditor of said county, by and under the laws of the state of Indiana. Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 1st day of July, 1914.
Bids on proposals will be received up to 10 o'clock A. M. on said date.
The said road to be improved is located in Springfield township, in Allen county, Indiana, and is to be known as the Springfield No. 3 road when so improved.
Bids will be for the completion of the said improvement in accordance with the plans, profile and specifications in the office of the auditor of said county, and shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.
Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in a sum equal to double the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by the board of commissioners of said county. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work; the sureties, if personal, shall be resident freeholders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Allen county.
Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person, persons or corporation who shall suffer any loss or damage by reason of any such bidder failing or neglecting to enter into a contract to perform such work awarded by the said board of commissioners or to carry out the same in any particular or to pay for any labor or material which may have been furnished to any such contractor or contractors or to any sub-contractor, agent or superintendent under him, in the construction of said work.
Said improvement will be let as a whole to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit such proposal or bid will be rejected by the board; and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by said board of commissioners and successful bidder.
Given by order of the Board of Commissioners of said County.
CALVIN H. BROWN,
5-9-16-23 Auditor Allen County.

INDIANA WOMEN PLAY POLITICS

Lay Plans to Elect Mrs. Clarke to Presidency Two Years Hence.

Chicago, June 9.—The equal suffrage element of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which meets in biennial session here tomorrow night, today claimed victory in a preliminary skirmish. The achievement took place in the secret meeting of the council yesterday.

A majority of those present expressed themselves in favor of allowing women suffrage organizations to have representation in the convention on equality with non-political clubs.

The council is said to have indicated yesterday that it would favor the admittance of delegates from state equal suffrage organizations.

Every train today brought delegations and the headquarters was busy with innumerable details connected with their welfare.

Indiana Plays Politics.

Delegates from Indiana have a candidate for the presidency of the federation in 1916 in the person of Grace Julian Clarke, of Indianapolis. It is assumed that custom will be followed in the reelection of Mrs. Percival Pennybacker, of Texas, but the Indiana women are prepared to play astute preliminary politics for their candidate two years hence.

REDUCED TO SYSTEM

Pittsburg June 9.—Stringent orders from the police of East Pittsburg today reduced picketing at the Westinghouse plants where approximately ten thousand workers are on strike, to a system. Only twenty five strikers were allowed on the bridge leading to the main gate of the electric plant among them five woman.

They were allowed to question persons entering the plant, but they did it politely, knowing that insolence would result in the immediate withdrawal of all pickets. Around the factories, in the streets and on the hills overlooking the works hundreds of strikers congregated closely watching every move of the company's watchmen.

Rumors that strike breakers were to be imported, although denied by the company, are not accepted by the strikers, who refuse to believe the strike has settled down to a test of endurance. Efforts to settle the trouble by the merchants of the Turtle Creek valley were continued, but even some of the leaders were not optimistic as the strikers declared that the first consideration must be the recognition of the Allegheny Industrial union by the company.

NOTED DIVA GETS DEGREE

AGREEMENT PUTS AN END TO CASE

Chicago, June 9.—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink was today granted a divorce from her husband, Wm. Rapp, Jr., whose ardent epistles to Mrs. Catherine Dean, of New York, were the sensation of the suit.

The victory for the famous contralto came when Superior Judge Sullivan instructed the jury which has heard the case to return a verdict in favor of the complainant. The divorce hearing was marked principally by the emotional letters written by Rapp to Mrs. Catherine Dean, of New York and the repeated intimations that the defense would prove allegations which would offset the conduct charged against her husband.

No attempt was made to contradict the authenticity of the letters credited to Rapp and the evidence of the defense failed to show moral obliquity on the part of the opera singer.

Mme. Schumann-Heink showed her joy at the verdict and declared she would speedily journey to the Bayreuth Wagnerian festival, in which she is to take a leading part.

Indicated an Agreement.

Early statements by counsel indicated that the suit, which had attracted wide attention, would be ended before noon today.

"I am smiling for cause, but I can't say at this time what has been agreed upon," said Silas E. Mayer, counsel for

COMING AT RATE OF 2,900 A WEEK

26,291 ARE DEBARRED

Washington, June 9.—Immigrants arrived at American ports at the rate of more than 2,900 every week—during the first ten months of the fiscal year of 1914, and indications are that by June 30, when the fiscal year ends, the greatest number of immigrants ever admitted during any year will have been admitted.

Statistics of the immigration bureau for April and the ten months ending with April show 119,885 were admitted in April and the total for the ten months was 1,038,956. Should May and June arrivals equal the number admitted during those months in previous years the 1913 total would be approximately 1,351,000 immigrants.

The greatest number arriving in one year here was 1,285,349 in 1907. Immigrants from the south of Italy during the ten months numbered 220,123, while those from the north of Italy numbered 38,397. Hebrew immigrants were second in number, there having been 119,634 admitted. Polish were third with 105,574. Of other races there were: Germans, 66,073; English, 42,705; Russian, 40,083; Croatian and Slavonian, 33,396; Ruthenian, 32,076; Scandinavian, 29,546; Japanese, 7,432; Chinese, 2,012.

During the ten months 26,291 aliens were debarred for various reasons.

NEW HEAT RECORD IS SET FOR SEASON.

At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon the government thermometer on the Shoaff building registered a temperature of more than 90 degrees, a trifle hotter than Monday's temperature at the same hour, and it was predicted at that time by Forecaster W. S. Palmer that the highest temperature today would be in the neighborhood of 94 degrees, sometime during the afternoon. No rain is in sight, according to weather authorities, but a hope for relief is extended in the announcement that the weather is to become cooler Tuesday night or Wednesday.

HOPE TO GET VOTE TODAY

Reserve Board Selection is Likely to Come as a Surprise.

Washington, June 9.—With democratic leaders hopeful of final disposition of the Panama canal tolls exemption repeal bill before adjournment, the senate today continued its consideration of that measure.

All the parliamentary preliminaries had been completed and administration supporters expected to reach a vote on the bill.

They hoped to have the compromise amendment drawn by Senators Simmons and Norris voted upon this afternoon. Senator Smith, of Michigan, was expected to continue his speech in opposition to the bill.

Appointments Not Ready.

It was announced at the white house today that it probably would be several days before the president and the secretary of the treasury are ready to make known the names of the two additional members of the federal reserve board.

It now seems assured that E. C. Simmons, of St. Louis, will be one of the members, but the appointment of Charles S. Hamlin, assistant secretary of the treasury, who had been under consideration, does not now seem to be likely. It generally is believed that a man will be named who has not yet been suggested publicly in connection with the board.

LINER EXPECTS TO LAND CARGO

NO ORDER AGAINST IT

New York, June 9.—The Ward liner, Antilla, laden with a cargo of ammunition for the Mexican constitutionalists, will land and discharge her cargo tomorrow without interference, according to the opinion expressed today by A. G. Smith, vice president and general manager of the Ward line company.

Mr. Smith's statement is in flat contradiction of Washington dispatches and other reports that the Washington administration had prevailed upon the line's officers to stop voluntarily the discharge of the ammunition. Mr. Smith said he had received no instructions from Washington whatsoever and that there had been no attempt to influence him in regard to the landing of the Antilla.

"The ship was properly cleared from this port and there has been no attempt at concealment of the nature of our cargo," he said, "and there is no reason at present why the Antilla should not land at Tampico.

"Of course, we shall hold ourselves in readiness to obey instructions from Washington, but unless there are new developments between today and tomorrow nothing will prevent the discharge of the Antilla's cargo."

MOTHER GOT SON TO MAUL FATHER

NEWS OF THE COURTS

That his wife had set their children against him, persuading them to disregard his orders and finally enticed the oldest boy to strike and beat him on one occasion last year and urged the lad on "to give him some more," is one of the charges set down in the divorce complaint that Adolph Fabian has filed in the superior court against Gerhadine Fabian. The plaintiff says they were married in May, 1894, separated June 8, 1914, and that for years his wife has been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of him, nagging him because he did not make more money and calling him vile names. He recites in his complaint that both his wife and children "picked on him" and told him they wished he would go away. There are six children, ranging in age from twins aged 10 to a young man of 19. The plaintiff sets out that he and his wife jointly own real estate worth $4,000, personal property worth $200 and have debts aggregating $1,950. He says he will abide by any order the court may make as to the disposition of the children.

Sues Ohio Electric for $10,000.

Robert B. Barger has filed suit in the circuit court against the Ohio Electric Railway company for $10,000 for personal injuries sustained by him one day last month when he was struck by a car on the defendant's line and badly hurt. The complaint says the plaintiff was riding on his motorcycle south on a road that crosses the railway track a mile west of New Haven and that as he approached the tracks he slowed down his machine and then stopped and listened. could hear no car and mounted his machine and proceeded to cross the track. As he did so a car from the east and alleged to be running at sixty miles an hour struck him and threw him sixty feet, breaking his right arm, tearing loose and fracturing several ribs and otherwise severely injuring him. The complaint says the plaintiff's view of the track was obstructed by a house, trees and shrubbery near the track.

Habeas Corpus Fight On.

The habeas corpus suit of Oliver Myers against the St. Vincent's Catholic Orphans' home for possession of his daughter, Cora May Myers, a fifteen year old girl, is in progress in the superior court before Judge Yaple. Myers charges that his daughter is being unlawfully detained and the defendant is undertaking to prove that Myers is unfit to have the custody of her, besides the fact that she was left there by him ten years ago to remain until of age. It is alleged that for six years he never visited his child or took the slightest manifest interest in her and never has contributed anything to her support or education. Myers resides near Pierceton, Ind.

Files Suit for Support.

In the superior court Minnie Merica has filed suit against Roy Merica, her husband, for support, charging desertion. The Pennsylvania railroad company for which Merica works is asked to answer as to his indebtedness and the court is petitioned to compel Merica to pay in money to support his wife. She says they were married August 8, 1913, and that he deserted her last January. Mrs. Merica alleges that her husband told her to come to this city, procure employment and to enjoy the privilege of running around with other men if they met his approval. All he asked, she says, was to know with whom she associated so that he might give her companions an o. k. mark.

Notes of the Courts.

Killed When He Attempted to Assist Woman Victim of Bullet.

Philadelphia, June 9.—Rabbi Lewis Erchansky, 38, was shot and instantly killed last night by Thomas Burns when the former attempted to assist Mrs. Fannie Eisenbaum, whom Burns had shot and probably fatally wounded. The shooting occurred in front of the rabbi's residence, near the center of the city.

When Rabbi Erschansky heard the shot that wounded Mrs. Eisenbaum he rushed out of his house to investigate and found the woman lying unconscious on the street. He was about to carry her to the sidewalk when he was himself shot by Burns who was hiding behind a tree. Burns later was captured but declined to give a reason for his act. He was infatuated with the wounded woman, the police say, and they believe she had spurned his attentions.

FOUR DIE IN AUTO WRECK.

Lodgemen Returning to Goldfield, Nev., in Fatal Accident.

Goldfield, Nev., June 9.—Four men of this city were killed early today in an automobile accident while returning from a lodge meeting at Tonapah. Dr. E. O. Wheeler, one of the best known physicians of Nevada, who was driving the car, turned out to avoid another machine, skirted the edge of an embankment too closely and plunged over. Dr. Wheeler and Daniel Falvey were pinned under the car and killed outright. Cyrus Rice and Herman Kruger died in a Goldfield hospital. One other passenger escaped with bruises.

MORE BABIES COME IN.

Work at Milk Depot Shows Encouraging Progress.

Two infants were brought to the free milk station at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday morning. One of the babies was six months of age and the other was but one month, and both of them were in urgent need of medical aid of some sort. The infant six months of age weighed only eleven pounds, and a modified milk diet was prescribed. More than sixty bottles of milk were sent out from the station Tuesday morning to mothers with infants that had already been prescribed for.

"This weather is the worst we could possibly endure at this season," said Rev. Henry B. Master, pastor of the church, who was the founder of the free milk station for babies. "There is more infantile suffering now about the city than at any time this year, and mothers with sickly babies should not hesitate about bringing them to us for advice."

One woman, residing in the extreme south side of the city, read in the newspapers what is being done for sick babies, and she trudged through the intense heat Tuesday morning to take her baby to the physicians at the milk station.

BUT SIX VETERANS RESPOND.

National Reunion of Mexican War Survivors Is Pathetic.

Chillicothe, O., June 9.—Of the thousands of soldiers who crossed the arid plains of Mexico with General Taylor and General Scott, hundreds of whom were from Ohio, only six were here today to attend the national reunion of survivors of the war with Mexico. For a time today it was a question whether any of the veterans would be on hand to be welcomed by the president of the National Association of Mexican War Veterans, Capt. John A. Fisher, a resident of Chillicothe. Captain Fisher is 90 years old and blind, and was unable to deliver a formal address. Practically all of those in attendance are from this immediate vicinity.

GOVERNMENT VOTES AID.

Canada Gives Financial Relief for Shipwreck Survivors.

Ottawa, Canada, June 9.—The Canadian government announced today that it would appropriate $50,000 for the relief of survivors and families of the victims of the Empress of Ireland disaster, and $10,000 to defray expenses of the inquiry into the sinking of the steamer, which resulted in the losss of more than 950 lives.

TO NAME CONVENTION DATE.

The executive committee of the Nickel Plate Employes' Veteran association will meet in Cleveland tomorrow to name the date for the 1914 meeting and banquet. It was practically settled some time ago that the meeting would be held in Erie.

Mrs. Edgar Pfeiffer, of Thomas street, will entertain the members of the East End Embroidery club Wednesday afternoon at her home.

Miss Grace C. Philley recently entertained her music pupils at a springtime picnic at Sweeney park. After a big dinner the children enjoyed a field meet and prizes were awarded to those winning the most points. The members of the class are: Gladys Tenney, Fanchon Alexander, Courtland Wilder, Ralph King, Celia Hartman, Lillian Smith, Dorothy Shulze, Helen and William More, Julia and Gracie Hamlett, Helen Rogers, Wilda Cline, Madelyn Wass, Beatrice McDevitt, George Gaylord, James Todd, Leo McDevitt, Paul McElroy, Williard Hale, Madelyn Rhodes, May Agnes Lehman, Helen Laurentz and Princess Rairburn.

should receive a thorough technical training. It is an international proverb that Russia has gained more by diplomacy than she has lost by war.

"The public is entitled to such a school, not only because America would be better represented abroad, but because the diplomatic and consular services would thus be thrown open on a competitive basis to all American citizens, as are the army and navy."

Mr. Guild insisted that, to make reforms in the diplomatic service effective, the service must be taken out of politics altogether and placed on a basis like that of the army and navy so that it would constitute a life career for first-class men. Salaries commensurate with the expenses of the positions carrying them and suitable quarters abroad were other demands of the speaker.

"Benjamin Franklin could not afford today to accept a diplomatic post abroad," he said. "It is understood only too well that only a rich man can afford to take a high diplomatic appointment."

a thorough trial and that there was no good reason existing for interference by the president. It was regarded as probable that the president would approve the findings of the attorney general.

Representatives Sabath and Gorman, of Illinois, and legal representatives of the convicted men, recently appealed to the president personally on behalf of the union officials and gave him a long petition urging their release. He promised at the time to take the matter under advisement and immediately directed that Pardon Attorney Finch make a complete review of the cases. The convicted men are now under instruction to surrender themselves either at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., or to the United States marshal at Indianapolis on June 25 to begin serving their sentences.

THE DEATHS.

SUNIER.

Mrs. Emile Sunier, aged 87 years, a pioneer resident of Wells county, died at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the residence of her son, A. E. Sunier, 1040 Rivermst avenue, after a prolonged illness from complications.

Mrs. Sunier was a member of the Reformed church at Vera Cruz, Ind., and lived in that neighborhood most of her life. She came to Fort Wayne with her son two years ago. Surviving she leaves one son, A. E. Sunier, of this city, the well known laundry man, and one daughter, Mrs. Christian Beers, of Bluffton.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence and the remains will be shipped to Bluffton for burial at Fairview cemetery.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Rockstroh.—Funeral services for Emil Rockstroh will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 2311 Pittsburg street, and at 2:30 o'clock from Concordia Lutheran church, Rev. August Lange officiating. Interment at Concordia cemetery.

Morris.—Funeral services for Loretta Margaret Morris will be held Friday moning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, 801 West Washington boulevard and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

Lehrman.—Funeral services for Anna E. Lehrman will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence on the Illinois road, Rev. C. O. Shirey officiating. Interment at Lindenwood.

WOMAN WOUNDED; MAN DEAD.

Mystery Surrounds Tragedy in New York City Hotel.

New York, June 9.—A woman who said she was Mrs. Florence Boden of Allentown, Pa., was overtaken by hotel attendants as she ran out of her hotel room early today bleeding from several wounds about the head. The same attendants, rushing back to her room, found a man dying from a bullet wound in the mouth. The man, said Mrs. Boden, was Vincent D. Steffano, of this city. He shot himself, she said, after beating her with the butt of a revolver which he had concealed in a sheet. The man died on the way to the hospital and Mrs. Boden was held pending a coroner's examination.

DAMAGE CASE IS OCCUPYING TIME

FIND A LARGE DOCKET

Before Judge A. B. Anderson, a session of the United States district court opened in Fort Wayne Tuesday morning, and practically all of the time of the first day's session was occupied by the damage case of Isabelle Pfleidner, administratrix of the estate of the late Chales P. Pfleidner, against the Pennsylvania company, for judgment in the amount of $10,000. Mr. Pfleidner was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad August 18, 1913, while operating a defective switch, according to the complaint filed in the federal court.

It was said late this afternoon that the jury would not get the case until evening. A number of exhibits was introduced by the defense, and among them was a duplicate of the coupling that is said to have been on the car that killed Pfleidner.

The Other Cases.

Among the other cases on the docket are the following:

A. N. Duhling against Frank M., and H. H. Owen; Mary J. Dinger against the Pennsylvania company, seeking $3,200; Mary E. Gerard against the Wabash company for $10,000 in judgment for the death of Anthony Gerard; C. H. Kirscofe, against the Wabash for $10,-; C. H. Middleton against the Grand Rapids and Indiana; Marion Donat against the Pennsylvania company for $10,000, and the case of Charles Sarber against the Wabash is to be continued later in the session.

NOTED DIVA GETS DECREE

Mme. Schumann-Heink after a conference late yesterday in the judge's chambers when the taking of testimony had ceased.

"I've got about as much chance as a celluloid dog chasing an asbestos cat through Gehenna," said Rapp after a colloquy with his attorney, former Judge Ben M. Smith.

"The case will be over by 11 o'clock," said Smith. "I suppose there will be no arguments. If the court instructs for the complainant that will be all there is to it."

Questioning of witnesses for Rapp yesterday developed nothing colorful. The only feature of the case has been the reading of many love letters from Rapp to Mrs. Catherine Dean, named by Mme. Schumann-Heink as the co-respondent. Testimony ended yesterday when Mayer moved that the case be taken from the jury. The conference in Judge Sullivan's chambers followed.

RUSHING OUT BINDER TWINE.

Prison Plant at Michigan City Working Day and Night.

Michigan City, Ind., June 9.—In order to meet a big demand for binder twine, E. J. Fogarty, warden, is now keeping the binder plant at the state prison in operation day and night. The innovation was started last night and this is the first time in the history of the prison that any manufacturing plant at the institution has been operated at night.

The prison officials picked out 100 of the most reliable men in the prison for the night shift and they worked from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. The same number of men operate the plant during the day. With two shifts, the plant turns out twenty thousand pounds of twine every 24 hours.

LAD RESCUES SISTER.

Little One Gripped Pipe and Clung After Fall Into Cistern.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 9.—When his two-year-old sister fell into a well half full of water this morning and clung to a pump pipe for dear life, Otto Shasser, 14 years old, slid down the pipe, seized the child and held her until a rope was lowered, when both were pulled to the top. The child's head was barely above the water but it held tightly to the pipe. It was unhurt except for several bruises.

LOCAL FAVORITE IS COMING BACK

HAS CABARET SHOW

Central and Hudson river and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway companies to combine the Ohio public utilities commission today dismissed the application on the ground that it had no jurisdiction to investigate whether the merger would affect monopolization of lines running through Ohio from Buffalo to Chicago.

The proposed merger involved an issue of securities aggregating $300,000,000. In announcing the decision Chairman Oliver H. Hughes, of the utilities commission, explained that the Ohio law does not confer authority on the commission to determine when competition is eliminated by combination of railroads although it gives this power in other utilities.

Similar petitions have been filed with public service commissions of New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Illinois. Albert Harris, vice president of the New York Central, and F. J. Jerome, general counsel for the Lake Shore, declared after the decision was announced today, it will not affect materially the status of the proposed merger action. They will press their applications in other states.

Objection to the proposed merger was filed with the commission yesterday on the ground that it would violate anti-trust laws.

HOPE TO GET VOTE TODAY

But Thirty Cases Remain.

Only thirty opinions stand between the supreme court and the record of completing all the business taken under consideration during a year. It is believed the court will be able to prepare these opinions during the coming week and be ready to hand them down next Monday. These thirty cases include the inter-mountain rate case, the grandfather clause cases, the validity of the oil pipe line legislation and two big western oil land cases.

In recent years, at least, the court never has been able to decide all the cases argued before adjourning for the summer. Last year twenty-six cases were left undecided. The absence of Justice Lamar as American delegate to the Mexican mediation conference threatened for a time to defeat the task of deciding all cases argued this year.

conversations the points of disagreement would be adjusted. It was generally predicted that the peace plan would be practically agreed upon by the Mexican and the American delegates by the end of the week.

Submit Counter Proposals.

The mediators today submitted to the Mexican delegates the counter proposals of the American government for the pacification of Mexico. The American plan is with few modifications the same as that which the mediators and Mexican delegates recently agreed upon and which Gen. Huerta approved.

It provides the method of transferring the executive power in Mexico City from the present regime to a new provisional government which shall in a few months conduct elections for president, vice president and members of congress.

No names have been agreed upon by the Mexican or American delegates for the new provisional president or his cabinet. In fact neither side has yet made its nominations.

Program of Proceedings.

Within a day or two the Mexican plan and the American plan will have been dovetailed into one and a full conference of all parties will be called.

Final approval is not expected immediately from either party, however, as the mediators then will ask the American delegates to begin to ascertain the attitude of the constitutionalists. This may proceed through the Washington government or in any manner the delegates choose. The mediators will take a brief recess in the meantime.

Should there be any new suggestions from the constitutionalists the United States will endeavor to arrive at a compromise with them. When an agreement is reached the results will again be placed before the mediation board and the Huerta delegates. The expectation is that if the constitutionalists are willing to discuss the peace plan with the American government an agreement can be reached in a short time as the program already makes provision for liberal participation by the constitutionalists in the new provisional government.

Correspondence Near End.

The correspondence between the mediators and the constitutionalists is expected to be brought to an end in another day or two. The mediators are insistent on their original terms—declaration of an armistice and broadening the discussion from international to internal questions. The constitutionalists are willing to meet the mediators on a satisfactory basis as to the latter point, but they are absolutely determined against declaring any armistice.

It was announced by the mediating plenipotentiaries last night that they would make public today their correspondence with the constitutionalists, but word was received today through the American delegates that General Carranza's answer to their latest note already had been dispatched to Washington and would be forwarded by Rafael Zubaran. It was desired, therefore, to withhold publication for the present. The final communication from the mediators in reply to the note brought here by Juan F. Urquidi referred to a paragraph saying that the differences between the United States and Mexico "ought not to be resolved without constitutionalists being represented."

The mediators asked if this meant that Gen. Carranza was willing to enter the negotiations on the original terms, and if so, said that delegates should be sent here at once.

No answer from the constitutionalists which does not declare for an immediate armistice will permit them to enter the negotiations.

Have Taken Firm Stand.

The mediators have taken a firm stand on this point and whatever communication on the subject Mr. Zubaran may send now, as a result of his telegraphic conferences with Gen. Carranza, will not alter the program outlined by the mediators unless an armistice is declared.

The constitutionalists have argued that to declare an armistice without knowing in advance the terms of the peace plan is like buying an article of apparel without knowing if it will fit. They maintain that their large military organization cannot be disrupted for a short period and held at rest without considerable danger of military chiefs losing control of their restless troops.

Another factor is that all the military chiefs and leaders, over a year ago, signed a pact, known as the plan of Guadaloupe, which provides specifically that the constitutionalists shall take possession of Mexico City by force of arms and establish a provisional presidency. To effect a change in that plan harmoniously, another conference of chiefs might be necessary and this could not be had, the constitutionalists say, unless there was framed in advance a peace plan likely to be satisfactory to all. They think changes in the plan of Guadaloupe could be made and the revolution settled by diplomatic means, but they are unwilling to run the risk of an armistice without having first discussed the peace proposals among themselves.

Compromise in Sight.

With this view, the American government is more or less in sympathy, and a compromise arrangement is believed to be in sight whereby the peace plan will be taken up with the constitutionalists in channels separate from the mediation. As a result no protocol can be signed in the next fortnight, it is believed, and probably there will be a lull in the conferences. Everything that has been advanced by the American delegates in their proposals for peace has been contingent upon ultimate constitutionalist approval, so that there is a confidence in many quarters that agreement with the constitutionalists will not be a difficult task, even if they do not join in the conferences.

The constitutionalists undoubtedly will have a voice in the selection of the man to be provisional president and at least two of their number would occupy the principal portfolios of the new cabinet.

Peace Plan Very Brief.

The land and educational questions are simply declarations of principles on which reforms later may be undertaken and do not commit the new government to any definite program. It is said the entire peace plan is explained in less than 300 words. It sets forth suggestion for the conduct of a fair election and recommends that recognition be accorded the new provisional government, provided it is set up along the lines agreed upon. The mediators were confident today of reconciling the counter proposals of the American delegates with those of the Mexicans.

The Antilla incident is not entirely closed, but it has passed the danger stage and cannot disrupt the proceedings.

An intimation that the United States would not demand reparation for the losses sustained at Vera Cruz, or expect to be recouped for the enormous expenditures already made in an attempt to pacify Mexico, was given to the Mexican delegates soon after the conferences opened. This made it easy for the opposing delegates to meet harmoniously. It was responsible largely for the ease with which a general understanding was reached between them and it lent consistency to the American demand that consideration be given to the constitutionalist cause. The submission yesterday of the American plan, accompanied by verbal statements from the delegates from the United States, removed all doubt that this country was not disposed to make any unnecessary drain upon Mexico's already depleted finances.

BRYAN MUCH ENCOURAGED.

Order Is Given to Hold Up Ammunition at Galveston.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary of State Bryan, after a conference with President Wilson on the situation before the regular cabinet meeting, today announced that both he and the president were very hopeful that the constitutionalists would participate in the mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls. The secretary of state left for New Jersey after making this statement, but it was apparent that he was much encouraged over the present prospect for success of the mediation conference.

At the cabinet meeting the question of ammunition reaching the constitutionalists from the United States was the chief subject of discussion and Secretary of Commerce Redfield was directed to hold up at Galveston the cargo of arms consigned to Carranza agents which is enroute to the Texas port on the Morgan liner El Sudo. As Secretary Redfield left the white house he said he would at once notify customs officers at Galveston to hold the ammunition there. The president and cabinet learned from the collector of customs at Baltimore that the Hamburg-American liner Arcadia was loading there $10,000 worth of ammunition consigned to Hamburg. The collector reported that he believed the consignment notice was a subterfuge and that the ammunition actually was destined for Mexico. Secretary Redfield said this government could do nothing if the ship actually cleared for Hamburg.

As to the Antilla there was considerable discussion in the cabinet and it was declared no instructions were sent relating to permitting her to land her cargo of ammunition at Tampico. Secretary Daniels said that no new instructions had been sent to Admiral Badger.

Woman's suffrage was the leading topic in informal discussions today, as thousands of club women continued to pour into this city.

Some excitement was caused in the suffrage wing late last night by a rumor that the official board of the federation had endorsed a suffrage resolution at an executive session. The rumor was promptly denied, but that did not stop its discussion by suffrage leaders, who insisted that the assemblage of women would be unable to resist the pressure brought to bear by a large proportion of their number who are ardent devotes of the suffrage cause.

Prepared to Blossom Out.

More than 4,000 women arrived yesterday, according to federation transportation headquarters and six thousand are expected today. The delegates will be guests tonight at a concert and the formal business of the conference will begin tomorrow.

The question of dress was the question of some informal conferences among the delegates, who were busy unpacking their trunks today. It is understood that dark cloth suits or linen dresses of business-like cut will be worn during the hard working daily sessions, but that a notable blossoming forth will take place at the reception at the Art institute Thursday night.

In spite of resolutions against French styles, it is said that on that occasion some of the most striking gowns ever imported from Paris will be exhibited for the first time.

KOSCIUSKO FARMER DIES.

Warsaw, Ind., June 9.—Ira C. Leedy, one of the well known residents of Kosciusko county, is dead at his home, three and one-half miles northwest of Pierceton. Death was due to an internal cancer and followed an illness of about two years. Mr. Leedy was 54 years of age. He was born in this county and resided here throughout his life. He was a barber by trade and before his health failed worked in various shops in this city. At one time he lived in this city. He is survived by his wife and two children, Albert D. Leedy and Mrs. Nora Banghart, of near Pierceton.

FIRES AT HIS NEPHEW.

Portland, Ind., June 9.—Jacob Bonifas, aged 65, a resident of Wabash township, near New Corydon, this county, is in jail here to await a preliminary hearing on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He has been drinking heavily of late and it is believed his mind is affected. When his nephew, Augustus Bonifas, stopped at his house for a visit the aged man took a sudden dislike for his relative and, getting a loaded shotgun, opened fire on him. Augustus Bonifas took his wife and children and beat a hasty retreat. Later the old man was heard to be firing as rigs passed his house.

INSANE MAN FLAGS TRAIN.

Bluffton, Ind., June 9.—A demented man who gave his name as John Berry and his home as Rosedale, or Boston, Mass., flagged a Clover Leaf eastbound freight just east of Van Buren, and when the engine crew reached him after bringing the train to a hurried stop he inquired whether he might not ride. He was taken aboard and when the train arrived in Bluffton the man was turned over to Marshal Henry Fritz. Insanity proceedings were begun against him today.

MUST KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

Hartford City, June 9.—Persons who lounge on the court house lawn will be prosecuted unless they heed the "keep off the grass" signs. During the hot season the spacious lawn is an inviting place. The practice of some citizens in stretching out on the grass in the shade of the temple of justice, however, is to be stopped by Custodian J. B. Orndorff upon the order of the board of county commissioners, because the trampling of the lawn impairs its beauty and makes the work of keeping it up difficult.

KENDALLVILLE HOME DESTROYED.

Kendallville, Ind., June 9.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the house of Mrs. William Saxon, which is occupied by her son, Cook Saxon and family, located at the corner of Garden and Lisle streets. The blaze was discovered shortly before 3 o'clock a. m. by an early morning fisherman and although the fire department responded immediately and made a fine run to the fire, the flames had made such headway that the frame structure was burned to the ground.

VETERAN OF WAR PASSES.

Kendallville, Ind., June 9.—J. H. Fisher, veteran building mover, died at his home, following a lingering illness, at the age of 78 years and 4 months. Mr. Fisher had been a resident of this city for a number of years and engaged extensively in moving buildings. He was born in Ohio and was a veteran of the civil war. Surviving besides a widow are two daughters, Mrs. O. O. Russell, of Latta, Ohio, and Mrs. W. G. Tidd, of this city.

FOUL BALL KNOCKS OUT ROOTER.

Huntington, Ind., June 9.—Jacob White, aged 28, an Andrews rooter, was struck by a foul ball while witnessing a game between his home team and a nine from Huntington and rendered unconscious for two hours. He was carried to a surgeon's office, where it required much work to restore him to consciousness. Nine stitches were necessary to close the cut made in his scalp by the terrific impact of the ball.

WIFE IS SLEUTH; CATCHES HIM.

Elkhart, Ind., June 9.—Dr. J. C. Hill's wife watched his office in this city last night and saw Mrs. Lillie Reams go there to spend the evening with the doctor. The police were called and both parties arrested. They are each under $100 bond for violation of moral laws. Mrs. Hill will sue for divorce.

GARRETT COUPLE ELOPE.

Hillsdale, Mich., June 9.—James A. Kircher and Miss Catherine Sweeney, both of Garrett, Ind., came here and were married at the court house by Justice C. M. Weaver.

Whitley County News.

Columbia City, Ind., June 9.—Eighteen children took their first communion at the Catholic church Sunday morning at high mass, Father John F. Kohl having charge of the ceremonies. In the afternoon the young people were invested in the scapular. Those taking the sacrament were Francis Bauer, Harry Gallagher, Catherine Raupfer, Constance Schmitz, Rosella Shilts, Charlotte McKenzie, Hilda McLaughlin, Clara Kraemer, Thomas Evanson, John Shilts, Marcella Evanson, George Bauer, Kathleen Cullen and Leona Schmidt.

TO HAVE PERFECT SKIN THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER.

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theater or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

To Banish All Signs of Superfluous Hair

Special Correspondence.

It has been said that superfluous hair cannot be permanently removed except by the painful electric needle, but a newly discovered medical treatment has been devised that seems to have the effect of creeping down the hair to the root just as oil creeps along a lamp wick. This new treatment, called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder, is justly credited with never failing to remove all traces of humiliating hair growths wherever applied. It is extremely effective even in the longest standing cases and cannot in the slightest injure the skin or complexion.

Mrs. Osgood's Wonder can be obtained locally at Meyer Bros. Co. or other drug and department stores on a signed Money-Back guarantee found in every package. Its use costs nothing if it fails.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 8:1-13.

1 And Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judaea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them; and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one;

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also; and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

The Dickering on Repeal

The attitude of the senate regarding the repeal of the canal tolls exemption for American ships recently urged by President Wilson is one at which the country will be forced to smile. The upper house of congress realizes that the repeal must come, but it cannot resist its predilection for dickering, and the Norris amendment proposed as a compromise solemnly sets forth in effect that while we are going to put all shipping through the canal on an equality as to tolls, we do not waive the right to discriminate in favor of our own shipping if we cared to do so. To the ordinary observer this is the most recent illuminating instance of a distinction without a difference that has developed in a law-making realm that is rather prone to such things.

The presidential view of the situation is that while this is not exactly the "ungrudging measure" of assent which he pleaded with congress to give to the repeal movement, it answers all practical purposes, and he does not think it worth quibbling over. It is repeal, and repeal is what the president is asking. If the senate can extract any saving grace from its proposed amendment, well and good. It does not change the general effect. It is quite plain that the senate leaders did not consult Mr. Wilson before agreeing to this sort of compromise, yet much as he is given to having his way about legislation for which his administration will be held accountable, President Wilson is not disposed to haggle over a quibble of this sort.

Manifestly the purpose of the compromisers is political. A good many of them must go before the country for re-election by popular vote this year, and they undoubtedly figure out that the reservation will take some of the edge from the criticism that is expected from those who are anxious to subsidize American shipping to the extent of free tolls. That it will have absolutely no effect in actual practice is quite beside the issue. It sets their disturbed souls at ease, and it provides the repeal the president asked. If everybody is now satisfied, let the measure come to a vote in the senate.

Hon. Newton W. Gilbert is in Washington by invitation of Secretary of War Garrison, who desires to consult with the Fort Wayne man regarding affairs in the Philippines. Mr. Gilbert's official service of something like eight years in the islands has equipped him as few men are equipped to speak of them and to counsel as to the wisest course in dealing with them. The secretary of war is acting wisely in seeking information instead of mere theory in dealing with the peculiar problem of the Philippines.

One member of the New York county progressive committee is devoting all his energies these days to an effort to throw George W. Perkins out of the party, insisting that he cannot longer consent to stand at Armageddon financed by the steel and the harvester trusts. The way of the political patriot is often rocky—but it should not be forgotten that Mr. Perkins is a handy and willing sort of individual to have about when campaign funds are needed.

Forecasts by the department of agriculture indicate that the United States is this year going to produce the largest crop of wheat in its history—exceeding by 137,000,000 bushels the best previous yield. And it is going to be extremely difficult for a lot of worried folk to understand how anything of that sort should come to pass without the benificent influences of a high protective tariff in this country.

It certainly must be admitted that General Huerta possesses consummate skill in determining just how violently he may rock the boat without causing it to absolutely overturn.

PAYING FOR THE WORK.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

There seems to be fair prospect of the passage of a bill to provide satisfactory and just compensation to the railroads for carrying the mails. Railroad spokesmen have complained bitterly that their interest was compelled to carry a large expansion of mail matter produced by the introduction of parcel post business, without any increase in payment. So far as that particular subject was concerned, the complaint was well founded. The railroads are entitled to fair payment for the work they do. If there is a material increase of work there should be a corresponding increase of pay, with adjustment, if any parts of the service are found in which the pay is excessive.

A joint committee of congress has been studying the subject and its bill which has been agreed upon bids fair to make a just settlement. If this bill becomes a law payment is to be made on the basis of space instead of weight. Formerly the mails were officially weighed but once in four years, and the railroads got no allowance for expansion in the weight. Now rates will be regulated as are express rates with terminal and siding charges and a standard mail car provided. Of course the wisdom of these changes must be most effectively tested by experience. But it seems probable that the change will permit a fair but not excessive allowance for this important service.

It sounds a little paradoxical when it is said that while justice is done to the railroads the government will save $2,000,000 a year. This is explained by the assertion that "some railroads were not receiving enough money for the mail service they were giving, others were receiving by far too much. This matter is adjusted so that the railroads that have been receiving too little will be compensated from those that have been receiving too much." There may be doubt whether the excessive charges are large enough to overbalance the cases in which the growth of the business made the payments inadequate and $2,000,000 besides. But that is a minor matter beside the importance of paying a just price for the service rendered and making the parcel post rates pay for the work done.

PRESS ON VISIT OF SIR CONAN DOYLE.

Must Have New Novels.

Wheeling Intelligencer: "From the way he has been 'jollying' New York, Sir Conan Doyle must have a new novel in press."

Ocean Between.

Birmingham Age-Herald. "Having just put the Atlantic ocean between himself and militant English suffragettes, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle predicts that if they don't behave themselves they are apt to be lynched."

In This Country.

Wilmington Every Evening: "It is hoped Sir Conan Doyle's stay in this country will be pleasing in every respect. Certainly his thousands of admirers would make it such if they could have the opportunity."

Sherlock Holmes.

Boston Herald: "Conan Doyle says he York. And the "men higher up" are be-York. And the "men higher up' are beginning to shiver."

Sing Sing Prison.

The Suffragettes.

Houston Post: "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle upon his arrival in New York declared that England has stood about all it can from the militant suffragettes and that he anticipated a wholesale lynching bee.' It really looks like things are tending in that direction."

English Prisons.

Buffalo Courier: "Sherlock Holmes, meaning Conan Doyle, has visited Sing Sing and says the prison should be burned down, as it is a hundred years behind the times. Much less than a hundred years ago English prisons doubtless were worse, however."

The Militants.

St. Louis Republic: "New York's 92 degrees of May heat must have gone to Sir Conan Doyle's head. He landed in Manhattan announcing that England had stood about all it could from the militants and predicted 'a wholesale lynching bee.'"

Grass Stimulant for Lawns in Late Spring.

In the late spring, about a month after active grass growth has commenced on the lawn, it is desirable to apply a grass stimulant to keep the lawn in first-class condition. Nitrate of soda is a good fertilizer and will make the grass grow thickly with a rich dark green color that will show itself promptly after the application. The landscape gardener of the United States department of agriculture advises that those who use nitrate of soda should apply it at the rate of fifty pounds per acre once a month throughout the summer, beginning about the middle of May in the latitude of Washington, D. C.

The nitrate of soda should be applied just before a rain or a sprinkling with the hose. Under ordinary conditions it will keep the lawn a vivid green during the period when the vitality of the plant is low. The application of this fertilizer combined with careful watering (described in a previous article) will prevent the parched appearance of the lawn during the dry hot summer season.

Care in Using Fertilizer During Drought.

When nitrate is applied during any dry period it should be used carefully. It can, however, be applied at any time if the nitrate of soda is powdered up fine before using, but it is safest to dissolve it in water. Because of a generally prevailing fear that this fertilizer may ruin a lawn if used carelessly, the department has been experimenting to see just how much nitrate of soda would have to be used in order to kill grass. These experiments seem to show that nitrate of soda can be used fairly extensively without causing injury, for attempts to kill grass with it were unsuccessful except when such large quantities as 400 pounds to an acre were used.

Although fertilization is a splendid thing for the upkeep of a lawn, it will never entirely make up for a lawn soil that was poorly prepared in the beginning. It is only when a lawn soil is properly prepared in the first place and enriched with stable manure, lime and bone phosphate that a lawn may be maintained in the best condition.

Unrotted Manure May Menace Good Lawns.

Unrotted stable manure should be kept away from a lawn at all times, the opinion of many to the contrary notwithstanding. Stable manure contains weed seeds and particularly after the early growth of grass these weed seeds will be encouraged to sprout, for at this time the grass is weakened by its spring growth and the weeds have additional impetus to spread. A weed has been defined as a "plant out of place." Weeds are certainly out of place on a well-kept lawn. Fertilizing materials have a great advantage over stable manure, as they contain no weed seeds.

There are other fertilizers beside nitrate of soda that are most valuable for the lawn, but their use is more especially adapted to the fall. Later the department will issue advice regarding the application of such materials as ground bone, phosphate rock, potash, dried blood, fish scrap and sterilized sheep manure. The dissolved rock in particular should not be used in the spring.

W. C. T. U. Distributed Many Bouquets to the Sick of City.

IS AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

The annual flower mission day of the Women's Christian Temperance union, of this city, was observed Monday in a very fitting manner. Hundreds of bouquets of beautiful flowers were distributed to the sick and shut-ins of the city. The work was started Monday evening when 100 bouquets were presented to the sick in the various sections of the city. The Crystal union distributed 26 bouquets, the Lillian Stevens, 24; the Francis Williard, 29, and the South Wayne, 20.

The work continued all morning and will continue during the remainder of the week, as word has been received from various outside towns in the county that flowers are on the way. Those who are doing the work of distributing are the following: Mesdames J. Welty, M. Etts, Drake, D. Thompson, Miller, Swazee, Gilliam, Menefee, Houck, Boltin, Heist. A text card accompanies each bouquet.

During the year up to date the union has given away to the sick, invalids, officials of benevolent institutions, newsboys and other places over 3,500 bouquets, which is a sample of the splendid work they are accomplishing. The newsboys of the city will also be given a bouquet some time during the week, according to a statement made by officials.

This flower mission day is an annual, as well as a national affair and is observed by the request of Jennie Cassaday, whose birthday occurs on June 9. The flower mission of every union scattered throughout the country seek to give to the day some special significance. A ray of hope to some disheartened person, a helping hand to some worthy one or a little flower in some darkened room.

TELEGRAPH EVANGELIST.

At a called meeting of the Ministerial association held Monday afternoon at the Grace Reformed church, the members of the association voted to send a telegram to Evangelist "Bob" Jones, asking him for an open date some time this fall. The evangelist is now conducting meetings at Montgomery, Alabama, and it is understood by the pastors here that he has an open date some time in October.

If Rev. Jones accepts this invitation to conduct union revival meetings here a tabernacle will be erected unless other arrangements are made this summer. The committee on evangelism also reported that other evangelists were in the field for Fort Wayne but that no satisfactory dates could be arranged with them.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The I. O. O. F. Lodge Will Attend Services at First Baptist Sunday Afternoon.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows lodges will attend memorial services at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This is an annual event and it is expected that an exceedingly large crowd will attend this year.

Members will meet at the lodge rooms at 1:30 p. m. and will march to the church in a body. Rev. C. H. Snashall, pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon, which will be one appropriate for the occasion. All sojourning brothers of the order are invited to meet with them.

MINISTERS RETURN.

Two Local Pastors Elected to Office at Meeting of Zion's Classis.

The Reformed ministers who attended the annual meeting of the Zion's classis of the Reformed churches held at Garrett have returned, and announced that two pastors of Fort Wayne were honored in the election of officers. Rev. J. H. Bosch, pastor of the St. John Reformed, was elected president for the ensuing year; Rev. F. W. Knatz, of the Salem Reformed church, will serve as corresponding secretary; Rev. Otto Scherry, of Garrett, was elected vice president, and Rev. L. C. Hessert, of Decatur, retains the office of stated clerk.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of this classis at Berne, Ind., on the first Thursday following Pentecost in 1915. It was also announced that the southwest synod, which is a new branch of the northwestern synod of the Reformed churches, and to which the Zion's classis belongs, will meet in Louisville, Ky., this year.

American Salvation Army Delegates Visit London Embassy.

London, June 9.—The 700 American delegates to the world's congress of the Salvation Army, with Miss Eva Booth at their head, marched this morning from the army headquarters in the city of London to the American embassy in Victoria street, where they were reviewed by Ambassador Walter Hines Page. The delegates made a splendid appearance with their neat uniforms and big red coats and hats. They received a great ovation from the public as they passed through the crowded streets waiving their American flags. As the column came in sight of the embassy its three bands struck up the "Star Spangled Banner." Ambassador Page afterward received Miss Eva Booth and the leading officers of the delegation. The congress opens tomorrow.

WOMAN GOES BACK TO PRISON.

Annie Alexander Has Spent 26 of Her 36 Years in Restraint.

Pittsburg, June 9.—Annie Alexander, who has spent twenty-six of her thirty-six years in restraint, was today sentenced to the western penitentiary for robbing a jewelry store. The police say her prison record includes two terms at Morganza, the first imposed when she was only ten years old; two in Auburn penitentiary and three in the western penitentiary. In each instance she was committed for larceny.

SURGERY SOLE HOPE

New York, June 9.—Cancer as a factor with which the American people must deal is taken up comprehensively in a pamphlet issued by the department of health in this city, with the aid of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The society believes that the time has now for a nation-wide attack on the disease such as was undertaken against tuberculosis.

As a social and public health problem cancer is called second only to tuberculosis, while as a medical and social problem it is characterized as ranking first among the diseases which afflict the human race. Prompt operation is described as the true hope of cure.

"At ages above forty," to quote from the bulletin, "of the women who die about one woman in eight, and of the men who died about one man in fourteen, died of cancer. The disease now takes an annual death toll of about 75,000 in the United States, and largely because of public ignorance and negligence it proves fatal in more than 90 per cent. of the attacks."

Although the association sets forth that it does not know the cause of cancer, it calls attention to conditions which attend the development of the disease.

"Foremost," to quote again from the bulletin, "continued irritation in a given spot is frequently followed by the disease. Chimney sweeps develop cancer of the skin from the irritation of the soot. Workers in tar distilleries, in the manufacture of grease and briquettes, also develop cancer of the skin. Something in tar and pitch under such continued exposure develops warts which break down and develop cancer. Cancers of the tongue from irritation by pipe or cigar are commonly reported.

"One physician recently described a case in which the chafing of a suspender buckle was given as a cause. The women of India who carry betel nuts in their cheeks suffer from cancer of the mouth, while generally speaking they are free from other forms of the disease. Even long continued irritation is not necessary always, for cases are recorded where cancer seems clearly to have developed after a single blow or wound or fracture of some bone.

"We see in all these recorded cases that cancer at first is a local disease. If it can not be cured it can be removed.

"In view of the recent outburst of public discussion of the effects of radium in the treatment of cancer," the pamphlet says, "the society has felt it necessary to emphasize the limitation of this agent, as well as its favorable effect in certain cases. The curative effects of radium are practically limited today to superficial cancers of the skin."

An English circular sets forth that any wart or growth occurring on the lower lip of a man after forty-five years of age is almost certainly cancer. If removed at once the cure is certain; if neglected the result is inevitably fatal. The same warning is given with regard to swellings or sores on the tongue or in the mouth of a man of the same age. Warts, moles or other growths on the skin are exposed to constant irritation and should immediately be removed. A large number of them, if neglected, are said to terminate in cancer. Avoid irritation of the tongue and cheeks by broken, jagged teeth and of the lower lip by clay pipes, the circular says, as many of their irritations, of neglected, terminate in cancer.

MODERN CENDERELLA'S FOOT TOO TINY TO BUY SHOES FOR.

DAPHNE POLLARD AND HER FAMOUS FOOT.

With such tiny feet that the smallest stockings she can buy have to be turned back two inches under the toes, and all her shoes have to be made to order, Daphne Pollard, comedienne who is here with "The Girl Behind the Counter" company, challenges the entire world for Cinderella's title.

Miss Pollard's foot is so beautifully arched and so perfectly made that little girls' shoes, modeled without much shape, won't do.

And the smallest shoe made for women is far too large.

Miss Pollard has more trouble with stockings than with shoes. Fine grades of silk stockings are not made for little girls so she buys No. 8s, but even then is compelled to turn the toes under a good two inches in order to make them small enough.

"Footwear is my hobby," said Miss Pollard. "I spend an enormous amount of money on my shoes and stockings.

"I average fifteen pairs of shoes always on hand. And I always have at least fifty pairs of silk stockings.

"Shoe dealrs in New York tell me I am the smallest-footed cusomer they have ever had.

"It isn't always fun to have such tiny feet, though. When I have suddenly to get a certain kind of shoe and cannot wait to send to New York for them. I have a dreadful time. I can have heels put on a child's shoe, but they are never comfortable."

THE NEW WAY—GETTING ROUGH WITH THE MILITANTS.

Since Miss Mary Blomfield invaded Buckingham palace and forced her way to an audience with the king and queen, London policemen have been ordered to assume harsher methods in dealing with the suffragets. Heretofore, it is said, they were arrested quite good naturedly and without violence. Orders are now to handle them the same as male rioters, and one of the first arrests under the new conditions is pictured above. Consternation, surprise and fear are expressed on the face of the militant, who in this instance has not been handled with the customary "kid glover."

EVER HEAR OF A HIMULKEE?

COMING NEXT WEEK

When the Carl Hagenbeck and great Wallace shows combined come to Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16, there will be on exhibition in the menagerie one of the rarest specimens of wild animals ever brought to America. It is a Himulkee, a rare species of the Royal Bengal tiger from India. So rare are the beasts that only three have been found in the past 250 years.

The Himulkee differs from the low breed Bengal tiger in that the stripes about his body run horizontally instead of perpendicularly. In India the beasts are worshipped as gods, but because of their absence in the past two generations the natives have resorted to other idols. Even the Rajah pays homage to the Himulkee and on festive holidays human beings are fed in sacrifice to the beast.

The story of how a party of Carl Hagenbeck's hunters from their European headquarters, Hamburg, Germany, captured and smuggled to this country the Himulkee now in the possession of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus would fill a book. Suffice to say the presence of the beast in this country represents a human sacrifice of more than a score of lives.

But there are many other rare and interesting specimens of wild animals to be found in the Carl Hagenbeck menagerie. In fact, a student of nature could spend an entire day to advantage in studying the various specimens. Several score of the wild animals perform under the direction of famous wild animal trainers.

More than 300 artists of international fame take part in the circus program which is given in three rings and on two elevated stages. The fun is looked after by fifty clowns including Piro, a jester from the British court.

SOCIETY

The lovely setting of the Country club was one of the charms of a large and beautiful bridge party there this afternoon for which Mrs. Theodore F. Thieme and Mrs. William H. Shambaugh were the hostesses. Mrs. John Marin, of New York city, who is Mrs. Thieme's guest, and Mrs. Ernest F. Lloyd, of Detroit, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Shambaugh, were in the receiving line. The big piazza of the clubhouse as well as the rooms within were decorated with garden flowers arranged in artistic profusion by Miss Flick. Peonies, red, white and pink, filled big jardinieres on the porch, while the lovely iris in several colors was massed in baskets for the mantel and fireplace in the livingroom. A touch here and there of plumosus or ferns added to the pretty effect. One hundred ladies were asked to enjoy a game at cards or merely to visit, but the larger number devoted the time to the delights of auction. Mrs. Walter Olds, Mrs. John A. Thieme, Mrs. Charles A. Wilding and Mrs. O. N. Guldlin were the ladies asked to assist in meeting the rest of the company. Miss Margareth Wilding passed the tally cards. A repast was served after the game which was exceptionally refreshing and punch was served at any time when desired.

Mrs. Patrick McGee, of West Butler street, is in Chicago for a visit with friends and relatives.

Mrs. S. B. Bechtel is going to Grand Rapids this week to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Russell.

Mrs. E. A. Donnan will return on Wednesday morning from visits in New Castle and Pittsburg, Pa.

Mrs. W. F. Reitze came home on Monday evening from a visit with relatives in Elkhart.

Mrs. Gibson Sisco and baby, of Columbus, Ohio, is here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Study.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Meade have as their guest Mrs. Philip Hall, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Jennie Ray Ormsby, who is visiting her son in Huntington, spent Monday here, coming to attend the funeral of the late Perry DeHaven.

Miss Julia Kelsey is going to Crawfordsville on Friday for a visit with friends and will stop in Indianapolis en route home.

The College society of Emanuel Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Brandtmiller, of Douglas avenue.

Miss Florence Greensfelder, of Logansport, who had been here for six weeks visiting Miss Mollie Greensfelder, has returned home.

Mrs. James Smith and daughter, Miss Grace Smith, have returned from an absence of several months which they spent with relatives in Chicago and Gary.

Mrs. H. O. Bruggeman went to Chicago today for a visit with relatives and was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Stephen Trentman, who had been here for a number of days.

Marshall McKay has come home from Wabash college to spend the vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McKay, but is considering going abroad in company with Robert Thieme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thieme.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Bond are in New York and will during their absence attend commencement exercises at Inglese school, New Milford, Conn., where their daughter, Miss Persis, has been a student for three years, but not in the regular course of study.

Misses Josephine and Geraldine Fleming are coming from St. Mary's academy, South Bend, the latter part of this week for a visit here with relatives before they go to New York to join their parents Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fleming, and the Misses Fleming are planning to spend the summer in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Elwood Lane, of Calgary, Canada, wha have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doud and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koerber, since their arrival in the city last Friday, are planning to leave on Wednesday for their return trip. Mr. and Mrs. Lane have met many old friends during their visit.

Mrs. James Gronna, of South Dakota, who is on her way home from a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Stutz, in Washington, D. C., is visiting the Misses Meyer, of Harrison street, for a few days. For a number of years Dr. Stutz and family lived in Fort Wayne and Mrs. Gronna was well known here before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Ely and son, Marshall Rawles, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardisty, Mrs. Lydia Miller and Miss Carrie Sommers formed an automobile party to Bluffton to attend the wedding of Miss Sylvia Lochner and Alvin Sprunger, which took place at the home of the bride on Sunday. The Fort Wayne party has returned home. They made the trip in Mr. Ely's new car.

The members of the graduating class of the Fort Wayne Normal school, for which public exercises for commencement will be held in the High school auditorium on Friday afternoon, are enjoying several social affairs during these closing days of school. A picnic supper at Robison park has already taken place and a banquet will be served at the school building on Thursday evening. Prof. D. H. Roberts, of Michigan, is to deliver the address at the commencement exercises and as he is a speaker who enjoys the reputation of never being "dry or uninteresting," his talk is anticipated with the certainty of its being a real treat.

A pretty prenuptial party was given by three sisters, Mrs. R. J. Miller and the Misses Georgia and Ludmilla Lauer, recently in honor of a coming bride, Miss Clara Dietrich. A shower of cluny lace pieces for her dining room was showered on the bride and beautiful decorations of pink and white roses with roses for favors, dainty place cards and a luncheon of the kind that melts in your mouth with goodness were other things that combined in making the affair perfect of its kind. Miss Dietrich's place was indicated by a tiny bride doll. The guests were members of the Nacana club and the bride-elect is a member. Those present were Rose Bender, Anna and Mary Pothoff, Solina Dietrich, Pauline Pohlmeyer, Mrs. Ed Violand and Mrs. Carl Vandagrift, of Centralia, Ill., who is here on a visit, being another sister of the bride-elect.

Only those who have taken the academic course are eligible to the banquet at the Anthony hotel which the alumnae association of St. Augustine's academy will give on Thursday. There are to be fifty guests. Officers of the association are: President, Miss June Mooney; vice president, Mrs. Frank Hoy; secretary, Miss Margie Monahan; treasurer, Miss Marie Nolan; in charge of arrangements, Misses Marie Kelly, Nellie Cody, Beatrice Kinder, Mary Henderson, Loretta Lordier.

Mrs. Charles Rumell, of Logansport, and Mrs. Harriet Cassell, of Toledo, who were visiting Mrs. M. S. Willson, returned home today.

New Society Fad is Started at Capital.

DR. AND MRS. W. A. WINTERS.

The story of the disappearance and the search for little Catherine Winters, the missing Newcastle girl, is being told in Fort Wayne by Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters, parents of the child, at the Temple theater Tuesday and Wednesday, both afternoon and evening, illustrated with pictures of the scenes connected with the child's disappearance. This is one of the means adopted for raising funds to aid in the search for the child. Dr. Winters, in his talk, also goes somewhat into his recent arrest in connection with the case.

sextet from "Lucia," took fresh beauty in its rendition. Mrs. Leah Maley, at the organ, did some very good work in excellent taste, both in accompanying and in several solos. Mr. Thompson did beautiful solo work and Miss Nickell, who has made some marked improvement during the month she has worked with Mr. Dodge, sang with lovely tone and expression a group of songs. Miss Ethel Doud's rich and sweet toned voice also displayed improvement in tone making and her group of songs, as well as the more pretentious number from "Samson and Delilah," gave much satisfaction and pleasure. Charles Thornberg, the young violin student from Auburn, played the de Beriot 8th concerto in the best manner he has ever done in public. When Mr. Thornberg played the same number at a recent recital in Elks' hall he had the misfortune to have a string of his instrument break. Miss Helene Spindler played the Saint Saens etude again, in the rendition of which she has received many compliments for her splendid technique and rhythm. Altogether the program was of a high grade, both in selection and arrangement, as well as in its rendition.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The production of "Les Miserables" in motion pictures at the Majestic this week is indeed a film spectacle. The audience last night, despite the warm weather, was of goodly proportions. The performance occupies two and a half hours without intermission. Into this period, which seems brief because of the engrossing nature of the entertainment, is condensed the story which is considered by many the masterpiece of all fiction.

The early scenes of the story are of great variety, beauty and interest, including Jean's thrilling escape from the prison where he has been placed for stealing a loaf of bread; the home of the good priest whose benevolence converts the convict into a good citizen; the court scene, where Jean accuses himself to save another. The climax of the drama is reached in the scene of the barricade in the streets of Paris during the insurrection of 1832. Valjean's escape through the sewers of Paris, one of the most famous incidents of the novel, is only one of many exciting moments in this scene.

The vital material of the novel is presented comprehensively and faithfully and the film is in every way superior. No one who wishes to have the immortal story indelibly impressed upon his mind should fail to see it. The country scenes in France alone are worth the price of admission. Daily matinees given during the engagement.

AT THE EMPRESS

"The Daughter of the Tribe," a high class first run feature, will be shown again tonight at the Empress theater. Each audience yesterday and this afternoon received the film with pleasure.

It is a story of the love of an Indian girl for a "cow puncher." The girl has had a wedding arranged with another man by her parents, but refuses to marry the proposed man, and runs away for the man whom she loves. The picture is full of thrills from the start.

Starting tomorrow afternoon the Empress will show "The Path of Sorrow." This film is full of touching pathos, and ends with a joy for the audience that is refreshing, to say the least. This film will also be shown Thursday.

During the performances the Empress trio is continuing to entertain the audience. And then, there is always consolation in knowing that one is seated in "the coolest spot in town."

A tour through Europe on a motorcycle is the plan of Mrs. Rachel F. Avery, of Philadelphia, who is now a student of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin.

She proposes to have a chair attachment on her machine, to accommodate her daughter Julia, who will accompany her. They propose to sail at the close of the academic year, arrive at Antwerp, and then proceed to Ostend, Belgium.

During a three-week stay in England they will attend "The Pardons," at which time choice cows are blessed and a certain number are given to the church.

They will include Holland in their itinerary and will inspect Holstein cows while there

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

Leo Sunshine and Isadore Roy Were Struck by an Automobile on Spy Run.

Leo Sunshine and Isadore Roy, aged nine and twelve respectively, and living at 522 and 524 Lawton place, had a narrow escape Monday evening when both were struck by an automobile driven by George Holbrook near the Keefer grocery on Spy Run avenue. The boys were on their way to the grocery on a bicycle.

As they neared the grocery they turned over from the right side of the street and were struck at this time by the machine. When the automobile stopped the Roy lad was completely under the machine but he was not injured. The boys were taken to their homes where medical aid was called and it was found that neither was badly hurt.

NOT FOR THE STATE BOARD.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The question of introducing the literature of the bible for study in the public schools of Indiana is one for the various school corporations rather than the state board of education to decide, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Honan yesterday. The state board is not permitted by the law to take the initiative of such a question, according to Mr. Honan.

ROSY AND PLUMP.

Good Health From Right Food.

"It's not a new food to me," remarked a Va. man, in speaking of Grape-Nuts.

"About twelve months ago my wife was in very bad health, could not keep anything on her stomach. The doctor recommended milk, half water, but it was not sufficiently nourishing.

"A friend of mine told me one day to try Grape-Nuts and cream. The result was really marvelous. My wife soon regained her usual strength and today is as rosy and plump as when a girl of sixteen.

"These are plain facts and nothing I could say in praise of Grape-Nuts would exaggerate in the least the value of this great food."

Citizens' Committee Will Meet With Complete Representation.

THE FEDERATION ACTS

According to members of the citizens' convention hall committee, who meet Wednesday evening at the Commercial club, the committee is to take some action that will formally launch a movement for a new assembly hall that will ultimately get for Fort Wayne a building of sufficient size and of sufficient equipment to take care of any convention that Fort Wayne is likely to have the pleasure of entertaining.

Secretary Biederwolf, of the club, has sent out notices to all organizations in the city to be represented at the meeting, and immediately at the close of the session the delegates will be given petitions addressed to the city council asking that something be done toward providing for a convention hall here.

Federation Meets.

A resolution asking every labor organization in Fort Wayne to send at least one delegate to the meeting was adopted Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor. Another resolution asks the federation president to call a meeting soon of the Labor day committee.

Poor, custom-ridden man must be freed as well as woman, according to Miss Hazel Mackaye, sister of the author, Percy Mackaye.

"A great deal is being said in behalf of the liberation of woman," she says; "but I think there is less cause for worry over woman's freedom than man's.

"Men have the ballot and a few other trifling liberties women have not as yet gained. O[illegible], is there a slave more abj[illegible] man tied to fetters of his own [illegible]? Men are slaves to custom, hide-bound in convention, and persecuted by their own self-consciousness when they try to break bonds."

WILL LET COUNTY BUILD ITS PART

The city government will build its own share of the Spy Run avenue retaining wall and leave to the board of county commissioners the procedure for building the county's agreed share of that improvement. This course has been decided upon by City Attorney Colerick and County Attorney Hoffman. Therefore, the county commissioners will doubtless at once approve plans, advertise for bids and award a contract for the construction of 180 feet of the wall, that portion of it to be a part of the State street bridge over the St. Joe river. This much of the wall is determined as the county's share by reason of the $5,000 county appropriation to pay for the $14,400 the wall cost under the city's accepted bid. The board of works will send to the council meeting tonight an ordinance appropriating $10,000 to pay the city share of the cost.

WEED WAR MIGHTY BOTHER.

Because owners of real estate, more especially those who hold title to vacant lots, persistently refuse year after year to cut the weeds that ornament their holdings the board of health has to do a vast amount of work and put in a deal of time that could be better employed in other labors. The health department is at present engaged in the task of locating about 2,000 separate parcels of property, identifying the owners and obtaining their addresses in order to serve them with legal notice that their weeds must be cut, as provided by ordinance. The magnitude of the job can only be understood by some familiarity with the details. Health department inspectors must first search the city for violations. Each inspector carries a city map from which he obtains the location of the lot. Then he goes to the court house and identifies the owner, after which he takes a city directory and obtains the owner's address. If the owner happens not to be a resident of the city this task is involved in an increase of difficulty. In many cases the local agent of non-resident owners of property must be learned. When all this is done a form notice to the owner of property where weeds need cutting must be made out and mailed. If the owner does not obey the order or make other response within due time his case must be turned over to the board of works or the health department must institute a prosecution. Last year the board of works had no appropriation for cutting weeds on private property and paid no attention to the notices sent in by the board of health. There is no appropriation this year and the same course is likely to be followed. The ordinances and state laws provide that where a property owner is delinquent in the matter of cutting his weeds the board of works may cause it to be done and assess the cost as a lien against the property to be paid when he settles his taxes. Last year the board of health served notices on over nine hundred property owners in Bloomingdale, Spy Run, Lakeside and Nebraska to have their weeds cut. Similar notices were served on over four hundred property owners in that part of the city south of the river and west of Barr street and about as many in the district south of the rivers and east of Barr. The force in the health department is now busy discovering violations of the weed law, finding the owners and preparing notices.

CITY SETTLES DAMAGE SUIT.

Following a trip to Auburn by Mayor W. J. Hosey, Board of Works Chairman Frank E. Singrey, City Attorney Colerick and Electric Light Superintendent Frank E. Dix, the two suits brought against the city for $15,000 damages for injuries inflicted upon Kenneth, the little son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, 1215 Columbia avenue, were settled out of court by a compromise. It was agreed that the plaintiff should be paid $5,500. Of this $2,000 will be borne by the city and $3,500 by the Baltimore Indemnity company. The Williams boy was terribly injured October 4, 1911, when he came in contact with a live wire on Tecumseh street, losing two fingers and having a hole burned into the back of his head. The wire was part of the city lighting equipment and the negligence of the city in permitting the condition was alleged. There had been a former agreement never carried out that a settlement would be made for $8,500. The new administration thought the amount excessive and the city officials went to Auburn Monday to go to trial in the DeKalb circuit court, to which tribunal the suit had been venued. After reaching there the compromise was effected. The indemnity company that figures in the settlement is one in which the city carries its protection against risk in the municipal lighting plant.

LITTLE VANDALS IN PARK.

Some of the urchins for whose benefit and pleasure a nice new concrete wading pool has just been completed in Swinney park, appreciated so much what the park board had done for them that when water was turned in to give a test they threw in pebbles, large stones, big gobs of mud, sticks and boards and even tried to gouge out the concrete bottom. The pool had to be drained and cleaned. The contracting firm of Ryan & Gallagher, which built the pool, has turned it over to the park board and it will doubtless be accepted at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of that body. The pool was designed with special care for permanence by Park Engineer Price and others like it may be constructed in some of the other parks.

CARRANZA GETS OVATION.

Altillo, Mex., June 9.—General Carranza was given a tremendous ovation upon his arrival here tonight. The constitutionalist commander was dined by Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the eastern military zone, who arrived before Carranza from Monterey, where he has been stationed.

PAT DIDN'T KNOW.

On shipboard the cry went up, "A man overboard!" and the captain gave orders to a new sailor, who was an Irishman, to throw out two buoys.

The sailor, seeing two boys walking on the deck, threw them overboard.

The captain yelled out that it was cork buoys he wanted thrown overboard.

"Bedad!" said Pat, "how was Oi to know whether they came from Cork or Tipperary?"

HUERTA GUNBOATS QUICKLY VANISH

U. S. WARSHIPS TRAIL

Tampico, June 8.—(By Way of Brownsville, Texas, June 9.)—President Huerta's so-called blockading squadron, which arrived off Tampico this morning vanished from view this evening without having an opportunity to establish officially the proposed blockade against this port. The two Mexican gunboats, the Bravo and the Zaragosa, hoisted and steamed southward at 6 o'clock accompanied as before by the American cruiser Tacoma and the gunboat Sacramento. Their destination was not stated but it was supposed to be Coatzacoalcos.

Immediately after the arrival of the Mexican gunboats, Rear Admiral Mayo, in command of the American naval forces here summoned the captain of the Zaragosa aboard the battleship Minnesota and informed him that instructions of the utmost importance had been received from Washington with orders to communicate the same to the Mexican commander.

Details of these instructions were not revealed but it is understood they informed the Mexican captain that the Washington government would not permit any interference with the traffic of the port nor permit the Mexican gunboat to enter the Panuco river.

The only communication from shore with the gunboats occurred during the afternoon when a tug went out to the Zarabosa with constitutionalists officers who offered the proposition that both vessels transfer their allegiance to the constitutionalists. The Mexican gunboats lay at anchor four miles off the shore with the Tacoma and the Sacramento under way and hovering near, and the Minnesota and the San Francisco lying at anchor about a mile away.

Farm Women Working for Better Homes

Mrs. Belle Harbert

Manzanola, Colo., June 9.—The largest and perhaps the most important class of women in the world have organized, and the "union"—which has membership in twenty-eight different nations and in every state in the United States—is known as the International Congress of Women. With Mrs. Belle von Dorn Harbert, of Manzanola, at its head, the congress has set out to improve home conditions on the farm, to lighten the farm woman's work, to brighten her life, and to give her the social advantages and the material benefits to which she is entitled. The congress will hold a world's meeting in San Francisco in September, 1915, which will be attended by farmers' wives and women farmers from all parts of the world.

DEADLY HEAT IS OVER WIDE AREA

OTHER SECTIONS HIT

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—Up to this afternoon the intense heat of the last three days had resulted in four deaths, driven a young woman insane and prostrated at least 19 other persons according to police reports.

Two More at Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—Two more deaths attributed to the heat were recorded today by the police while the mercury mounted to 94 degrees early in the afternoon, a record for the year.

In Kansas and Missouri.

High temperatures prevailed through eastern and southern Kansas and in this part of Missouri today. Pittsburg, Kansas, reported the mercury at 98 degrees at noon, a record for five years.

Sedalia, Mo., reported 94 degrees at 1 o'clock, the hottest day of the year. In Kansas City the mercury was at 91 at 1:30 o'clock.

Higher at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, June 9.—With the government thermometer three degrees higher at 2 o'clock this afternoon than at the same time yesterday today bids fair to eclipse all local heat records for the season. The maximum yesterday was a shade above 92 degrees while the temperature stood at 92 at 2 o'clock today. Private thermometers on the street level are pausing around the 100 mark. No heat prostrations had been reported early this afternoon.

Dies in Ten Minutes.

Hammond, Ind., June 9.—Peter Reinert, a carpenter, was prostrated by heat soon after starting to work today. He died in ten minutes. Stefen Nesocvitz, of Gary, is dead from the heat.

Terre Haute Smothers.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 9.—All heat records of the season were broken here this afternoon when the government thermometer registered 96 degrees at 3 o'clock. No prostrations were reported. Street thermometers registered 100.

PROPOSES WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 9.—Enactment of woman suffrage in Denmark and abolition of all property qualifications for electors of members of the upper house is proposed by a constitutional amendment bill which passed the lower house of the Danish parliament today. Only six deputies voted against the measure.

Wu Ting Fang

In the eyes of America, Wu Ting Fang, formerly minister to the United States, is the foremost Chinaman. A product of a far more ancient civilization than ours, Wu readily grasped our idea of publicity, and, when here, he was a marvelous press agent for Wu Ting Fang.

Now Wu has written a book. He wrote it in China and calls it "America." The material for the book was derived from the 4,000,000 questions that he asked of everybody he met in the United States.

The crudity of our civilization is attacked in chapters veiled heavily with apologies. He laughs at us, and grows bitter on Chinese exclusion; but, withal, it is quite interesting to know what an oriental like Wu thinks of us.

Amifrench Lingerie

New Copies of French Nightgowns at $1

America can well be proud of this machine-made lingerie, which is the best imitation of the French peasants' beautiful handwork. The embroidered scalloping is particularly commendable, for every little scallop is so perfectly finished that it does not pull away from the next one, and therefore will withstand the ravages of constant laundering.

Besides being adorned with embroidered motifs and ribbon, several styles are inset with motifs of lace.

French gowns at $3 are not usually made of as fine nainsook as are these $1 Nightgowns.

"Amifrench" Lingerie Includes:

Nightgowns	$1.00 and up.	Combinations	$1.00 and up.
Petticoats	1.00 and up.	Corset Covers	.50 and up.
Princess Slips	1.50 and up.	Drawers	.50 and up.

AT the stationery Section orders are taken for engraved wedding invitations and announcements. Samples of form and style of letter to select from, and the work is promptly done.

GOLD EXPORT CONTINUES.

New York, June 9.—Five million five hundred thousand dollars in gold was engaged here today for shipment to Paris. The continued flow from this port to Europe has excited considerable comment in banking circles. In the present movement, which began about a month ago, $30,000,000 has been exported. Earlier in the year $16,000,000 went out.

Of the total $22,000,000 was in bars, and the balance in eagles and double eagles, taken from the subtreasury. Coin was not in demand until the supply of bars of requisite fineness was exhausted. Various reason are given for the drain on our gold reserves. The most plausible is that Europe is taking out gold in exchange for the resale to this country of $150,000,000 in securities. That Europe, particularly London, has been a steady seller of Americana in moderate volume for months past, is the testimony of competent observers.

GIANTS DOWN TO STRIDE IN RACE

WORKING AT HOME

New York, June 9. Now the Giants have invaded the baseball world, including Brooklyn, have returned and gotten a good start at home, they are prepared to settle down to the real business of the season, namely selling enough base hits and good pitching to contain layers from St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburg and Cincinnati to make sure of getting an invitation to the world series next October.

It's a lot easier to sell things across one's own counter than to carry a satchel full of samples to far distant lands and try to peddle orders. According to Johnny McGraw the Giants have a full supply of everything they are needed, even though two of the regular salesmen, Merkle and Fletcher, are not feeling quite fit to perform the solicitation of customers.

"Our supply of base hits looks pretty good, and we have yards and yards of the latest stuff in pitching. We can clothe anything that looks like a flag pole with batting."

That's what "Mac" probably would have said, or he would have said something to that general effect if he could have been located, but the doughty little manager of the prospective four time champions of the National league has the most unfortunate faculty of slipping into somewhere without being anywhere of any one who has ever made a practice of the disappearing act.

One month ago the Giants faced a proposition fraught with a coating of burrs and filled with the nitro-glycerine of uncertainty. At that time there was only one man in the neighborhood who was willing to wager that by now the Giants would have galloped through the quagmire and be gallivanting around in the league lead, and he hadn't seen the N. L. standing since it was announced by the Winter league.

A month ago the Giants were tied with Brooklyn for third place, .322 percentage to the rearward of Pittsburg. In the meanwhile the Giants have slipped through the field and are now busily engaged trying to keep the Cincinnati Reds from stepping on their heels. There is nothing throws a team out of its stride as quickly as to have another step on its heels.

It is not so much what the Giants accomplished while they were gone from the Polo grounds, but what the Pirates failed to accomplish that has counted in favor of the New Yorks.

Although the Giants won seventeen of the twenty-five games played, the Pirates shot the chutes for fifteen of their twenty-three starts, which has made a total difference of 408 points in their respective standings and has propelled the Giants into first place while the Corsairs have been eased into third position, trailing the Reds.

That the Giants have assumed the lead and that the Pirates have been toppled into third place would not be as gratifying as it is if it were not for the manner in which the trick was turned.

The Giants engineered their end of the coup almost unassisted. They began the deal by slipping the Pirates the short end of the scores in three games. They broke even in Cincinnati and St. Louis, took two out of a possible three in Chicago, annexed three straight in Brooklyn and split even in a four ply clash with the Phillies.

It was Cincinnati and Chicago who contributed appreciably to the downfall of the high stepping Pirates, for which New York is duly thankful but is not in a position to reciprocate intentionally.

Looking back across the stretch of "what has been" to the winter's whiteness of "what may be," it begins to appear as if the grandoloops is slowly but surely climbing onto its battle scarred legs and will soon be able to mingle with the living once more.

In the prospective preliminary season it was widely predicted the Giants would jump into the lead with the lifting of the barrier and would rattle along, showering nothing but dust on the other clubs in the junket.

They failed to make the big leap at the outset, but they have been stamping on a lot of feet ever since, trying to scramble up to their chartered seat. And it begins to look as if the "dope" is not in for such a trimming after all. The class of the Giants is asserting itself and it would not be surprising, now the Pirates have struck the greased ways, if the Giants were reasonably sure of a portion of the world series money some days before the grand finale.

JERRY O'CONNOR CHOSEN.

Elected President of the Jefferson Drum Corps.

At the annual business meeting of the drum corps of the Democratic Jefferson club, held Monday night at its quarters on Calhoun street, Jerry O'Connor was elected president of the organization, to fill the office made vacant by the death of Harry P. Lowry. The members also decided to hold their annual picnic early in July and a committee to make arrangements for the event is to be appointed.

In accepting the presidency of the drum corps Mr. O'Connor told the members that he expects every man to be on duty constantly during the coming campaign. He said he would start early in attempting to secure additional members from each township in the county, and he also assured them that their individual co-operation is necessary for the success of the organization.

LEFT-HANDER IS NEEDED BY CLUB

LOST OPENING GAME

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 9.—Manager Harry Martin believes that if he had a left-hander to chuck in now and then in his games he could make a better showing as opposing players get so accustomed to the right-hand variety of curves and shoots that they find less difficulty in hitting than when they are required to look occasionally upon a collection of port-side slants.

No word has been received to indicate that Tommy Atkins intends to report here and it is possible that he will not be able to get back into the game before the Fort Waynes reach home to open up its next series of games.

There is no doubt in the mind of the manager that he has a better club right now than he has had at any time during the present season—that is, he will have as soon as he gets his entire front lined up once more. He is confident that Frankie Nespo will get into the game just as soon as the club returns home as news from the second sacker is most encouraging.

If there is anything in baseball luck he probably has had all his troubles by this time and is now in line to trim his sails and get going in the race. Several insistent messages have been received from Frank Shaughnessy asking the return of Frank Smykal and that means he cannot be much longer retained as substitute at second.

Members of the club arrived here yesterday pretty well tired out after a long, hot ride from Terre Haute, and went into the game under a handicap. They have not been able to get much rest here as hotel rooms are hot and less comfortable than those occupied by the players when they are at home.

Earl Ainsworth staked a line of hurling in the opening clash here that would have won under ordinary circumstances but Paynter, who claims he has Indian blood that accounts for his dark complexion, and who was passed up by Terre Haute after a trial, and who was an easy victim when he opposed the Billikens on their home grounds, kept the Martin troupe under submission all through the event.

Although Harry Martin's success as the lead off man in the batting list impressed him seriously with the idea of sticking up there, he found that the work of leading his men in the attack and working hard in the defense, to say nothing of the managerial duties, was too hard on him and he thinks he has a good man in Smyth as he has shown speed, hitting power and patience at the plate.

He secured the only Billiken run of the initial clash and tied up the count in the fifth but it didn't stay knotted for very long. Ainsworth reached first on Stell's bungle in handling an easy grounder and was forced at second by Smyth. The new outfielder supplemented his failure to hit by a clean steal of second, took third on Justice's wobble and home on an out.

Runners were on the bases at several stages of the game and were there with one man gone and ample opportunity to make hits count but the hits were not produced.

Manager George Hughes broke into the running in the second inning when he topped the barricade with a smash for four sacks. After Stell had annexed a three-base drive in the last half of the fifth Lake and Justice went down in order but Paynter hit and sent over a run.

Lake was walked in the seventh, took third when Ainsworth threw into center field on Paynter's sacrifice and scored on Tydeman's hit which came with one man down. Stell scored the final run on an infield hit, a steal of second and Justice's two-ply crack.

COULON AT EVEN MONEY IN SIGHT

BOTH MAKE WEIGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 9.—Johnny Coulon and his friends have never been quite satisfied with the betting on his scheduled battle with "Kid" Williams here tonight, and has always felt that he should rule a favorite in the books and it is believed that he will go into the ring an even money proposition as his appearance has given his backers increased faith in his ability to beat his younger opponent.

If the statements made by the two fighters today are to be relied upon never in the history of the prize ring will two more perfectly trained boys climb through the ropes of a ring.

Coulon, bronzed from outdoor work, claimed that he was under the weight of 116 pounds, which is the notch the boys must make at ringside. Williams, who undoubtedly has had a tougher time in reducing than Coulon, has announced that he would have no trouble in making 116 pounds.

There was a wee bit of excitement in the Coulon camp when Promoter McCarey insisted that the champion post his weight forfeit here instead of in Chicago. Sam Harris, manager of Williams, was responsible for this, as he announced early in the day that he did not believe Coulon could make 116 pounds. To quiet Harris, Jack Weske, the champion's manager, complied with the request.

There was no boxing in the camp of either boy, and in fact no hard work was attempted. Just enough exercise was taken to keep the muscles limbered up.

Coulon never looked better before a battle, and his condition has surprised his stanchest admirers on the coast. The betting today still favored Williams at 10 to 9. The Williams adherents seem to have plenty of money to wager on the Baltimore boy and his backers predicted that he would enter the ring a favorite over the champion.

The battle, which is to be staged in the arena presided over by "Uncle Tom" McCarey, promises to be one of the greatest that ever has been pulled off here. The betting men, in making Williams favorite, figure that he has a great chance to win before the limit of twenty rounds through the medium of a knockout. They also figure that, even if the fight goes the limit, the Baltimore boy has as good a chance to win the referee's verdict as Coulon.

Confidence is thick in the camp of both boys and neither expects the bout to go the limit. Coulon said that he believed he would score a knockout, and the same view was held by the challenger.

One of the greatest crowds that ever jammed into the Vernon arena is anticipated. The sent sale indicates a full house of about 11,000. The boys are scheduled to enter the ring at 9:30 o'clock, const time.

Gen. Funston's Great Story, "Memories of Two Wars"

(In yesterday's chapter General Funston told of amazing effects on the Spanish enemy of a dynamite gun which was now used for the first time in war. He also told of the killing of the American Col. Chapleau. The following chapter tells of the remainder of the 51-hour battle at Victoria de la Tundas and the Cuban victory. Editor.)

By GEN. FREDERICK FUNSTON, Brigadier General, United States Army.

CHAPTER XI.

Gen. Funston

Late that same afternoon Col. Menocal informed me that he would soon lead an infantry charge, whereupon, we opened a terrific and sustained bombardment. Suddenly I saw two lines of men emerge from the brush, and yelling like mad charge for the Spanish trenches. The next moment was certainly the most intense in the lives of us serving the guns. A slight mistake might land a shell among our own people. I simply shook with excitement.

Our shells, plunged at the rate of three a minute from each gun into the trenches, were demoralizing the defenders to such an extent that they could do but little firing, but from a trench on its right the attacking regiment was brought under a hot flank fire at seven hundred yards range, and suffered severely. A number of the officers having been shot down, and it seeming impossible to get through the entanglements, some confusion arose. The men began to bunch up and lie down.

It looked as if the gallant attack must fail, and that it was only a question of drawing out those who could be saved from the wreck, when Menocal and two other officers of the staff mounted their horses and at a dead run rode into the charge, actually coming within thirty or forty yards of the trenches before their horses all went down killed and Menocal had his leg shattered.

But the other two officers, with Colonel Garcia and those of the regiment, rose to their feet, and, with cries of "Al machete," rushed into the barb wire. The men followed their lead, and with their machetes began to hack frantically at the wires, and in a few moments had cut their way through. We continued our artillery fire until this time, but now we were glad to cease. The Spaniards took advantage of the opportunity to escape while the Cubans were getting through the entanglements and under cover of the ruins of the building reached the town, and were distributed among the other defences.

More or less desultory firing now followed, the Cubans having loop-holed a number of the houses to facilitate their operations against those of the Spanish works that had not yet been taken. The whole force of insurgents, with the exception of those men stationed to escape on the north, were now in the town in the shelter of the houses. The work left was the capture, from the interior of the town instead from its outside, of the stone barracks and Telegraph Fort.

The strongest work was the Cuartel de la Infanteria. Its masonry walls were three feet thick, loop-holed, and defended by two hundred men. The main business street of the town could not be crossed by us, being swept by the fire of this work at one end and by that of the Telegraph Fort at the other.

We found a warehouse in which we dragged the dynamite gun and a twelve-pounder, and, making loo-holes, opened fire. The Hotchkiss shell glanced off the stone wall. That from the dynamite gun made a terrific explosion, but the result was the same as would be caused by throwing an egg against a house. There was a fine spatter and nothing else. Not a stone was displaced by either shot. But the moral effect of the explosions of the nitro-gelatine bombs was in time to do the work.

Very early in the morning a soldier had escaped from the cuartel and brought to Colonel Menocal the information that he was an emissary from his comrades, who had come to the conclusion that they had reached the limit of human endurance. They were in sore straits from hunger, thirst, and fatigue, and their nerve had been completely shattered by the explosions of the nitro-gelatine bombs. The commander and the other officers would fight to the end, but if he would take possession at daybreak they would throw down their arms. They knew the situation to be absolutely hopeless, and did not propose to be sacrificed to save the honor of their officers.

The sun had not yet risen when a few officers, including Janney and myself left warehouse and walked into the open. We felt a bit ticklish as we approached the grim line of loop-holes, but no flash came from them, and at a run we went over the mound of earth protecting the great gateway. The door swung open and the haggard and wasted men, barely able to stand, threw down their arms, while their officers looked on in helpless astonishment. But they accepted the inevitable.

I was so hungry that I had pretty nearly lost all regard for the properties, and made a quick run for the kitchen, a Spanish soldier showing me where the officers' provisions were kept. The first thing I found was some sausages in cans, and cutting one of them open by one blow of my machete, began to get at the contents in the most primitive way imaginable. I saw two Spanish officers looking at me with disgust plainly evident on their features.

During the night the insurgents had swarmed into the houses, had opened fire on the two blockhouses occupied by the local detachment of guerillas. The defenders knew that it was only a question of time until the deadly dynamite gun from the shelter would blow their flimsy blockhouse to bits. They were in a terrible position, as they could not except the quarter given the Spanish regulars. Their captain came out and asked what terms would be given them. The laconic reply was, "The same that you have given the helpless wounded in our hospitals."

It was merely a choice of the form of death, so they marched out, threw down their arms, and to their credit met their fate with courage. They were cut down with the machete. It was a shocking spectacle, but it was retributive justice if there is such a thing, for these men, half Spanish, half Cuban, had never known what mercy was.

Other blockhouses, garrisoned by regulars, now gave up one by one. (Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons.)

CONTINUED.

NOTE—Soon after the above fighting, Gen. Funston was taken very ill and after much trouble, was taken through the lines and invalided to his home in Kansas. This was just before the war with Spain. The story of Funston's remarkable campaign in the Philipines begins in the next chapter.

OSSIAN NEWS.

Ossian, Ind., June 9.—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Trevey had as Sunday dinner guests their niece, Miss Ethel Trevey, and Howard Howey, of Fort Wayne; also Miss Ruby Quackenbush and Teddy Weathers, of Ossian, the latter being here for a week-end vacation from his studies at Winona college at Winona Lake.

James Swaim, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Swaim and daughter, Frances, visited in Fort Wayne Saturday afternoon.

Garth Woodward, of Kendallville, was a Saturday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodward.

Gary Hawley, who has been so very critically ill for several days, is reported no better. On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock an operation was performed by Dr. Fred A. Metts, of Bluffton, assisted by Dr. Severen, of Bluffton, and Dr. D. C. Wybourn, of Ossian, the attending physician. An abscess was found in the head, which was thought to be caused by tubercular trouble. The patient rallied from the anesthetic, but is delirious most all the time. A trained nurse from Fort Wayne is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Aldred and daughter, Roberta, left Sunday afternoon for their new home in Lapel, after a week's visit with Mrs. Aldred's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Summers.

Mrs. G. G. Glass entertained at her summer country home on Saturday afternoon the Daniel boys and Miss May Morton's Sunday school class of girls. The young folks enjoyed an outing on the farm and a picnic supper served by Mrs. Glass. Those present were Misses Inez Gorrell, May Morton, Levita Hanna, Nita Wagner, Gretchen Hoopengardner, Hazel Byrd, Marie Kreigh, Wilda Hoopengardner, Ruth Turner, Alta Allen, Vera and Ruby Glass and the Daniel boys, who are Curtis Bunn, Remington Johnston, William Beaty, Forest Crummitt, Edward Dyar, Avery Glass, Adrian Hoopengardner, Dwight Crowl, Russell Hanna and Alfred Mills.

Mrs. Will Shady, of Fort Wayne, spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Osborn.

Mrs. Mary A. Wolfeale, of Prospect, is visiting with her sisters, Mrs. J. W. Osborn, Mrs. C. W. Scattergood and Mrs. J. Byron Ady.

Paul Sauer, of Bluffton, sang a solo at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Allen and daughters, Alta and Norene, motored Sunday to Churubusco in the Allen auto for a day's outing and fishing.

James Nevius, of Huntington, visited Sunday with Mrs. Nevius at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Norwalt, and made the acquaintance of his new son, who arrived last week.

Don't Have Pimply, Blotchy Skin

Nor Is Anything Better for Constipation Than USOLINE.

Of course, there are other causes for a bad complexion. Biliousness makes the skin sallow, and turns the whites of the eyes yellow.

An upset stomach and dyspepsia give you a drawn, dragged-out look, and a dull, muddy skin.

Constipation can also be blamed for certain skin eruptions and blemishes.

You have dosed enough with pain-racking cathartics and purgatives to know that they give only temporary relief, dearly bought, because the condition persistently grows worse.

What USOLINE does is to soften the accumulations of poisonous wastes that have become congested in the bowels, to soothe and lubricate the passages, and make the movements natural, easy, healthy, painless and regular.

Then the constipation actually does disappear, and the complexion clears up.

You'll find USOLINE what you have so often wished for, a remedy that really does what you take it for, and leaves no bad after effects. Imported and re-refined only by OIL PRODUCTS COMPANY, New York. Sold by druggists generally, 25c, and 50c, a large bottle, and $1 a three pint tin. Also in capsules, 2 doz. in a box, 50c. Ask or write for printed matter.

Be sure this Trade-Mark is on the Package.

If ladies could know and appreciate what a delightful hair dressing Newbro's Herpicide is, they would all have it on their dressing tables. It is the most exquisite toilet article ever used and at the same time one of the most essential.

In order to have beautiful hair every lady should regularly apply Herpicide to her hair and scalp. By it the scalp is kept clear of dandruff and the hair stops falling.

Newbro's Herpicide is just the sort of a preparation that always appeals to a lady of refinement and cultured tastes. There is nothing that can take its place. There is nothing just like it, nearly like it or "just as good."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning, while at work in the yards at the Fort Wayne Electric works, Charles Sephel was overcome by the heat and had to be assisted to the dispensary. He soon revived sufficiently to go to his home, but he had a narrow escape from a severe sunstroke. Mr. Sephel is a carpenter and is employed in Foreman Harry Evans' gang. So far as known this was the only case of prostration in the industrial plants today, though the heat in some of them was almost unbearable. It was particularly severe on the men employed in the foundries, rolling mills and blacksmith shops, where the heat is intensified by artificial means.

GONE TO THE CONVENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wright left for Atlantic City on the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Wright will attend the Master Car Builders' and Master Mechanics' conventions. Other Fort Wayne men who will attend the meetings and who left Sunday for Atlantic City are T. W. Demarest, W. L. Wilt, O. J. Parks and R. J. Fisher.

DICK THOMSON HERE.

E. F. Thomson, familiarly addressed as "Little Dick," spent the night in the city with his father, of the Wabash shops, and other relatives. "Dick" is the private secretary of President F. A. Delano, of the Monon, and he accompanied that gentleman this far on his way to New York on the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited. He returned to Chicago today.

HAS APPENDICITIS.

Machinist A. L. Ringle, of the Pennsylvania, who was taken ill while at work at his lathe in the Pennsylvania shops several nights ago, is now suffering from appendicitis. His case is not regarded serious, however, and he will probably escape a surgical operation. Mr. Ringle was for several years at the head of the Pennsylvania ball team and is well known in sport circles, as well as in shops.

ANOTHER NORWEGIAN SPECIAL.

A big party of Norwegians from the northwest will pass through Fort Wayne on a special train over the Nickel Plate at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening. They will be carried from Chicago to New York by the Nickel Plate and the Lehigh Valley and at the latter place will embark on a steamer for their native country. The train will comprise four sleeping cars, three coaches, a dining car and a baggage car and will be in charge of Conductor Martin L. Houder.

T. C. MUNGOVAN BETTER.

Thomas C. Mungovan, the veteran Wabash blacksmith, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week, is so much better that he is able to spend a portion of his time sitting on the porch. He will soon be able to get about as usual, if the present improvement continues.

RETURN FROM PITTSBURG.

SECRETARY MINEAR WAS HERE.

A Bruce Minear, international Railroad Y. M. C. A. secretary, spent several hours in the city this forenoon, leaving at noon for Toledo.

WILL GO TO HOT SPRINGS.

Nickel Plate Conductor A. P. Garland will sojourn at Hot Springs for three or four weeks. He has taken a leave of absence and will go south in a few days.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

C. E. Madden, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops, has returned from Clear Lake, where he spent a week.

I. F. Streibig, foreman of the Pennsylvania coal docks, is taking a layoff to attend to some private business.

Weighmaster W. H. Smart, sick two or three weeks, resumed the duties of his office on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

Harlow Swinehart, brakeman on the Nickel Plate Knox local, has resumed that duty after spending a week with friends in Toledo.

Henry Beckman, machinist, was taken suddenly ill while at work in the Pennsylvania shops at 9 o'clock this morning and had to return to his home.

A. I. Burns, on the Chicago division, and K. Smith, on the Fort Wayne division of the Nickel Plate, have taken a lay off until business revives.

Paymaster George Francisco, of the Wabash, distributed the pay checks among the Fort Wayne shopmen today. The clerks received their checks last Saturday.

Ralph Willson and family, who were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, a week, have returned to their home in Cleveland after a week's visit here.

Trainmaster H. W. Loomis, who is acting division superintendent during the absence of M. L. Reynolds, was in the city yesterday on business for the Lake Shore.

Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds and Assistant Road Foreman of Engines R. J. Lyons spent yesterday afternoon at Upper Sandusky on business connected with a derailment at the Hocking Valley crossing some days ago.

Charles Rouzer, Nickel Plate conductor, has just completed the erection of three cottages on the south shore of Sylvan lake, at Rome City. He will erect two more in a few weeks. Mr. Rouzer gave the work at the lakes his personal attention for two weeks, but has reported for duty on the road.

A pad of very thick paper laid over the edge of each step under the carpet will prevent it from wearing and it will last much longer.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

"TIZ" FIXED MY SORE, TIRED FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ."

"TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ" is grand; "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. Think of it, no more foot misery; no more burning corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store, and get instant relief. Get a whole year's foot relief for only 25 cents. Think of it!—Adv.

ADMITS SLAYING HUSBAND.

West Virginia Woman Then Hides His Body in Cellar.

Charleston, W. Va., June 9.—"I have killed my husband and I am willing to pay the penalty," quietly remarked Mrs. Dollie McSurly as she walked into the office of Sheriff Bonnerhill here yesterday. Prosecuting Attorney Townsend was quickly summoned from his office and Mrs. McSurly made a detailed statement to him. She said that her husband, Bert McSurly, came to their home at Shrews, near here, last Saturday after he had been drinking; that he mistreated one of their children and tried to kill her with a butcher knife. She seized a hatchet, hit him on the head and when he was down stabbed him with the knife. She hid the body in the cellar where she kept it until yesterday. She then dragged it two hundred feet to the tracks of the Kanawha and Michigan railroad where it was struck by a train. She then came to Charleston and gave herself up. Mrs. McSurly's youngest child is not a year old.

MOOSERS TO HAVE A STREET PARADE

BEVERIDGE TO SPEAK

According to County Chairman H. F. J. Reiter, the progressives of the Twelfth congressional district will have a regular celebration Wednesday when they meet at Kendallville for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congress to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Isaac Strauss, of Ligonier.

The major portion of the Allen county delegation will leave for the convention city at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, making the trip overland in automobiles. Others will go at 8:29 over the Fort Wayne & Northwestern, arriving at Kendallville in time to join the street parade and reception that is to be accorded to Albert J. Beveridge when he arrives at 11 o'clock.

If plans do not go wrong at the last moment, three brass bands and several hundred followers of Theodore Roosevelt's principles will march in the parade. The convention is to be held at Princess theater and will be called to order at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. It is said that Homer C. Underwood, of this city, is to be a candidate for the permanent chairmanship. At this time there are three candidates mentioned for the congressional nomination—W. H. Widney, of St. Joe; Lloyd T. Bailey, of Columbia City, and Harry Brown, of Waterloo, the district chairman.

Among other speakers besides Beveridge will be ex-Governor R. S. Vessey, of South Dakota, and W. D. Headrick, of Indianapolis. The delegations from Auburn and Waterloo will be accompanied by bands.

Progressive county candidates and members of the county progressive committee held a meeting Monday evening at the offices of County Chairman Reiter. They discussed the prospects for the coming campaign and completed final arrangements for the convention at Kendallville.

FORMER CHICAGOAN DIES.

Paris, June 9.—Charles Singer, formerly of Chicago, but for some years a resident of France, died here last night after a second stroke of paralysis. Mr. Singer formerly was an active member of the Chicago board of trade. His daughter, Hazel, married Prince John Ghika, of Roumania, in 1901.

Machinist Allen Hamilton, who had a hand severely injured two weeks ago, is improving and expects to resume work next Wednesday.

The price on strawberries at the local markets took a decided drop today as a result of the overstocking of the market by local growers. The best berries could be purchased this morning for 10 or 12c and the wholesale and commission men stated that they were selling them as low as 7c a quart. It is expected that the price will steadily advance during the remainder of the week.

Farmers on the market stated this morning that the outlook for wheat is the best it has been for the past few years. The hay crop is also looking better, although it will not be as long as in former years on account of the exceptionally warm weather and no rain. However, it is better in this county than in others especially in the southern part of the state, where the grass has all been killed by the long dry spell.

Wheat prices today ranged all the way from 88c to 93c a bushel, while oats brought 43c at the local wholesale street market. The receipts at the city scales were light again today, due to the hot weather.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, June 9—Selling due to the bearish influence of the government report carried the wheat market today to a lower level. The question as to whether the report had been fully discounted in advance was soon answered in the negative. Prices after opening ⅛@¼c to ½c down, rallied a little but then sank lower than before.

Although corn at first received little support, the market later scored a substantial advance. The opening, which ranged from ¼@⅜c off to a shade up, was followed by a gain all around.

Chicago Cash Grain.

Rye No. 2, 65@65½c; barley, 50@65c; clover, $10.00@12.50; timothy, $4.00@4.75; pork, $20.65; lard, $9.97; ribs, $11.00.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, June 9.—After a dull and irregular opening today, the stock market stiffened. All the active stocks made gains, running up to a point for Union Pacific. There were no elements in the speculative situation on which to base a buying movement, but sentiment was cheered by the highly favorable developments of yesterday, including the crop report, the Shreveport rate decision and the improved Mexican outlook. Virginia debt certificates broke 12½ on the ruling of the supreme court, which permits the reopening of the case, involving another long delay. The rapid outflow of gold continued. The engagement of $5,000,000 more for Europe was announced without affecting the market.

The early rise was carried further during the morning, although the average gain was not great. The street was filled with reports that the decision in the freight rates case would be announced this week, and much of the buying partly of railroad equipment shares was based on this expectation. Purchasing orders came in from out of town points, with a good demand for the grangers and other shares which are expected to profit most directly from bumper crops. Bonds were steady.

The market closed steady. Quiet strength attended today's limited dealings in stocks. Special issues responded to concerted buying. Traders' realizing caused some recessions in the late dealings, but the general undertone was good.

Chicago, June 9.—Chance of an overwhelming wheat crop indicates only small rallies for a few days and lower levels are expected. Europe will raise seventy to ninety millions below 1913 but we have the wheat and will have to sell. Spring wheat weather to June 9 is satisfactory. Half central west is still dry and is enduring a very hot spell. The government has probably overguessed the oats. Locals unwilling to press oats sales as prices are considered moderate. Country has sold no corn for several days and eastern stocks in all trade arteries are very light. The Argentine has palpably failed to relieve the June corn situation. Large interests here are very friendly to corn. Our reports show corn selling at 86c in Kansas, 70c in Iowa and Nebraska, 75c in southern Illinois, 85c in Missouri.

Prices of stocks at 2:45 p. m. as follows: Atchison, 99⅜; Copper, 72¼; Smelter, 64; C. & O., 52; Canadian Pacific, 195½; Erie, 29½; Great Northern, 124¾; Northern Pacific, 111⅞; Norfolk, 105⅝; New York Central, 93; Pennsylvania, 111⅝; Reading, 165⅜; St. Paul, 101⅞; Southern Pacific, 94; New Haven, 68¾; Union Pacific, 156⅛; United States Steel, 62½.

METHODISTS TO BUILD.

Church Will Erect Million-Dollar Skyscraper in Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—The Methodist Episcopal church will build a million-dollar skyscraper at Washington and Clark streets in the heart of the downtown business district here, it was made known here today. The building will be on the site of the historic First M. E. church and will contain a new First church, a book store and offices of the Methodist Book concern. Two hundred thousand dollars additional will be expended in the erection of a printing plant in one of the manufacturing districts of the city.

INDIA'S WHEAT PRODUCTION.

Washington, June 9.—A report to the department of agriculture received today from the international institute of agriculture at Rome gives final returns for the year's production of wheat in India at 313,154,000 bushels, 14 per cent less than last years' production.

THE WEATHER

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Fair and slightly cooler tonight and Wednesday.

For Indiana: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; lightly cooler north portion.

For Lower Michigan: Thundershowers this afternoon or tonight; cooler east and south portions; Wednesday generally fair.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

High temperatures continued yesterday throughout the central, southern and eastern states, although some relief was felt along the middle and north Atlantic coast states where some showers occurred. Temperatures ranged from 90 to 96 degrees from southern Michigan, Iowa and Missouri eastward and southward to the Atlantic and gulf coast states. At St. Louis a maximum of 96 was recorded, while at Fort Wayne the maximum was 92 degrees, or one degree higher than the Sunday record.

Over Minnesota, the Dakotas and western Iowa showers have been quite general. At Moorhead, Minn., the rainfall has amounted to four inches during the last thirty-six hours.

Unusually cool weather continues general throughout the Rocky mountain and plateau regions.

While the low pressure area which is passing eastward across the lake region will probably give some showers over Michigan, they will probably not extend southward to this section, and fair weather is indicated for this section for tonight and Wednesday. The temperature will be slightly lower tonight and Wednesday.

Dreier Soda Drinks

The Standard of Purity for Forty Years.

Forty years is a long time as modern reckoning goes, and it is a long the procession a long time in which to maintain an unchanging standard of purity.

The Dreier Store Was the First in Ft. Wayne to Use Pure, Unadulterated Fruit Juices at Its Soda Fountain.

When other dispensers of cold drinks were flavoring the soda with so-called extracts, the DREIER Store imported the pure Fruit Juices. Some stores did not know such juices could be obtained, others did not care.

THE DREIER STORE FOUND THEM AND USED THEM.

The same desire to serve the purest and best is characteristic of the DREIER Stores today as it was forty years ago. The same high standard prevails. The unexcelled quality of the cold drinks, is evidenced by the constantly growing patronage of the fountains.

QUARTER'S WORTH OF OATS IN ISSUE

NEWS OF THE POLICE

It took an hour of the city's time Tuesday morning to thrash out the verities of a case involving a couple of pecks of oats Henry Korte was charged with stealing from Herman Stegmann and Herman C. Schroeder. The state was jolted a bit when Schroeder, testifying for the prosecution, admitted under cross-examination that after the alleged theft he and Stegmann made a proposal to Korte that if Korte would give them $25 each there would be no prosecution. Korte declined to stand for it and his arrest followed. The trouble grew out of the sale of a dairy business by Korte to the other two men, who felt they had been badly nicked in the price they paid. Stegman and Schroeder continued, following the sale, to use rent free a stable that Korte leased and there was some sort of mutual understanding about buying horse feed together and all using from it according to need. Korte said he used oats several times that he took from the stock of the other men, they having used his corn. There was no evidence of larceny and Judge Kerr found Korte not guilty and warned the trio to have no further trouble.

Camped on Neighbor's Porch.

Frank Dodane, a young man with a wife, made a social call on a neighbor at 1448 Wabash avenue. Monday afternoon, and asked the young matron of the place if he might sit there and visit with her. The young matron with emphasis said no; that her husband was away and that Neighbor Dodane had no business fooling round. Dodane cut up nasty, talked ugly and said he had a pair of pistols in the pockets on his hips and he would make bloodshed all over the neighborhood. The young matron got a brickbat and chased the redoubtable down and his pair of pistols out of the yard, called the police and had him arrested. Dodane pleaded guilty in the city court, said he was drunk and pleaded that as to having a pair of pistols he did not have even one. He got $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Other City Court Cases.

Allen Gains, a negro, was given a week in which to make some provision for his children that the court gave him custody of when he got a divorce. His former wife, since remarried, filed the affidavit.

Dan Clemens of the Alt Heidelberg, and Harry A. Wiebke, of the Hof Brau, paid $10 and costs each on charges of making illegal sales. The violations were committed the night of May 30, Decoration day.

Charles Gephart, who conducts a saloon near the Allen county orphans' home, was charged with selling liquor to minors and his case was continued to June 16.

Emmet Barber, a Turk who runs a barber shop on Holman street, was arrested on a charge of Sabbath desecration in having operated his place of business last Sunday. The case was continued a week, Barber furnishing a bond of $25.

On motion of the prosecuting attorney the case against Walter Romonofski, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed. The man has been declared insane.

POLICE NOTES.

Detective Sergeants M. A. Rundell and Joseph Brennan on Monday arrested William Hatwood and William Burton at the request of Sheriff D. C. Card, of Coldwater, Mich., and accompanied that officer to the Southern Michigan city with the men Monday evening. The arrested pair are negroes and are wanted in Coldwater for grand larceny.

A negro tramp named William Harper was taken to the police headquarters and attended by Police Surgeon J. Frank Dinnen after the man had traveled from Kendallville by freight with a badly mangled foot that had been run over by a car wheel in Kendallville.

GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE.

Detroit, June 9.—Edwin Von Walden, 20 years old, son of parents who are said to be well known socially in their home city, Cincinnati, was sentenced to five to ten years' imprisonment in the reformatory for holding up a night clerk in a local downtown hotel last March. The robber secured $300. Attorneys for Von Walden based their defense upon the insanity theory.

TIME NEVER DIMS WONDROUS CHARM

COL. HARVEY TALKS

Holding forth a promise of elephants upon which to ride, popcorn to chew and the other attractions which time never dims, the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined, the largest circus organization in the world, will arrive in Fort Wayne Tuesday, June 16. Three rings, two stages and a mile hippodrome track are included in the great outfit, and there will be something doing every minute, according to a representative of the show here yesterday.

"There is probably no social subject upon which there is such a general misconception as the domestic life of the people of the circus," said Col. R. M. Harvey, advance manager of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows. "The opinion of the general public is that the followers of the 'white tops' are merely nomads, little, if any, more ambitious to have a habitation and name than are gypsies.

"Circus women, with the exception of those who are engaged during the winter performing in theaters, are never to be found in the big cities. They make their homes almost invariably in the smaller towns or upon the farm. Those who find it necessary to keep in practice during the winter, fit up a room in their home or a space in their barn for that purpose. The remainder of the time they devote to the ordinary pursuits of the housewife.

"They have their small circle of friends who know them and appreciate their value as hard-working, good-tempered women of exceptionally generous and charitable dispositions. They are, as a class, most moral women. Their calling necessitates the hardest of work and perfect physical condition, and it is safe to assert that the majority of them are consistent Christian women. They realize the hazardous character of their employment and they appreciate the fact that their sisters sometimes meet with an accident that takes them before their Maker in the twinkling of an eye, and as a class they keep themselves prepared as best they may to meet the same fate.

"More than 90 per cent. of the circus women today are born in the business. Of the remaining 10 per cent., 9 marry into it and the one who is not born in it or married into it serves to make the exception to prove the rule. A great circus organization like the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows seldom if ever will consent to employ a woman who is not married, unless she is accompanied by some male relative.

"Most circus families are small. Training with the children begins at birth. Some become contortionists and later acrobats, gymnasts, equilibrists, etc. Ninety-eight per cent. of the clowns are skilled acrobats and tumblers. Many in earlier years were contortionists.

"Most circus performers are very abstemious. Few use tobacco, and it may be said that less than one-tenth of one per cent. drink alcoholic beverages. The feats of strength and skill they perform come from a sound and healthy body and they know full well the laws of nature.

"Strange as it may seem, clowns are among the highest paid circus performers. The smallest salary paid to a clown with our show is $20 per week, which, of course, includes board and transportation. There are more than half a dozen that get $100 per week and one who draws $400. Clown novelties are difficult to get. The funmakers tell us that a funny face will not always get a laugh; they must do the unusual thing.

"In the past dozen years a great many college graduates have drifted into the official rank of the circus. Some of these are bookkeepers, stenographers and lawyers. As a rule, they develop into sound business men. But no one can ever make a success of the circus calling unless he loves the life and hardships that accompany the 'white tops.'"

COL. BAIN PRAISES MRS. WALTZ.

Col. George W. Bain, lecturer, known from coast to coast, attended a program given by Mrs. Waltz. He afterwards said: "It was my pleasure to attend an entertainment given by Mrs. Waltz. She is talented, refined and womanly. She greatly pleased the large audience and richly merited the generous applause she received." Mrs. Waltz will be heard at Bethany Presbyterian church Friday night in a popular program.

NOTICE TO ROAD CONTRACTORS.

State of Indiana, Allen county, ss.:

Notice is hereby given that the board of commissioners of said county will receive sealed proposals for the improvement of a certain highway in said county by grading, draining and paving with stone as set out in the specifications, plans and profile now on file in the office of the auditor of said county, by and under the laws of the state of Indiana. Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 1st day of July, 1914.

Bids on proposals will be received up to 10 o'clock A. M. on said date.

The said road to be improved is located in Springfield township, in Allen county, Indiana, and is to be known as the Springfield No. 3 road when so improved.

Bids will be for the completion of the said improvement in accordance with the plans, profile and specifications in the office of the auditor of said county, and shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in a sum equal to double the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by the board of commissioners of said county. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work; the sureties, if personal, shall be resident freeholders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Allen county.

Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person, persons or corporation who shall suffer any loss or damage by reason of any such bidder failing or neglecting to enter into a contract to perform such work awarded by the said board of commissioners or to carry out the same in any particular or to pay for any labor or material which may have been furnished to any such contractor or contractors or to any sub-contractor, agent or superintendent under him, in the construction of said work.

Said improvement will be let as a whole to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit such proposal or bid will be rejected by the board; and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by said board of commissioners and successful bidder.

Given by order of the Board of Commissioners of said County.

CALVIN H. BROWN,
5-9-16-23 Auditor Allen County.

Ice Tools

It is not only handier to have a complete equipment of Ice Tools in your kitchen, but it is economy as well. A shaver, pick, chipper or tong will mean a saving in ice because they will reduce waste. Now that the price of ice is higher than ever, it behooves you to come to the Great Hardware Department Store and get a full supply of everything needed to handle the season's supply of ice. They don't cost much and the benefits are three-fold.

Ice Picks, 15c—Gem Ice Shaver, 50c—Ice Chippers, 15c—Ice Tongs, 50c.
